GALVESTON (Tex.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rivaling in velocity the hurricane of September 8, 1900, which snuffed out the lives of 6000 persons on Galveston Island, a terific storm swept the city today. Up to midnight sixteen lives were lost.

With the increasing wind the barometer began to drop, falling slowly until about 9:30 o'clock, when it took a sudden shoot downward, reaching 29.56 at 10 o'clock a.m. At this time the storm was at its height, the wind blowing seventy-five miles an hour and the streets filling with water from the bay.

When the tugboat Clark and pilot boat Texas made a second trip late this afternoon to Tarpon fishing pier in the hope of rescuing those marooned on the jetty, it was found the house built on the rocks had been swept away, carrying with it at least sixteen persons, including Capt. M. L. Bettison, manager and owner of the pier, and his wife, besides eight or ten employés of the place and twelve to fourteen visitors to the resort.

BELIEVE IN BALLOT.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE AND DAUGHTER CAST VOTE.

Buchtel's Statement That They Take No Interest in Politics Denied in Interview With Miss Emma, Who Says They Always Cast Ballot.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "My mother and I vote, and have not missed an election since we have had the right to vote," declares Miss Emma Buchtel, daughter of former Gov. Buchtel.

Miss Buchtel's statement seems at decided variance with the words of her father, ex-Gov. Buchtel, in New York the other day, in which he is reported to have said:

"My wife and my daughter shun politics, as do the majority of women in Colorado."

"Logically," she said, "I think women should vote. They have been given the right, and their participation in politics should tend to better the conditions of women in every state of life.

"I do not think women appreciate the right that has been given them. Otherwise women would take a more active interest in politics than they have done heretofore.

"If we had to fight for our rights, as the suffragettes of England and the other foreign countries have done, I think that by now an even greater majority of women would be seen at the polls at election times. I think they do not appreciate the power and right of the ballot, because of the many other privileges that we women of America enjoy.

"Take, for instance, our English sisters. In the colleges there the men and women are in the same classes and are given the same kind of work, but the women are not allowed to take a degree. This privilege was granted to our women some years ago, for I remember hearing my mother tell of a fight waged by the girls of the senior class when she was in her junior year at college, for the right to a degree. The matter was in dispute for years, and the women were treated very badly, but finally won their cause, so by the time my mother was ready to take a degree the matter was fully settled, and the women were given the same rights and privileges as the men."

"According to your idea, why do not all the better class of women make use of their right to vote?" she was asked.

"I don't want to be interviewed," she pleaded. "But I suppose it is inevitable, and I must answer. I think perhaps the women of higher rank—that is, the women of means—do not take a more lively interest in politics because of being wrapped up in more personal affairs. My personal interest would be aroused to a far greater degree if I were mixed in with the active working people and could follow more closely the affairs of the day. But as it is now, I hardly appreciate my right to vote as much as will our English sister."

WOMEN MUST SPEAK TRUTH.
LEADER TALKS PLAINLY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Women will have to learn common honesty before they can hope to have political suffrage.

This statement made in Chicago today at the breakfast of the International Council of Women, who are returning to Toronto from a trip through the West, aroused a storm of protest about the ears of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Grannis, a delegate to the council from New York, who spoke in the presence of sixty-eight delegates and almost as many representatives of local organizations of women.

Mrs. Grannis was not to be deterred from expressing herself. Her twenty years' experience as president of the National Christian League for the Promotion of Purity has given her the ability to disregard interruption. She continued serenely in the face of disapproval, and the other women were forced to remain quiet while she spoke.

"Women will never vote until they learn to be honest," she declared.

"If women always told the truth, they would have obtained suffrage long ago. If women of ability had honesty as well, they would have taken the lead before now. There are plenty of brilliant women, but they are not honest, and a brilliant woman is useless if she is untruthful.

"Women are just as dishonest as men in the tricks of petty politics and wire pulling. Some women will go to the Legislature and boast of lying. When they learn to scorn this and become really honest, women will get the suffrage."

MOORS FIGHT DESPERATELY.

Official Dispatches Tell of Severe Night Battle—Spain's Crack Regiments Mobilized.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MADRID, July 21.—Official dispatches received from Melilla today say that the Moors resumed the offensive today and seem to be trying to turn the heights of Atlayon with the object of directly attacking Melilla.

The fighting at Melilla last night was severe and lasted all night. The Spanish losses were heavy. The crack regiments of the King are now being mobilized.

Gen. Marina, commander of the Spanish forces in Morocco, has received a letter from the Moorish chiefs warning him that the only way of avoiding a bloody war is by the withdrawal of the Spanish troops from the territory in dispute.

The first body of soldiers to reinforce the Spanish troops at Melilla left this city at 3 o'clock this morning. Despite the early hour an enormous crowd had gathered and cries of protest against the departure of the troops were numerous. The police were obliged to charge the people several times before they dispersed.

America Destined to Become Mighty Factor in the Far East.

Bankers, Pleased With Choice of Minister, See New Epoch Opening.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "This nation does not propose to allow any other power to become a commercial dictator in the Far East. This nation will insist on the strict enforcement of the open-door policy, and I am certain that President Taft desires that America shall become a powerful factor in the Orient."

This declaration, made today by Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who has just been appointed Minister to China, is taken in diplomatic and business circles to outline his policy and that of the government when he shall have assumed his new duties at his oriental post.

A Wall-street banker, after a long conference with Mr. Crane today, said that America would open the eyes of the world by its aggressive invasion of China and other oriental countries.

"America has at last awakened to the vast possibilities for investment in the Orient," he said, "and the selection of Mr. Crane is the best that could be made for the opening of the campaign we intend to make. Mr. Crane shows great interest in his new work and is alive to the situation. He realizes that the coming year will mark an epoch in China and in the relations of America with that country."

Mr. Crane, in an interview this afternoon, said:

"The interest of the government at Washington, and Peking's knowledge that our friendship is not prompted by a desire for financial gain, should certainly have a tendency to add impetus to the campaign that is now being made by the Chinese government to expand and develop the empire's domestic and foreign commerce."

Mr. Crane will not leave for Peking

FATHER LOVE TOO STRONG.

Waiter Goes Back to Kiss Baby He Abandoned and Is Caught.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arthur E. Johnson, a waiter, might have succeeded in abandoning his two-days-old baby had not a paternal desire to kiss the infant, just once more before it went out of his life, made him walk back to where he left it on the front steps of a home.

The woman, at whose home he had deposited the basket containing the child, had just called the police to take it to a foundling home. After his arrest, Johnson told of the desire which led him back.

He said his meager salary made it impossible to support a wife and child and, after much worry and thought, he decided to temporarily abandon the infant. He said he intended to watch the newspapers, see where the child was taken and later, when better able, reclaim it.

TARNISHED TITLE.

PRINCE MIGUEL POOR BARGAIN.

MISS STEWART'S FIANCE NOT WORTH MILLION PAID.

Braganza, Whom New York Girl Will Wed in October, Ousted from European Clubs, Ostracized by Society and Dishonorably Discharged from Austrian Army.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. James Henry Smith of this city, who is to become the wife of Prince Miguel of Braganza and who gives him $1,000,000 as a dowry, with no strings attached to it, seems to have made a poor bargain.

Braganza is not a prince, but a son of the pretender to the throne of Portugal. About the best thing that can be said of "Prince" Braganza, is that he is not quite as bad as his younger brother, Francis, but he has been ousted from European clubs, ostracized by society, dishonorably discharged from the army of the nation that gave his family refuge and barred from every royal court.

Americans can hardly comprehend the status of a man barred from European clubs and society. If he is royal or even near-royal, he must go the extreme limit before society and clubs, and the Austrian army finds him unendurable.

According to the marriage contract entered into yesterday in London, Miss Stewart will hand over $1,000,000 on her marriage day. It is not her money, but is supposed to be furnished by her mother, who inherited a fortune from "Silent" Smith—$3,000,000, to be exact. The girl herself has the income on $500,000 worth of railroad bonds and this comprises all her personal fortune. The marriage is to take place in October.

Miguel is 21 years old, but he has run the gamut of continental escapades. The first Dom Miguel usurped the Portuguese crown in 1828 while regent, during the babyhood of his niece, who was to be uQeen. In other words, he stole the throne from a baby. Six years later the revolutionists ousted him, backed by the powers, on the extraordinary ground that he was not the son of King John, his supposed father, as he was born three years after King John and Queen Carlotta, his mother, had been separated. This much for the nobility of the family. Incidentally, if any member of the Braganza family sets foot in Portugal, he forfeits his life, under a law passed in 1835.

Miss Stewart, as the wife of Braganza, cannot be received in any court of Europe or in society anywhere on the continent.

SUTTON BEATEN.

Lieut. Willing Saw the Blows.

Witnesses at Hearing Asked If Shot Was Fired Before Death.

Mother Holds to the Belief That Son Was Dead When Shot.

Lieut. Bevan Tells of Youth's Threat to Shoot Himself Some Day.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) July 21.—When the naval board of inquiry investigating the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton of Portland, Or., finished its third session today, only four witnesses out of the fifteen subpoenaed by the government had been examined.

In a few minor points Henry E. Davis, chief counsel for the Suttons, showed discrepancies in Lieut. Willing's testimony at this and the former inquiry.

Willing was the first man to say that he reached the scene of the tragedy in time to see Adams beating Sutton.

Lieut. Bevan testified he saw no blows exchanged.

As Lieut. Willing, on cross-examination, described Sutton with Adams holding him by the back of the neck with one hand and punching him with the other, Mrs. Parker, who sat directly opposite the witness, smiled incredulously and, turning to Mr. Van Dyke, one of her counsel, said:

"Imagine a wild man, as they describe my brother to have been, standing up with a revolver in each hand and taking a punching like that. It is wholly incredible."

The judge advocate asked Willing if he supposed the beating Sutton got would have killed him, or if the witness had any way of knowing whether Sutton was dead before the last shot was fired.

It is known that Mrs. Sutton has impressed upon Maj. Leonard her belief that her son was beaten to death, and afterward shot.

The witness answered these questions in the negative.

MADE SUICIDE THREAT.

Lieut. Bevan created a stir when he testified that six weeks prior to the shooting Sutton had told him that life in the Marine Corps had no attraction for him, and that some day he would shoot himself.

A report being current that Lieut. Sutton carried life insurance to the amount of $20,000 which could not be collected if the decision of the previous investigating board that he committed suicide is not upset, Mrs. Sutton and her daughter today specifically denied the lieutenant was so heavily insured. They said that if he carried as much as $3000 insurance, the family knew nothing of it.

When Lieut. Bevan resumed the witness stand this morning, Maj. Leonard asked him if he knew of threats against the lieutenants or any officers in camp or attempts on Sutton's part to "shoot up" the camp.

Mr. Davis objected to the question as irrelevant.

"If any officers should be charged with causing Sutton's death," said Maj. Leonard, "any testimony which would tend to show a motive would be material. If such an officer had caused his death through a deep sense of fear and in an effort to protect his own life, such testimony would be very material."

The question was allowed.

The witness said he did not recall ever hearing Lieut. Sutton threaten to take the life of any one in camp. He related the occasion of Sutton's "shooting up" the camp as told previously by Lieuts. Adams and Osterman.

"Are you positive that Lieut. Sutton caused the revolver to be fired at the time he was shot?" inquired Maj. Leonard.

"Yes," Lieut. Bevan answered.

Arthur E. Birney, Lieut. Adams's counsel, questioned the witness. The latter told of a conversation with Sutton about six weeks prior to his BATH-HOUSE DISCOVERY.

FIND OF CLOTHES OF MAN CAUSES ALARM.

A DISCOVERY made at the bath-house at Long Beach last evening caused great alarm to friends of Herbert V. Strong, a contractor living at No. 4420 Orchard avenue, Los Angeles.

When the bath-house was about to be locked up for the night it was found that one of their dressing-rooms used by bathers was apparently still occupied. The door was forced and within was found a man's clothing. In the pockets were papers indicating that the man was Mr. Strong, and that he was a Shriner and Thirty-second Degree Mason.

Mr. Strong left Los Angeles yesterday morning for Long Beach to attend to some business matter there before going to Pasadena, where he was to begin on a job today. He was suffering from a hernia which his friends think may have caused his death in the surf.

He was about 36 years old. He has a mother, Mrs. Oakley, living at No. 1233 East Thirty-eighth street. He has a wife and a 10-year-old daughter.

HOSTILITIES SUSPENDED.

Good Progress Made on the Tariff by Conferees.

President Taft Credited With Smoothing the Way.

Payne's Temper Calmed by Auto Ride With Chief.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Better progress was made today by the tariff conferees than on any other day since the troublesome disputes were reached. Many paragraphs were settled without renewal of hostilities. President Taft is given credit for the smoothness of the conference.

It developed that after Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon told their troubles to the President yesterday, he undertook to bring the warring factions together. He ordered out his big touring car and went to Mr. Payne's home. Soon the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and the President were riding out toward country roads. The two talked over the situation.

"You see I came out last today," banteringly said Chairman Payne as he emerged out of the conference chamber for luncheon. "We have made good progress," he added. His good-natured remark was construed to mean that the ill-feeling of Monday's session had been eradicated.

Mr. Payne was the last member of the conference committee to leave the chamber. His associates of the House committee left in a body, followed closely by Senator Aldrich and the other Senate members. Mr. Aldrich paced the corridor of his private rooms where he was engaged in a discussion of hides with Senator Lorimer. It is understood Mr. Lorimer was informed that the Senate rate on hides would have to be substantially reduced, perhaps cut in half.

When Senator Aldrich concluded with Mr. Lorimer he undertook to convince Mr. Piles, who had been waiting in an adjoining room, that there must be some decrease in the Senate rates on lumber.

Mr. Payne made no objection today to taking up subjects not involved in the White House programme concerning raw materials.

ZINC DISPOSED OF.

The entire zinc schedule was adjusted.

Spelter was made dutiable at 1⅝ cents per pound, which is a reduction from the Senate rate of 1½ cents and an increase from the House rate of 1 cent.

All the differentials of the Senate were adopted.

Zinc in sheets will be dutiable at 1⅝ cents, and sheets coated or plated with nickel or other metal, at 2 cents.

The House rate of 1 cent for old and worn-out zinc, fit only to be manufactured, was adopted.

Tungsten ore, which is used in the manufacture of ferro alloys, one of the chief component parts in the manufacture of tool steel and steel parts of automobiles, was made dutiable at 10 per cent, ad valorem, instead of 15 per cent as fixed by the Senate.

Senate and House rates on lead ore were identical, the duty being 1½ cents a pound. The House made pig lead dutiable at the same rate and the Senate provided specifically for lead dross, lead bullion and pig lead at 2½ cents a pound. This rate was reduced by the conferees to 2 cents, and as a result ¼ of a cent was removed from the Senate rates on all of the paint derivatives.

LEMON DUTY STANDS.

Lemons will pay a duty of 1½ cents a pound, the Senate rate. This is an increase of ¼ cent a pound over the House and ½ cent over the Dingley rates.

Senator Borah tried to effect an agreement by which hides may be put on the free list. He said the plan he had to suggest had originated with President Taft. This plan contemplates the adoption of a joint resolution giving the conferees jurisdiction to reopen the question of reducing the duty on leather goods, and, in consideration of placing hides on the free list, to make leather dutiable at 5 per cent. ad valorem; boots and shoes and calf skins at 10 per cent., and to reduce the rates on harness in the same proportion. In view of the opposition in the Senate to free hides, the indications are that a combination will be effected with the Democrats to defeat the Borah plan.

"Progressive" Republican Senators decided to issue a statement outlining their position on downward revision. Senator Cummins has been invited to take breakfast with President Taft tomorrow to discuss the attitude of the "insurgents," and therefore it has been decided to withhold the statement until tomorrow.

There was a meeting today of about 20 of the "anti-free raw material" members of the House, at which Representative Gaines, of West Virginia, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, presided.

DRAWBACK PROVISION.

The drawback provision was taken up with treasury officials. Charles P. Montgomery, chief of the customs division, declared the French substitution system, after which the House drawback feature is patterned, opened the way to fraud. Under it, an article might be imported on the west coast and a certificate received by the importer. The article might be manufactured and enter into domestic trade, but the certificate could be used on the east coast and a drawback obtained upon exported articles that had been manufactured wholly from domestic materials. Treasury department officials take the position, however, that the risk of being defrauded is too great for the government to assume. No action was taken on the drawback feature.

Iron ore was talked over immediately on the conferees being called to order today. This is one of the subjects on the administration programme on which it was expected the Senate would have to yield. Senator Burrows took a strong stand against placing iron ore on the free list, and a long discussion followed. It was apparent that a majority of the conferees would be willing to have this article free.

It was expected that oil would be put on the free list. The fight for a countervailing duty was carried on in the Senate under the leadership of Senator Curtis, but he has announced to some of the conferees that, in view of President Taft's statement, he would withdraw from the fight.

Probability of free hides is arousing the western Senators, and there is a distinct movement in opposition. Senator Carter of Montana is especially active against hides being placed on the free list, and is doing a great deal to enlist the aid of other Senators.

SEAWALL SAVED GALVESTON FROM DESTRUCTION

The Galveston sea wall.

GALVESTON FLOODED.

seawall and elevated to a point above the danger line, the city passed safely through the hurricane.

Part of the island upon which the city is situated was again inundated, the overflowing sea water reaching a height of seven or more feet. That portion of the island which was protected suffered little damage.

Sweeping westward, the tropical storm, which had been central over the gulf for twenty-four hours or more, struck Galveston. The wind attained a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour and heaved the waters of Galveston Bay up against the island, flooding the section that had not been raised.

WATER IN STREETS.

The water backed up into the main streets. The principal damage, however, was confined to the beach front, where bath-houses and pleasure piers were swept away, but shipping was undisturbed.

A hurricane for East Texas was forecasted early in the day, and when the storm broke Galveston was prepared. The inhabitants of the few scattered houses sought safety and the vessels were riding at anchor in the bay.

The fury of the storm soon abated and the anxiety of those who entertained fears of another tidal wave was thus early relieved.

So short was the duration of the storm that the Mallory Line steamer, booked to start for New York shortly after noon, left on time.

CABLES BROKEN.

A heavy dredge had been blown against the single bridge, which connects Galveston island with the mainland, and the telegraph cables had been parted. As a result, rumors were rife that Galveston had again suffered such a storm as that which practically destroyed the city nine years ago.

Few buildings were blown down, but it is believed that many warehouses were flooded, and that goods on the bottom floors of these buildings were ruined. Consequently, it will require several days to ascertain the amount of the damage.

One pier, seven miles from the city, was demolished. Thirty or forty people were rescued by the pilot boat Texas, and brought to Galveston.

As a result of the damage to the single bridge which connects Galveston with the mainland, communication by rail with Galveston has been cut off.

BY FERRY ONLY.

Turboats are carrying passengers, mail and freight across the bay to Galveston tonight.

The storm covered a wide area along the Gulf Coast.

From the nature of Gulf of Mexico hurricanes, it can be said with certainty that if the water at Galveston has risen so the surf is jumping over the seawall there is also perilously high water along the Texas coast for scores and perhaps hundreds of miles on either side of Galveston. Small communities, fishing villages and numerous summer resorts along this unprotected coast would be in the greatest danger of being overwhelmed by the waves. In the history of gulf storms it is the small places that have usually suffered worse and where, in the aggregate, there has been the greatest loss of life.

In general the gulf coast is very low. Some places are but four or five feet above the sea level, and human habitations extend to the water's edge, because the normal tides are insignificant. The dangerous peculiarity of the gulf hurricanes is that they blow a tremendous tide against the shore, overflowing what is ordinary dry lands, sometimes for miles, and flooding houses and occasionally villages. On this high water the hurricane drives a tremendous surf, which uproots trees, smashes wooden structures, and has often been known to blow down brick structures. The hurricane frequently blows for hours.

One of the most tragic examples of the propensity of the gulf hurricanes was the devastation of Lost Island, on the Louisiana coast many years ago. It was a summer resort. The guests of the resort watched the storm until it drove them indoors, but, unfortunately, they did not leave the island. The water rose gradually for several days. There was merry making in the Lost Island hotels and cottages while the storm grew worse and the waters higher and higher. Finally, one night came the climax, when the wind brought up a sea which overflowed the island and destroyed the cottages. The loss of life ran into the hundreds.

NO WORD FROM RESORTERS.

MANY FROM BEAUMONT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BEAUMONT (Tex.) July 21.—There are 400 or 500 people, mostly women and children of this city, living in hotels, cottages and tents along the gulf shore beyond High Island and on to Bolivar. No word has been received from them since the storm.

Tugboats brought 300 people, possibly the entire population of Sabine and Sabine Pass, to Port Arthur today. Both Sabine and Sabine Pass are under water.

There was no loss of life or property. A relief train with motor boats and launches and supplies left here this afternoon en route to the gulf shore.

WHITE HOUSE DINNER FAILS TO UNITE WARRING FACTIONS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The much-talked-of White House dinner, at which the tariff conferees and the President's closest advisers were brought together tonight, in the effort to settle differences regarding the tariff bill, ended at 11:30 p.m., with the disputes over raw materials no nearer adjustment than they were before the dinner invitations were issued.

Only one question was determined beyond appeal, and that was the conferees will have to settle their own differences.

Pains were taken to convey the impression that this decision is not indicative of any absence of appreciation of the President's efforts. It merely confirmed with the "elder statesmen" had asserted from the first—that tariff making is trading, and that the shrewdest dealer and the strongest section are bound to get the best of the argument.

Representative Dwight, the Republican ... ip, spoke for the House at the dinner. He referred to the insurgent movement organized by the "anti-free raw material" faction, but was not ready to estimate the strength of this element.

Representative Payne expressed the opinion that a conference report carrying free iron ore, free coal, free hides and free oil could be adopted in the House, but he said that he had not canvassed the situation.

Senator Aldrich was positive that such a report would fall in the Senate, but he thought reductions could be made in the Senate rates, with perhaps iron ore and oil taken to the free list.

It was stated the President realized the time had not yet arrived to call for a division on the subject of raw materials. Most of those present agreed with the President that the customs court should be situated in Washington since it is to be a final court of appeals.

Some of the conferees said after the dinner that no conference report would be signed until both houses had been canvassed. No one can say how much this will delay adjournment.

All the Republican conferees were present at the dinner with the exception of Senator Cullom of Illinois. From the Senate came Messrs. Aldrich, Hale, Burrows and Penrose; from the House came Messrs. Payne, Dalzell, McCall, Boutell, Calderhead and Fordney.

To meet the conferees the President invited Vice-President Sherman, Secretary MacVeagh, Attorney General Wickersham, Speaker Cannon, Senator Crane, Senator Root and Representative Dwight, of New York.

The real discussion did not begin until after the dinner had been disposed of. It was said to have been one of the most carefully-prepared banquets ever served from the famous old White House kitchen. It was no fault of the President, his steward or his old Virginia "darkey" cook, if the conferees were not in amiable mood when the meal was done.

SUTTON BEATEN.

death in which Sutton said the life in the navy did not attract him and that some day he would shoot himself.

"What led up to the conversation?" asked Mr. Birney.

"It was merely a conversation in which Sutton spoke of his experiences at the academy and his examinations," said Bevan.

Counsel for Sutton's mother began his cross-examination and took the witness back to the happenings in camp prior to the fight in which Sutton lost his life.

He wanted to know if Lieut. Utley had not told Lieut. Bevan when he met him on the way to camp, whether he, Bevan, had been informed by the corporal of the guard that Sutton was misbehaving himself, that it had been necessary to place Sutton under arrest earlier in the evening. The witness did not recall this talk with Utley. Mr. Davis read from Lieut. Bevan's testimony at the previous hearing in which he said that Utley told him of Sutton's arrest. The witness did not recall that he so testified.

"What did Sutton say when you placed him under arrest in the camp?" asked Mr. Davis.

WANTED TO "CLEAR OUT."

"I don't recall his exact words, but I think he said, 'Damn the arrest, I am going to get my mess jacket and things and clear out of here forever,'" the witness answered.

Bevan said he met Lieut. Willing, the officer of the day, on his way to the place from which the shots seemed to be fired.

"Lieut. Willing was coming toward the camp and I was hurrying away from it," he continued. "He did not see Sutton after he left camp until he found him on the ground."

"How long was it after you saw Sutton leave camp until you heard the shots?" asked Mr. Davis.

"I estimate it at two or three minutes," replied Bevan.

"Would that be about the time it would have taken Sutton to go from camp at a rapid pace, to the spot where the fight occurred?"

"It is my impression that it would have taken him just about that length of time."

Witness said it was his impression that he heard six shots fired prior to the time Sutton fired the last shot, which, it is claimed, ended his life.

WILLING SAW GUN FIRED.

Lieut. Willing said he rushed to the scene from the camp when he heard the shots.

He testified he saw three men sitting on Sutton, and as he came up to Sutton's head he heard Adams, presumably, who was the only man back of him, say: "He's shot Roelker," or "Roelker is killed."

At that there was a report and a flash by Sutton's head and the witness turned his head just in time to see the revolver in Sutton's hand.

"Are you sure Sutton shot himself?" asked Maj. Leonard.

"There is not the slightest doubt that he did," replied Willing.

Willing afterward leaned over and took the revolver out of Sutton's hand, he said.

"Had you any way of knowing if Sutton was dead before the revolver was fired which you think killed him?"

"No; but I don't think he was."

From this line of questions, it was evident that the judge advocate had in mind Mrs. Sutton's assertion that she believed her son was beaten to death before he was shot.

Cross-examination was still in progress when the hearing adjourned.

WISCONSIN SUFFERS.

Two Cloudbursts Wreck Town of Ashland.

Half-Million Dollars Damage Is the Estimate.

Several Persons Are Drowned at Odanah.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) July 21.—Specials from Ashland, Wis., report two severe cloudbursts in Northern Wisconsin with a loss estimated at $500,000.

The power plant at White River was washed out, causing a loss of $100,000.

The dam breaking at White River imperils Odanah and the people there have been warned to leave.

The State fish hatchery near Bayfield was wrecked and the millions of fish carried into the lake.

It is also reported that 5,000,000 feet of logs were flooded out of the booms at the mouth of Bad River.

Trains are unable to run into Ashland or Bayfield.

Additional reports from Ashland state that two cloud bursts were followed by rain for several hours.

Several persons were reported drowned at Odanah.

Twelve hundred feet of the Northern Pacific tracks near Ashland Junction are gone, and nearly every bridge and culvert in the county is destroyed.

VILLAGE IN DANGER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TWIN VALLEY (Minn.) July 21.—Heavy rains have overflowed Wild Rice River and March Creek, entering the village of Heiberg, two miles north of here. The water is still rising and the village is in great danger of being swept away. The Northern Pacific tracks have been washed out for a quarter of a mile and no trains are running to Winnipeg on that road.

VESSEL PUTS BACK TO SEA.

GULF GALE WORST IN YEARS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MOBILE (Ala.) July 21.—The Norwegian fruit steamer Karen, which arrived here today, reported last night the weather so heavy on the bar and seas running so high that they had to put back to sea for several hours. Officers say the gale was the worst in years over the gulf. The steamer Royal Exchange is delayed outside the bar. Capt. Knudson of the freighter Fort Gaines, arriving from Bocas, reports exceedingly bad weather. He reports sighting several vessels fighting the storm, unable to make port.

KIDNAPED TO STOP WEDDING.

MILLIONAIRE'S NEPHEW PLACED IN INSANE ASYLUM.

Dr. Walter S. Bingaman Says He Has Been Incarcerated Because He Insisted on Marrying Pretty Nurse Instead of Wealthy Young Woman Chosen by His Uncle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kidnaped from his home at 5 o'clock in the morning, thrown into the Dixmont Insane Asylum, where he still is held as an insane patient, and all because he refuses to desert his fiancée, Miss Catherine Frank, a pretty nurse, and marry a wealthy East End girl, has been the experience of Dr. Walter S. Bingaman, a young physician of Pittsburgh, and a nephew of the millionaire physician, Dr. C. F. Bingaman, whom the young man blames for his incarceration.

The kidnaping occurred June 22, when three men drove to the physician's home in an automobile, called for him, and said they had a sick man in the machine, which brought him to the automobile. They hustled him to Dixmont, from where today he managed to send a note to a newspaper asking that some action be taken toward having him released.

Miss Frank today produced a letter from Dr. Bingaman, written in the asylum and smuggled out to the heartbroken young woman. In part he wrote:

"Dearest, they may keep me here for the rest of my life, but I never will throw you over. You are the only girl I love and so long as you love me they cannot separate us. I want you to communicate with Dr. C. C. Wiley, the insanity expert, and have him come down here and examine me."

ONCE MORE.

ANOTHER KNIGHT CONCERN FAILS.

FRENZIED FINANCIER HAS LONG TRAIL OF CALAMITIES.

Diamond Contract Reputation Pursues Him, But He Says He Is Trying to Live It Down—Banks, His Specialty, Go Under With Remarkable Regularity.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The failure of the State Savings and Commercial Bank marks the close of another of the institutions with which Ray Nathaniel Knight of Diamond contract fame has been connected.

Knight organized the Bankers' Loan and Trust Company, which proved a loser for its directors, but which was taken over by this bank when it started on Fillmore street. Knight claims to have organized the bank, and recently when his exploits in many get-rich-quick schemes were called into question by his attempt to float the United States Bond and Mortgage Company, he pointed to this bank as an example of what he had done.

Knight and one of the men who worked with him followed the devious steps of the State Savings and Security Bank after its organization, and are reported to have turned another trick when this institution was taken over by the Union State Bank, although his name never appeared as one of its officers.

Knight declares that if he can discover the identity of the man who, in a circular letter, has warned the building and loan corporations of the State against him and his newly-begotten corporation, the "United States Bond and Mortgage Company," he will see that justice is meted out to him. Knight also says that he has placed detectives on the track of his enemy and that his corporation will take proper action when the offender is discovered.

Knight, who was connected with one of the "diamond contract" concerns, which did a thriving business for a time before the fire, says he is trying to live down his record in that particular and that he will bring before the building and loan commissioners the matter of the circular letter, which purports to expose a nefarious purpose in his million-dollar corporation.

AERONAUT TAKES CITY.

Street Cars, Electric Lights, Elevators and Factories of Portland Stopped by Balloonist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Carlos Wildez, an aëronaut, descending in parachute after a balloon ascension from a Catholic street fair, at 8 o'clock this evening, lighted in a maze of heavy power wires at East Sixth and Wasco streets.

Several of the wires broke and in a moment the parachute was wrapped in flames. There was a blinding flash as the grounding wires formed a short circuit, a blow-out at the main power station resulted, an every street car in Portland stopped, every wheel driven by electricity ceased to turn and every light went out.

Wilder's body rebounded from the wires after striking, and he fell to the ground only slightly shocked and with a sprained ankle.

The tie-up of street cars worked the most serious inconvenience. Hundreds of people en route to theaters and other places of amusement were held up, elevators in all the big buildings stopped. Manufacturing concerns which operate at night had to suspend. The trouble was remedied and the power restored in about half an hour.

MAYOR NEGLECTS CONVENTION AND ENEMIES GAIN CONTROL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While Mayor White of Sacramento sojourns in Los Angeles, the convention called by him to consider the damage done to the Sacramento Valley by the gold dredgers has assembled, puzzled by his absence, without a word of explanation from him, passed resolutions and adjourned.

Millions have been invested by eastern capitalists recently in dredging operations in this vicinity. Fertile vineyards have been torn up and left barren fields of rocks. It is charged that the filling up of Sacramento, Feather and Yuba rivers has been due to the washing down of the tailings from these dredgers.

Mayor White, on his own motion, sent out personal invitations all over the valley, calling a convention to take up the problem. He announced that he was packing it with the enemies of the dredgers. Then the Mayor went on a trip south. He left no word. He sent no word. He did not return. And the dredger people got busy. They captured the convention. Col. John P. Irish came down from San Francisco to do the oratory and set the programme. The fizzle came off politely and quietly as planned.

Oroville and Marysville Chambers of Commerce had denounced the convention the day before. With the assistance of these delegates, the convention practically denounced itself.

Mayor White, chief apostle of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Leaguers in this section, will have a hard time explaining when he returns.

PHOTOGRAPH CHINESE.

TO STOP SMUGGLING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The forty Chinese forming the deck crew of the liner Mongolia were photographed yesterday in pursuance of the newly-formed plan of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to prevent the smuggling of their oriental sailors into the ports of this country.

Hereafter an accurate record will be kept of the Chinese, who are alleged to have a way of substituting others in their places until the business of smuggling into this port is said to have assumed large proportions.

CHAIR PUSHERS STRIKE.

PEOPLE MUST WALK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE, July 21.—Twenty-two men who since the opening day have furnished the motive power for the roller chairs at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, went on a strike yesterday. The tie-up was complete when the propelling energy was removed, and throughout the day twenty-two roller chairs stood empty with the ornamental dolly backs flapping idly in the wind.

The roller-chair men have been paying a flat rate of $1.50 a day for each chair, to J. C. Marmaduke, who owns the concession. Yesterday, when it was announced that the rental would be raised to $2 a day, the men deserted their chairs.

ALABAMANS' LONG JAUNT.

ARRIVE IN SEATTLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE, July 21.—A party of 105 excursionists from Birmingham, Ala., arrived in Seattle last night, coming by boat from Victoria, B. C. The party left Birmingham, July 12, and came west through the Canadian Rockies.

Their special train, which they left at Vancouver, was waiting for them here. After taking in the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, the party will return home by way of California, and the southern route.

SHOESTRINGS HIS STARTER.

Vendor's Small Savings Put Him in Possession of Lot Worth Thousand.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NORTH YAKIMA (Wash.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Saving what he could from a scanty income from selling shoestrings on the streets of North Yakima, a little old man, John B. Taylor, finally got together $25 and bought a lot on the outskirts of Cleelum. Just about then the Milwaukee road came through that neighborhood and established a station, which located the old man's lot on the main street. Now Taylor is holding the lot for $1000, having already been offered nearly that amount. Pending the sale, he is selling shoestrings.

PERILOUS TRIP OVER.

POLLALLOCH IN PORT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The British ship Pollalloch arrived today, 173 days from Antwerp. She sailed for San Francisco on January 28 and had fine weather until February 8, when northwest gales were encountered, accompanied by heavy seas.

The vessel shipped water continuously and her fore and aft decks were awash all day. During the storm two casks of beef, weighing 500 pounds each, were washed overboard, seriously injuring the first mate. On April 15 another northwest gale with squalls was encountered. This last storm continued until April 20, when the wind suddenly shifted to southsouthwest, causing the ship to go astern and putting her in a dangerous position.

Head winds and calms were encountered throughout the rest of the voyage to San Francisco.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Collision at Sea.

SEATTLE, July 21.—The passenger steamer Iroquois from Seattle for Victoria ran down the schooner Endeavor from San Pedro, for Seattle, in ballast, off Narrowztone Point near Port Townsend at 3 o'clock this morning during a dense fog. The schooner's bow was cut to the water's edge. The steamer took the schooner in tow to Port Townsend where she will be repaired. The damage is estimated at $7500.

Requisions for Prisoners.

SACRAMENTO, July 21.—Now under arrest in Umatilla county, Oregon, Dick Bannivier is wanted in Alturas, Modoc county, for the commission of an alleged rape on a little girl named Lena Walters, 16 years old. Hence the reason for the issuance of a requisition from the Governor today upon the request of the District Attorney of Modoc county. Another requisition was issued on the Governor of Oregon for the return to Fresno of Mack Goss, who is in demand there on account of an alleged embezzlement.

Native Sons' Ultimatum.

SAN JOSE, July 21.—The local committee on the Native Sons' ninth of September celebration received a letter today from the joint committee of the Sacramento parlors saying that if they are not informed by tomorrow evening that the question of railroad rates has been decided they will abandon all thought of attending. It is probable that the Mayor and Common Council will take up the matter of rates, with the Southern Pacific officials.

FISHING AND MATRIMONY.

Bridal Pair Can't Find Preacher to Tie Knot Because They're Angling.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILTON (Or.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because all of Milton's ministers were out fishing yesterday, Miss Jessie Pelisier of Walla Walla, and George Sargent of California waited anxiously from 8 o'clock until 4 o'clock for some one to tie the nuptial knot. The couple had arrived on the trolley car from Walla Walla and sought out Judge Miller, but he was in Seattle, and a visit to all the parsonages failed to find a pastor in the city. Rev. B. F. Harper of the Presbyterian Church showed up late in the afternoon and was promptly appealed to to relieve the suspense. The other pastors, although bemoaning the loss of a fee, insist they caught more fish than Harper did.

FEUD COSTLY TO COLLEGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because of a bitter feud between Dr. John V. N. Standish, for many years president of Lombard College, and a trustee of the school, Knox College, chief rival of Lombard, is today richer to the extent of $100,000. Both schools are located at Galesburg, Ill. Dr. Standish, who is now an octogenarian, became connected with Lombard College more than fifty years ago as instructor. Some years later he was elected president of the college and served with distinction. His sudden resignation as president some time ago came as a shock to the students of Lombard College and all of Galesburg. Little was said in explanation of his resignation, but it soon leaked out that it followed a bitter disagreement between the veteran educator and some of the trustees of the college. The president and officers of Knox College were nearly all old-time friends of Dr. Standish and after discussing the situation with his wife, he decided to give his fortune, which he had intended for Lombard College, to the rival school.

SEEK PARDON FOR FIREBUG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELLEFONTAINE (O.) July 21.—Local attorneys today filed an application for the pardon of George R. Gamble, known as "King of Firebugs," who is serving a seven years' sentence in the Ohio State penitentiary for burning a grist mill in this city. All the police chiefs from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Coast were on the lookout for Gamble at one time. Gamble jumped his bond here after a charge of arson, but was arrested in California after a sensational chase. Gamble had left a string of fires behind him in Colorado and California.

GETS BELATED MEDAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) July 21.—Capt. Joseph Kemp, a civil war pensioner, has just received from Washington a bronze medal authorized by Congress in 1854 for bravery at the Battle of the Wilderness. As a member of Company F, Fifth Michigan volunteers, Kemp dashed into the ranks of the enemy, and captured the flag of the Thirty-first North Carolina regiment, tearing it away from the staff which the Southern color-bearer held securely. How the delivery of the medal came to be delayed so many years is not known here.

BLACK HAND MEN INDICTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—Indictments charging murder were voted yesterday by the grand jury against the seven members of the Loguisto, or "Society of Justice," an Italian organization. The men are charged with slaying Guiseppe Fellipelli, a grocer. The indictments followed a confession made by Toni Rafa, an 18-year-old Italian, who says he is a member of the society. Six of the men indicted are under arrest here.

NEW CITY HALL STARTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—With ceremonies marked by simplicity, and in which only city officials had a part, the corner-stone of Chicago's new $5,000,000 city hall was laid yesterday.

PROVINCIAL OF AMERICA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—At the first chapter of the Fathers of the Servite order in America, held yesterday at the monastery of Our Lady of Sorrows, Rev. Benitius Heil, O.S.M. who has been master of the professed members of the order at the west side monastery for some years, was elected provincial of America, and the Rev. F. S. Angellucci, O.S.M., former provincial, and pastor of the Assumption church, was elected vice-provincial.

RICH HAUL IN WHEEL TAX.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—Chicago's crusade to collect wheel taxes resulted yesterday in more shooting, the discovery of $3500 worth of stolen merchandise, the placing of 35 fines upon more than a score of delinquents and the collection of $9,158.28 in taxes. This makes the total gathered in to date, $434,396.27. The driver of a wagon load of stolen goods was halted by a policeman who demanded to see his license. The man fled after firing one shot at the policeman, who later was surprised to learn he had recovered stolen property valued at $3500.

GETTING WISE.

GOVERNMENT RECLAIMS MUCH VALUABLE WYOMING LAND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Announcement was made today that the Department of the Interior has just classified as coal land and restored to the public domain, certain unappropriated lands in the Evanston land district, Wyoming, fixing the price for disposal of the tracts there, in some cases as high as $500 per acre. This land contains one of the finest coal veins in the West.

The tract was included in the lands involved in what was known as the Horse Thief Cañon cases. Investigation some months ago by special agents of the department disclosed that the title to much of the most valuable coal lands in that part of Wyoming had been secured from the government through a system of alleged fraudulent operations, and suit was instituted against the patentees to recover the lands.

Finally the defendants reconveyed the lands to the government, paying about $40,000 for coal extracted.

"This is a striking instance of results obtained through investigations made by the special service force of the General Land Office," it is declared in the statement today, "and the policy of disposing of the public lands containing coal at prices based upon their intrinsic value for coal.

"Under the former method of disposing of coal lands, these lands were subject to sale at $10 and $20 per acre, or a total price for the township of about $459,000, if sold at the maximum price. At the prices now fixed, the lands in this township are worth $8,-134,000, or an increase of more than $7,500,000 above the former price."

During June last coal lands which had been withdrawn were classified and restored to entry, the total valuation of which amounted to $18,543,232. At the old prices the lands were worth $7,650,-000, an increase of approximately $11,-000,000 over the old prices.

Since about 60 per cent. of these lands are subject to disposal by the government at the prices fixed, the revenue derived therefrom will be about $6,-000,000 in excess of what it would have been under the former policy.

FINANCIAL.

BAD DAY FOR MANY TRADERS.

BANK ACCOUNTS MELT UNDER DROP IN PRICES.

Armour and Patten Brokers Are Heavy Sellers of Wheat and Break of Nearly Three Cents Occurs With Bear Leaders Smashing—Fight on in Corn.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a surprising upset for the wheat trade today, which put a different complexion on the bank accounts of probably 75 per cent. of all the traders who were heavily mixed up in the market. Measured in prices the July break has fallen from $1.18¼ to $1.15½. September contracts melted away from $1.11¼ to $1.08¾. December at the same time took a tumble of about 2 cents from the high point in the morning to $1.06¾.

Armour grain brokers sold possibly a million bushels for September. The Patten brokers were heavy sellers for the same month. It was thought that the offerings of long wheat alone amounted to anywhere from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels. On top of this there was selling pressure from bear leaders, who saw the drift of the market and helped smash prices.

In corn there were also sensational operations, as there is a fight on between the powerful Patten interests on one side and the Armour grain company on the other. Armour brokers have been forced to cover great lines of corn on a strong upturn from 6c cents, three days ago, to 72¼ cents at the top point today.

The Patten brokers led the buying. Late in the session when this bull house, with two or three others, tried to sell corn around the top, Armour turned a trick by forcing a quick break to 71 cents for July.

BOOSTERS.

ELKS GET HOME, FULL OF PRAISE.

KIND WORDS FOR LOS ANGELES SPOKEN BY BILLS.

"We Sure Enough Had a Royal Time," Says Reno Member of the Order, Whose Sentiments Are Echoed by Texan, Who Declares Reunion Was Biggest in History.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Raymond Elliott, one of the local Elks who attended the reunion of the order at Los Angeles, has returned home.

"To say that we had a fine time is putting it light. We were simply entertained like princes all along the line. It looked as if the people of Los Angeles could not do enough for us, so lavish were they in their elaborate reception, closing their more than generous attention to us with one of the grandest balls Los Angeles has ever witnessed in all its brilliant history.

"The only thing we didn't have during our absence from Reno was sleep. That was an unknown quantity from the moment our train pulled out from the depot here.

"Los Angeles, the most brilliantly lighted city in America, with its millions of electrics, was more resplendent than ever each night.

"We sure enough had a royal time and will always remember the good people of Los Angeles."

PRAISE FROM TEXAS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "We had the biggest time ever, and it was the greatest reunion in the history of the order," declared George E. Wallace, Exalted Ruler of El Paso Lodge, No. 187, B.P.O.E., who returned today from Los Angeles. He is loud in his praise of the Angelenos for the many courtesies extended. Other El Paso Elks who have returned voice the same opinion.

CAUGHT WITH EMPTY POCKETS.

President Yoakum of Rock Island Orders Thousand Subway Tickets Against Emergency.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK July 21.—New York's kings of finance have millions in banks, stocks and bonds, but most of them carry very little cash.

B. F. Yoakum, president of the Rock Island system, dashed into Wall-street subway station yesterday and fumbled in his pockets for a nickel. He could not find a cent, and no acquaintance was there to make him a loan.

Returning to his office, Mr. Yoakum said to his secretary:

"Go buy me a thousand subway tickets and see that they are put in every pocket of every suit of clothes I have."

The order for a thousand subway tickets was filled at once.

FIGHT WITH SANTA FE.

STOCKTON, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The City Council and the Santa Fé Railroad Company are at loggerheads over the removal of a switch tower which the Santa Fé maintains at the crossing of the Western Pacific on Hunter street. Two or three years ago the railroad was ordered to move the tower, as it was in the street space, but no particular attention was given to the demand until the Council threatened to tear it down. The division superintendent had a conference with the Council and agreed at some future time to vacate the street space, but up to date has failed to do so, and the new members of the board are anxious to make a record on the matter. They gave the Superintendent of Streets orders over thirty days ago to tear down the tower, but he is not anxious to get the city in any trouble, and has not made any move in the matter.

JAPS' DAY AT FAIR.

SEATTLE, July 21.—The Japanese building at the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition was dedicated today.

The building, which is occupied by the Japanese government and the Japanese Exhibitors' Association, has been open for several weeks, under the direction of Hajime Ota, imperial commissioner, but was not formally turned over to the fair officials until today.

The floral decoration of the building today was elaborate, especial use being made of a wild spira, which is almost a national flower in Japan.

CHARGE THREE WITH MURDER

Grand Jury Indicts Suspect in Sayler Case.

Doctor, Widow and Father-in-Law Accused.

Must Stand Trial for Illinois Banker's Death.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WATSEKA (Ill.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The special grand jury called to investigate the shooting of O. R. Sayler, the Crescent City banker, ended its work late this afternoon. Indictments were returned against Dr. C. E. Miller, Mrs. Lucy Sayler, the widow, and John C. Grunden, her brother, charging them with murder in the first degree, and against Ira Grunden, her brother, as an accessory after the fact, charging that he did "harbor, conceal and assist" the other three in having them to have committed the crime charged.

The indictment against the three principals contains fourteen counts charging them with the shooting in different ways, and one count charging that Miller committed homicide alone and that Mrs. Sayler and John Grunden had previously advised and encouraged, aided and abetted him.

The grand jurors readily voted the indictments against the three principals, but declined to indict Ira Grunden as a participant in the shooting. There was some opposition to finding the indictment against him and seven jurors are said to have voted in favor of letting him free.

GRUNDEN'S ALIBI.

The evidence showed that Ira Grunden was under the influence of liquor the evening; that he had gone to bed in another room some time before the shooting and that he was aroused by the noise of the pistol and the disturbance that accompanied the killing of Sayler. The jurors did not believe that there was evidence enough to connect him with the shooting, but voted to hold him on the minor charge.

Judge Hooper fixed the amount of bail to be required of Ira Grunden at $5000. The charge against the three principals is not bailable, except after a special hearing before the court. Dr. Miller and Mrs. Sayler made no special comment on the finding of the grand jury, having apparently expected it. John C. Grunden and Ira Grunden, charged with some bitterness that they were being unjustly prosecuted. Sentence pending to show a conspiracy between Miller, Mrs. Sayler and John Grunden for the killing of Sayler was brought out in addition to the evidence before the Coroner's jury.

NEIGHBOR AS WITNESS.

A neighbor of Dr. Miller testified that he saw John Grunden go to Millerhouse the morning before the shooting and come out with Miller's pistol, which he put in his pocket and then walked off. The wife of Mrs. Sayler's stepbrother told of the print of a bloody watch chain in the salt and her skirt stained with the same mark, both matching the chain worn by her husband at the time he went down, was related by one witness.

Damaging facts were placed before the grand jury, most of whom said they had placed little credence in the stories told by the Grundens and Mrs. Sayler at the inquest. It is believed that the indicted parties will be tried at the November term of Circuit Court.

WHIPPED FOR DOING CHORES.

KING WIFE ANGERS HUSBAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DUFUR, (Or.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Resenting the fact that J. Smith, his neighbor, had "chored around" on the farm of Mrs. F. M. Covey, his former wife, Covey went to Smith's house last night and whipped him. Covey had been separated from his wife for some time. As she was alone on her ranch, with no help to do the tasks which a woman could not well do, Smith fell into the habit of going from his ranch to hers and helping her. This aroused Covey to a jealous frenzy and the stabbing affray. Smith's condition is pronounced serious.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Is Suicide.

DOVELOCK (Nev.) July 21.—Mrs. Fred W. Cherry, wife of the editor of the Lovelock Review, committed suicide yesterday by drinking carbolic acid. She had been married five years. It is said that she was despondent over the fact that a married woman living here opposed her recent marriage and forbade her access to their home.

Shot by Sister.

CLEVELAND, July 21.—Miss Eliza Brown, a well-known actress and member of a local school of elocution and oratory, was probably fatally stabbed yesterday by her sister, Mrs. Mary Sutton, who was temporarily insane.

Kills Wife, Tries Suicide.

SPOKANE, July 21.—Crazed with grief, Fred G. Browning shot his wife and then attempted suicide at their home, No. 1303 South Grant street, at an early hour today. The woman is dead. The murderer is in the hospital and is believed to be dying. They came here from Quincy, Mich., last Monday morning. It had been drinking heavily and this is supposed to be the cause of the crime. It is known the couple had quarreled over money matters before coming here.

FOOLISH HIPPOPOTAMI!

Conspirators Attack Roosevelt and Two Are Killed—Heller Traps Big Leopard.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NAIVASHA (British East Africa) July 21.—Col. Roosevelt had an exciting experience yesterday while shooting hippopotami.

The natives became terrorized but Roosevelt was not dismayed and selecting the finest bull and the largest cow, killed them. Eventually the animals were driven off. Roosevelt arriving at camp at 3 this morning after towing the spoils with a launch which was sent out to search for the rowers.

At 9 o'clock Mr. Roosevelt went out on Lake Naivasha in a rowboat accompanied by two natives. After rowing some distance from shore the boat was surrounded by a dozen hippopotami, which attacked the boat, some of them diving under and striking the boat with their backs.

Mr. Roosevelt has arrived at Naivasha, but the rest of the expedition will not reach here until tomorrow.

Carl Heller of Riverside, Cal., naturalist of the expedition, caught a 300-pound leopard in a wire trap this morning.

to assume his new duties until the latter part of September. Mr. Crane has been stopping at the Century Association at No. 7 West Forty-third street. He left New York today for Woods Hole, Mass., to join his family, who are spending the summer there.

Mr. Crane's present programme is to spend the first three days of each week in New York where he will endeavor to gain the personal acquaintance with manufacturers, financiers and others who have interest in China, that he may have the benefit of their views before he takes up his diplomatic duties. Henry P. Fletcher, secretary of the American Legation at Peking, will continue to act as America's representative until Mr. Crane's arrival at the Chinese capital.

Wall-street bankers are exhibiting a keen interest in the development of China and all seem well pleased with the appointment of a man of Mr. Crane's caliber to protect their interests in the country where American capital is expected to play an important part.

Before leaving for Woods Hole today Mr. Crane again met the bankers and the question of America's participation in the Chinese railway loan was gone over more carefully. Mr. Crane was permitted to examine the correspondence which the syndicate has had with the State Department at Washington and the representatives who have been sent abroad to demand that American capitalists share equally in the loan with Great Britain, France and Germany.

RUPTURE MAY LEAD TO WAR.

BOLIVIANS FLOCK TO ENROLL IN ARMY FOR ACTIVE DUTY.

Ministers at Buenos Ayres Recalled After Argentina Orders Fonseca Home—Popular Agitation and Aggressive Attitude Increase Seriousness of Situation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LA PAZ (Bolivia) July 21.—Official circles now admit a rupture has occurred between Bolivia and the Argentine Republic and all diplomatic relations have been severed.

The recall of the Argentine minister, Señor Fonseca, who has been stationed here throughout the disorderly events leading up to the present crisis was followed almost simultaneously by the removal of the Bolivian minister stationed at Buenos Ayres.

On the departure of the Bolivian minister from Argentine, he was ordered to turn over the archives to the American, Chilean or Brazilian legations.

The rupture of diplomatic relations was announced after extended official conferences held throughout yesterday at which efforts were made to meet the aggressive attitude assumed by Argentina and at the same time allay the growing popular agitation in Bolivia.

The spirit of the people was shown in monster petitions asking to be enrolled in the army, the petitioners asserting unconditional support of the government, cause in case of an armed conflict and the feeling that hostilities may occur is shown by the continued departure of many Argentine and Bolivian residents.

The cause of Argentina's breaking off of diplomatic relations, as stated here, is a circular issued by President Montes to the provincial governors of Bolivia, referring in slighting and offensive terms to Argentina's decision against Bolivia in the pending Peru-Bolivia boundary dispute.

Argentina also takes offense at President Montes's orders to the municipality of La Paz to suspend the centenary fetes which have been going on, in view of Argentina's adverse action, which is regarded as a national misfortune. These two steps by President Montes are construed by Argentina as incompatible with dignified continuance of friendly diplomatic relations. The recall of their minister thereupon followed and in turn was followed by the recall of the Bolivian minister at Buenos Ayres.

FRENCH DEFEAT ARABS.

NEW MINING COMPANY.

United Gold Corporation Formed to Take Over Sunny Jim Group in Nevada.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The incorporation of the United Gold Corporation has just become known by its purchase of all the interest of the Sunny Jim Gold Mining and Milling Company, Esmeralda county, this State. The corporation is capitalized for $2,000,000. All stock is fully paid and non-assessable, and it is said it will operate also in the Masonic district, California.

The United Gold Corporation is composed of representative men from the mercantile, banking and railroad interests of leading cities. The stock was over-subscribed by several hundred thousand dollars. Associated in the corporation are E. E. Wade, chief clerk in the office of the general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, San Francisco; G. W. Ebener, assistant cashier in the Crocker National Bank, San Francisco; George P. Costigan, Denver, Colo., who made the Tom Boy mine at Telluride and sold it to a English syndicate; B. B. Norton of Denver, and others.

ANOTHER BIG STRIKE ENDED.

Everybody rejoiced to learn that the recent great street car strike in one of our large cities had been satisfactorily settled after being submitted to a board of arbitration. Persons well informed in such matters claim that nearly all strikes could be avoided if the same common sense plan was adopted. There is one strike, however, that must be settled in a different manner, and it is "in the stomach." When this important organ goes on a "strike" either from overwork or neglect, it must be "settled" at once or you're going to be seriously ill. Get a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters today and let it tone and strengthen the entire "inner man" and thus prevent Flatulency, Headache, Sour Stomach, Indigeston, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Cramps, Diarrhoea, Malaria, Fever and Ague. It is absolutely pure and reliable.

HUSBAND FOR DOING CHORES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ORANGE (Or.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Boasting the fact that J. Smith, his neighbor, had "chored" at the farm of Mrs. P. M. Covey, the former wife, Covey went to Smith's house last night and beat him. Covey had been separated from his wife for some time. As a result of his attentions on her ranch, with no help to do the tasks which a woman usually does, Smith fell into the habit of going from his ranch to hers to help her. This aroused Covey to a frenzy and the stabbing of Smith's condition is pronounced serious.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Suicide.

WOODSTOCK (Mex.) July 21.—Mrs. Ethel W. Cherry, wife of the editor of the Woodstock Review, committed suicide yesterday by drinking carbolic acid. She had been married five years. It is said that she was despondent over the fact that a married man here opposed her recent divorce and forbade her access to his home.

Killed by Sister.

RICHMOND, July 21.—Miss Elina Hall, a well-known actress and teacher in a local school of elocution and oratory, was probably fatally stabbed yesterday by her sister, Mrs. Mary Sutherland. The latter was temporarily insane.

Wife Tries Suicide.

SAN DIEGO, July 21.—Crazed with grief, Fred G. Browning shot his wife and then attempted suicide at their home, 1003 South Grant street, at noon today. The woman is dead. The husband is in the hospital and is believed to be dying. They came here from Quincy, Mich., last Monday and had been drinking heavily ever since. It is supposed to be the cause of the crime. It is known the couple had quarreled over money matters shortly before coming here.

FOOLISH HIPPOPOTAMI!

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NAIROBI (British East Africa) July 21.—Col. Roosevelt had an exciting experience yesterday while shooting hippopotami.

The hippos became terrorized but Roosevelt was not dismayed and after killing the finest bull and the largest cow, killed them. Eventually the rest of the animals were driven off. Roosevelt arriving at camp at 3 o'clock this morning after towing the spoils with a launch which he sent out to search for the rowboat.

Shortly after Mr. Roosevelt went out with Kermit in a rowboat accompanied by two natives. After rowing a short distance from shore the boat was surrounded by a dozen hippopotami which attacked the boat, some of them diving under and striking the boat with their backs.

Mr. Roosevelt has arrived at Nairobi, but the rest of the expedition will not reach here until tomorrow.

Frank Heller of Riverside, Cal., a member of the expedition, caught a leopard in a wire trap this week.

Own a Vineyard Without Leaving Your Present Work

YOU can own a producing vineyard at Etiwanda without leaving your present occupation. Our new plan gives you an opportunity such as you never had before. Pay us $2.50 per acre down and $2.50 per acre monthly for a planted vineyard. We will cultivate and care for your vines for three years free of charge, until they come into good bearing, with a full stand of vines guaranteed. After that you can handle the place yourself or we will continue to care for it three years more for 10 per cent. of its net income. The plan is practical and most favorable to you. Think about it.

$200 to $250 Per Acre—$2.50 PER ACRE Cash, $2.50 PER ACRE Monthly

WE CULTIVATE AND CARE FOR YOUR VINES FREE FOR THREE YEARS

Matured vineyards pay handsomely. Experienced Etiwanda growers state that an annual net income of 20 per cent. can be reasonably relied upon from a matured vineyard there. Conditions at Etiwanda are unusually favorable. In the immediate vicinity of our property are located some of the finest and most prosperous vineyards in all California. Etiwanda is on the main line of the Santa Fe Railroad, only a short ride from Los Angeles. Shipping facilities are good. Surrounding are many prosperous cities and towns, with all the conveniences and advantages of city life. No pioneering here—the pioneer work was done years ago. The community is a settled one.

Etiwanda Vineyards are laid out in 5-acre tracts. The land is level. Water is piped in front of every five acres. Streets are graded. This part of the San Gabriel Valley is most beautiful, with grand mountain views, a delightful location for a home, as well as a practical place to make money in. Come to my office and get full information about Etiwanda and my plan of selling vineyards. You don't have to be a practical grape-grower to take advantage of it. It's a splendid investment—on terms that are open to all. Excursions to Etiwanda daily. Arrange to go out and see for yourself.

HARD HITTING BY HOOLIGANS.

Cellar Champions Drive the Ball Out of Lot.

Coy Stars as Slugger With Homer Over Fence.

Enough Runs Garnered to Win Several Games.

Vernon, 10; Sacramento, 4.

The Hooligans wreaked vengeance on the Senators yesterday for their defeat of the previous day, batting Baum and Ehman all over the lot and scoring enough runs to win a couple of games.

The visitors also had an off day in fielding, and the six bungles they made materially helped Hogan's unhappy band in making its killing. Brashear was the only Hooligan that did not get a hit. With the exception of Hogan and Brackenridge, the others got two or more.

It was a great day for the tail-enders. The Senators opened up with a rush and threatened to run away with the game, but the home team retaliated by jumping on Baum with both feet, and after Coy had lifted a home run over the left-field fence in the beginning of the fourth inning, Ehman was sent to the box to stop the slaughter. But the Hooligans had tasted blood and they pounced on the big boy and gave him a worse drubbing than had been handed out to Baum.

It looked as if Brackenridge was also going to get "his" when the visitors made four hits and as many runs in the first three innings, but the local boy tightened up and the three hits the Senators got in the remaining innings were not productive of tallies.

Haley was missing from the line-up of the Vernonites, Bernard taking his place at second base and Coy playing right field. It was intimated that the change was made on account of Haley's weak hitting during the last week, and if this was the case the change certainly wrought a great improvement. Coy's homer was a "beaut" and Martinke also scored on the hit. His single in the eighth brought in another run.

The two errors charged to the Hooligans were made by Mott, who also had an off day running bases. But he came through with three singles that were good for a couple of runs.

BOUNCED OVER FENCE.

House, the Sacramento left fielder, hit a long fly to center field that struck the ground before Stovall could reach it and it bounced over the fence, in the third inning. There was no one on the bases at the time and the run proved to be the last the Senators secured.

After two men were out in the first inning, Sacramento made two hits and scored the first run of the game. Gandil bunted to Mott, who threw wild, and the runner went to second. Flanagan singled, and sent Gandil home, going to third on the throw-in, which Hogan allowed to go through him. Raymer laid down a bunt in front of the plate, and Hogan grabbed the ball and tagged him before he was able to move, retiring the side.

Vernon drew a blank in its half of the first, and when the Senators bowled over two more men across the plate in the second, the fans began to scent defeat, and writhed about on the benches, yelling unpleasantries and demanding their money back.

But the Hooligans got busy in their second trial at the bat, and started the slugging bee that netted ten runs. Coy was safe on Raymer's fumble of his grounder, and Flanigan allowed Mott's single to pass him. Coy scoring and Mott reaching second. Hogan followed with a single to center, and Mott reached home. Brackenridge reached first on a fielder's choice, but Baum caught him off the bag, retiring the side.

An error and two hits netted the Hooligans three tallies in the fourth and placed them in the lead. Eagan hit a high fly to House, who muffed the ball. Martinke doubled to the right field corner of the lot, and Truck trotted home. Then Coy came through with his homer.

SENATORS WORRIED.

With three men across the plate and none out, the Senators were worried, and Baum was withdrawn from the box, Ehman taking his place. Mott, the first batter to face the new man, received an inshoot in the ribs. Hogan flew to Doyle, and Brackenridge fouled to Byrnes. Stovall was at the bat when Mott was caught stealing second.

Jansing made a pretty one-handed stop and throw of Coy's bunt in the sixth inning. The ball was a hard one to handle, but Jansing grabbed it with his right hand, and although in an awkward position made an accurate toss to first in time to beat the runner. The Hooligans made four hits in this session, but only scored one run, losing a certain tally because Mott was caught napping at third base.

The four hits Vernon got in the seventh counted for two more runs than those in the preceding inning, and put the Senators completely out of the running. Brashear walked, and then scored on Eagan's double. Martinke hit a high bouncer toward second that he beat out, and Coy singled, scoring Eagan, but he was caught at second, Martinke reaching third during the mix-up. As Ehman began to wind up to pitch to Mott, Martinke started for home. Mott poked the ball into right field for a single, and Martinke had crossed the plate even before the ball had hit the ground.

The Hooligans made another tally in the eighth for good measure, Brashear scoring on Eagan's single. In the ninth Jansing got as far as third base, but Ehman fouled to Hogan, ending the game. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Stovall was presented with a bouquet when he stepped to the plate in the first inning. He flew out to Doyle on the first ball pitched by Baum.

With two strikes on Baum in the second inning, Hogan dropped a foul tip. Baum flew out, however, and Hap soon forgot it.

Coy's home run easily was the longest hit of the game. The ball went far into the air and executed a graceful curve in dropping over the fence.

Hogan again failed to live up to his reputation as a bum hitter. His single in the second inning sent Mott across the plate.

When Ehman replaced Baum in the box, Hogan made a howl to Umpire McGreevy on the ground that the change was a violation of the rules. However, the ump permitted the change as no one was in the batter's box at the time.

Hogan got "sore" when Mott was caught off third in the third inning. Hap was at the bat. In a rage he threw the stick down, and then stamped about the plate in utter disgust.

Twice in the seventh inning Hogan was hit on the shins by foul tips that made him hop about. Byrnes and Graham, the Sacramento catchers, gave him the merry ha-ha, and Hap again got sore. He was hit on the foot in the ninth and then the crowd got busy with expressions of mock sympathy.

Raymer and Shinn had an off-day in the second base territory, each making two bungles. The crowd yelled to the Vernon batsmen to hit the ball into the bush section about second and they would be sure to reach first.

Martinke, with three hits, one of which was a double, and three runs, led the Hooligans in the slaughter.

The shortest half-inning was Vernon's part of the third. Stovall struck out and Bernard singled. Brashear hit to Shinn and died with Bernard in a double play.

FIGHT DEADLOCK.

NEITHER WILL GIVE IN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—President Murphy, of the Chicago National League baseball club, is quoted here as emphatically declaring that he would not take $50,000 for Catcher Kling.

"Not that he is worth that much," said Mr. Murphy, "but there is a principle involved in the matter, and I purpose to stand firm. Mr. Ebbetts made a generous offer for Kling, and if the case were an ordinary one I should favor giving him up to Brooklyn. But Kling has not acted in a sportsmanlike manner to the Chicago club, and I have come to the conclusion that he must play with the club of which I am at the head or not at all."

SAYS JOHNNY KLING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—"I will quit baseball rather than return to Chicago and play for Murphy," said Johnny Kling, the champion catcher, here today.

"I am through with Murphy and his Chicago club. I will play with any other club that meets my terms, however, but never with Chicago."

Referring to Murphy's statement in New York that Kling had not acted in a sportsmanlike manner, the catcher said:

"I gave Mr. Murphy every chance to secure my services this year, but he refused all my propositions. It is Murphy who has acted unsportsmanlike. Personally I regret the whole affair."

POOR ANGELS ON THE SLIDE.

LOSING HARD-LUCK GAMES TO THE NORTHERN TEAMS.

Ninth-Inning Defeat After the Enemy Had Been Hit Harder Throughout Game—Pitcher Graney Hits Bounder Over Delmas's Head Which Allows Johnson to Tally.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While "Speck" Harkness was found a great deal oftener than was Elmer Thorsen in the game between Portland and Los Angeles, today, Portland won the contest by the same score as on the previous day, 4 to 3, but the contest was decided in the last half of the ninth, instead of going into extra session.

The fielding of the home team was mainly responsible for the victory, for two fast double plays, Walter McCredie's phenomenal one-handed catch of Howard's hard drive, and a pretty catch by Billy Speas landed Harkness out of danger on as many occasions.

"Pop" Van Haltren, outfielder, made his first appearance here in the role of an umpire, doubling with McCarthy. Between the two the official decisions was highly satisfactory.

Olson's single and a home run under the fence by Buddy Ryan gave Portland two in the first inning, while Ort's single, Breen's sacrifice, a steal of third by the former, and Orendorf's error scored the third run in the second inning.

The Angels bunched four hits on Harkness in the third and this netted them two runs. Singles by Dillon and Beall and an error by Harkness gave Los Angeles another in the seventh.

In the last of the ninth Johnson walked and was sacrificed to second by Ort. While Breen was fanning, Johnson stole third. Fisher was passed and Jack Graney was sent in to bat for Harkness. Graney hit a high bounder to Delmas, who erred and Johnson crossed the plate with the deciding run.

SIGNS OF TROUBLE.

GLIDDEN TOUR MAY BE LAST.

HARD AND FAST RUN EXHAUSTS PATIENCE OF TOURISTS.

Dissension Arises Over Penalties and One Peevish Autoist Threatens to Quit and Go Home—Only One Car Fails to Complete the Lap from Fort Dodge to Omaha.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OMAHA (Neb.) July 21.—The cars in the Glidden tour automobile contest completed their trip from Fort Dodge to Council Bluffs, Iowa, this afternoon, after the fastest run thus far.

Several of the cars in places went seventy miles an hour. The running time for the day was 9 hours, 48 minutes, but every car except one—Jewel No. 16—arrived ahead of time.

The first dissension in the board of control arose today over penalties, and it is said that Secretary Ferguson threatened to return home tomorrow. As many as fifteen points were dealt out in penalties against three cars.

LEAVE FORT DODGE.

The Glidden tourists began the runs early this morning. Council Bluffs, 196 miles away, was the destination. Two detours were necessary on account of washed-out bridges and increased the distance.

The weather was ideal. The prevailing sentiment among the contestants was that this would be the last Glidden tour, because it is said the runs are too hard a strain on the contestants.

Secretary Ferguson, who was injured yesterday by being thrown out of Acme car No. 97, which was ditched by the breaking of the steering spindle, will complete the tour by rail, going on a special train. His injuries are not serious.

Many Entries for Race Meet at Brighton Beach Motordrome. Drivers Must Qualify.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—So rapidly are the entries coming in for the various events in the two days' speed tournament at the Brighton Beach Motordrome that the committee has found it necessary to issue a notice that the lists will close when sixteen nominations are made for each event, which is considered all that can be permitted safely on the track at one time.

Officially, entries do not close till noon on July 26. The officials of the tournament have been selected, also a committee to pass upon the qualifications of the drivers.

PHIL BROCK BALKS AT TERR AND ATTELL IS BUSY.

Mike Kutchos May Be Matched With Danny Webster for Semi-Wind-up to Barry-Burns Contest. Reopening of Fight Pavilion Postponed One Week.

The proposed bouts between Phil Brock and Chic Hudson and Mont Attell and Danny Webster, which Tom McCarey expected to hold at Naud Junction, August 3, have been called off because Brock would not accept the terms offered by the promoter and Attell has a match arranged with Jimmy Reagan, to be held at Oakland August 12, that makes it impossible for him to appear here early next month.

It is probable that the fight pavilion will remain dark until August 10, when McCarey expects to stage Jack Burns and Jim Barry. Burns has not yet replied to the proposition made to him for the match, but Barry is willing to go on with the Salinas giant as a starter for the fall campaign on the Coast.

Mike Kutchos wants to meet Webster in a ten-round bout on a winner-take-all basis, with a side bet, if Webster will make 118 pounds at 6 o'clock, and the boys may be put on in the semi-wind-up of the Barry-Burns fight, if the proper arrangements can be made.

Barry has decided not to train at Jack Doyle's while he is here, and has moved his effects to Eastside where he will get in shape for his coming battle.

Gene Sullivan, whom Billy Walsh knocked out in five rounds in their last encounter, may get a chance to redeem himself in the near future, as McCarey has agreed to stage the boys. Sullivan claims that he was

PHIL BROCK BALKS AT TERMS AND ATTELL IS BUSY.

Mike Kutzhos May Be Matched With Danny Webster for Semi-Wind-up to Barry-Burns Contest. Reopening of Fight Pavilion Postponed One Week.

The proposed bouts between Phil Brock and Chic Hudson and Monte Attell and Danny Webster, which Tom McCarey expected to hold at Naud Junction, August 3, have been called off because Brock would not accept the terms offered by the promoter and Attell has a match arranged with Jimmy Reagan, to be held at Oakland, August 12, that makes it impossible for him to appear here early next month.

Mike Kutchos wants to meet Webster in a ten-round bout on a winner-take-all basis, with a side bet, if Webster will make 116 pounds at 6 o'clock, and the boys may be put on in the semi-wind-up of the Barry-Burns fight, if the proper arrangements can be made.

Barry has decided not to train at Tom Doyle's while he is here, and has moved his effects to Eastside where he will get in shape for his coming battle.

Young Sullivan, whom Billy Walsh knocked out in five rounds in their recent encounter, may get a chance to match himself in the near future, as McCarey has agreed to stage the boys, if Walsh is to take all the purse. Sullivan claims that he was in poor condition and that Walsh was about twelve pounds overweight when they last met, and he is anxious to meet him again.

Young Jeffries, the San Diego featherweight, who has several knockouts to his credit, was given a trial at Naud Junction yesterday afternoon and showed good form. He probably will be matched with some local boy for a six-round bout.

Young Sholes is anxious to come to the front and meet some of the local lightweights. His knockout of Charlie Dunn in five rounds has given his friends a boost, and McCarey may stage a bout next month.

HOPE FOR LANGFORD.

CITIZENS IN EARNEST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RENO (Nev.) July 21.—That Sam Langford, the colored pugilist of Boston, telegraphed him yesterday agreeing to fight Stanley Ketchel in Ely on Labor Day for $5000 of the $25,000 purse, was the statement again made today by Tex Hall, who has been promoting the match.

In view of press reports that Langford denies that he had wired Hall that he would fight here, the Nevada promoter is about ready to declare all arrangements off. Hall, however, at the earnest request of citizens of Ely, has agreed to wait until tomorrow for Langford's final reply to a telegram sent to the pugilist today.

TARRYTOWN STAKES.

EMPIRE CITY, July 21.—Hill Top today won the Tarrytown Stakes, one mile, at Empire City today. Stanley Wise, carrying 122 pounds and finely ridden by Powers, won the handicap, one mile and a sixteenth, by a head in fast and exciting finish.

Six furlongs: Richard Reed won, Arapahoe second, Hoffman third; time 1:14 2-5.

Six furlongs: Evening Song won, Miss Carroll second, Madeline third; time 1:14.

One mile and a sixteenth: Stanley Fay won, Tony Bonero second, Zienap third; time 1:47.

Five and one-half furlongs: Fightfast won, Interpose second, Glenmore third; time 1:08.

One mile and a sixteenth: Hans won, Ketchel Kelso second, Rye third; time 1:47.

Killing Himself Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Stanley Ketchel, the champion middleweight pugilist, was painfully injured yesterday by being thrown violently against the front of the automobile in which he was riding when the machine collided with a wagon. It was feared at first that his arm had been broken, but later developments showed only a severe strain. In shielding his face from the glass front, Ketchel lacerated his hands badly.

HUSKY HIKERS COME TO TOWN.

COLUMBIA PARK BOYS' CLUB GOES INTO CAMP.

Walk from San Francisco to Los Angeles—Musical and Theatrical Aggregation of School Youths of Northern City Out for Fun and Good Health.

Forty-four boys, members of the Columbia Park Boys' Club of San Francisco, arrived here yesterday morning, appearing as fresh as if they had walked but a mile. They paraded the principal streets, led by their brass band, and then went into camp at the City Recreation Center, Holly and St. John streets. They started on their long walk on June 7, and have stopped at all the principal towns en route, giving entertainments to cover their expenses.

They were accompanied by two wagons, which were utilized to transport their camp equipment, musical instruments and trunks containing their theatrical outfits. The boys traveled in light marching order, clad in brown trousers and leggings, black shirts and brown hats, and as their ages very from 10 to 19 years, the marches were made to suit the smallest in the ranks. They carry no tents, but each boy has a sleeping bag and a sack containing his clothing, which at night is utilized as a pillow. At Recreation Center they will sleep on the roof garden and the balcony of the large gymnasium.

They are under command of Eustace M. Peixotto, and, as indicating how well they have stood their walk, a number of them engaged in an indoor baseball game yesterday afternoon, and when others wished to come up into the city they never looked in the direction of a street car; they walked. Their dress uniform consists of a gray sweater, trimmed in red, and a cap to match, giving them a natty appearance.

Last night the band gave a free concert at Recreation Center, delighting a large audience of people gathered from the neighborhood. Charles Mills, superintendent of Recreation Center, has arranged the local itinerary for the boys. Tonight they will appear at Redondo, Friday night at Long Beach and on Saturday night at the People's Theater in this city. The programme includes an old-time minstrel scene, vocal solos and duets, sixteen boys in acrobatic feats, humorous impersonators, Highland songs and dances, a Zulu warrior and a laughable farce. The instrumental music is by their own orchestra, and the whole entertainment is said to be much better than might be expected from amateurs.

On Saturday afternoon a game of baseball will be arranged with a local team, and will likely be played on Echo Park Playground.

They will spend Sunday at Ocean Park, and start on Monday on a trip around the orange belt, giving entertainments at Riverside, Pomona, San Bernardino and Redlands. They will visit San Diego last, and then return to this city and embark for home on the Southern Pacific Railway.

This club of boys is made up of schoolboys, and any boy may join. He says no dues or fees of any kind, the only requirement being that he must attend three times a week; once on club night, when they have a business meeting, manual training and an impromptu theatrical performance. The other two nights are for gymnasium work and military drill. The boys are manly and good-mannered, and show the effects of careful training.

ROMANCE OF A RUNNER.

Returns to Mother With Fame and Fortune as He Had Promised.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 21—Hans Holmer, champion Marathon runner of Canada, who recently has achieved considerable fame and much fortune as an athlete, has brought unexpected joy to the home of his mother in the Bronx, from which he ran away nine years ago when a boy.

Hans disagreed with his father when a young lad and just before he ran away he told his mother that she would not hear from him until he had achieved fame and fortune. At the time she thought he was joking, but as the time passed and the boy did not return, his mother grieved and had never ceased to worry about him.

A few hours before a tall, athletic young man rang the door bell, Mrs. Holmer remarked to her daughter it would be odd if some day Hans walked in on them suddenly. When the door was opened the stranger threw his strong arms around his mother's neck and both wept for joy.

"I kept my word, mother," said the young man. "I have won fame and fortune and am making money."

The athlete said he would purchase the old home for his mother.

Chesbro May Retire.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Jack Chesbro, one time premier pitcher of the country, probably will retire from baseball unless he is claimed by one of the major league clubs within a few days. Waivers have been asked by the New York American League club and as Chesbro is well-to-do and has a prosperous lumber business in Conway, Mass., he probably will quit the business. Chesbro has not shown any of his past from this year.

Formal Turn-down.

SAN DIEGO, July 21.—The Mexican Consul here has received official notification from his government that President Diaz has refused to sign the permit for the proposed race track at Tia Juana. The notice was received with rejoicing among the larger number of citizens. President Diaz's action is believed to be almost entirely due to the request made to him by the State Department as a result of a petition against the proposed track that was circulated in this city and forwarded to Washington.

Wrestling at Chutes.

John Bellis, the Greek wrestler, and Tony Munkers of Kansas City are to meet in the main event of a wrestling tournament scheduled to be held at Chutes Park, Saturday night. The men were matched to wrestle two weeks ago, but the bout was called off. The mat artists are to wrestle catch-as-catch-can, at 158 pounds. Fred Johnson and Freddie Fisher of San Bernardino are to wrestle in the semi-windup. The preliminaries will bring together Jack Santell of Boston and Ed Thunderbaum in a catch-as-catch-can match and two Japanese jiu-jitsu artists.

ST. LOUIS REAL ESTATE MAN IS HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Banker, Forced to Pay Over Commission at Point of Revolver, Pursues His Man, Engaging in Pistol Duel Until Policeman Makes Arrest—Denies Owing Any Sum.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Martin L. Dawson, a real estate man, is charged with robbery in the first degree as the result of a bloodless pistol duel with Simon Seelig, president of the Savings Trust Company of this city, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Dawson obtained $365.25 from the bank at the point of a pistol, and fired two shots at Seelig as he was making his escape. Seelig, who served in the Confederate army, gave chase, firing at Dawson, and ran him into the hands of an officer several blocks away.

The money, Dawson claims, is due him as commission in securing a loan on land called the Suder farm, in Wichita county, Texas, for $12,500. The trust company, through Seelig, loaned $10,000 of the amount, and Seelig claims that he, as lender, owed Dawson no commission.

The deal was closed between Seelig and the Brinston-Ricketts Realty Company, agents for the borrower, this morning. Both Alfred Ricketts of the realty company, and Seelig, deny that Dawson was entitled to share in the commission.

Dawson said this afternoon that Seelig had tried to rob him on the deal, and that he went to the bank with his revolver with the intention of getting what was coming to him. Dawson entered the bank just before closing time, and walking up to Seelig, who was standing near the teller's window, said: "Pay this money," holding out a sheet of paper with an itemized statement on it, pushing a revolver to Seelig's breast with the other hand. Seelig tried to parley with him, but Dawson pushed him with the gun to the window, demanding the money, and threatening to kill Seelig unless the money was given to him. He demanded $365.25. It was counted out to him by the cashier at Seelig's order, and Dawson made Seelig hand it to him.

As a ruse to make Dawson stoop, Seelig purposed dropped the quarter. The ruse failed, and taking the bills, keeping Seelig covered the while, Dawson backed out of the bank. Snatching his revolver from his desk, Seelig gave chase. Dawson fired twice at Seelig, one bullet plowing into a wooden pillar close to Seelig's head. Seelig fired once and missed, and pursued Dawson until he was caught.

DANGER TO STATES.

Justice Brewer of Supreme Court Says Income Tax Will Throw Power to Government.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE, July 21.—In his address before the Association of Agents of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of this city today Justice David J. Brewer of the United States Supreme Court said in part:

"Under the hue and cry of today we must have an income tax, which means a tax on incomes and if power to tax all income is given the government, we will see the States taxed, not out of their existence, but out of their vitality. The idea leads up to the question of placing the entire power in the control of the nation and the State is left out of the matter."

Reduce Fat a Pound a Day

Rengo Has Solved the Problem of Safe Fat Reduction Without Starvation Diet or Tiresome Exercises.

A quick, harmless reducer of fat, called Rengo, has come into popular use which far eclipses any method or treatment heretofore used.

This Illustration Plainly Shows What Rengo Has Done.

Rengo is perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and it is chowed like fruit or candy. It causes a gradual harmless but effective reduction in weight, and without leaving wrinkles, which are nearly always present after taking drugs and other dangerous materials commonly called "anti-fats."

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo.

For sale by all druggists at $1 per full sized box, or by mail, prepaid, by The Rengo Co., 3267 Rengo Bldg., Detroit, Mich. The Company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail, if you will write them direct to Detroit. No free packages at drug stores.

Rengo is for sale and recommended in Los Angeles by The Owl Drug Co., 320 So. Spring and Fifth and Broadway.

Classified Liners.

[illegible] rates! The rate for inserting "Want" ads. in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word, each insertion; minimum charge, 25c; except under following classifications the rate for which is 10c per line, minimum charge 50c: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," Church Notices, Miscellaneous," and "Bath and Massage."

"Liner" (Classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, in the classified property must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Rates 1½c per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and ensure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephone advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "Liners," or no mistakes can be rectified without same.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

TO "LINER" ADVERTISERS:

Dating from June 1, classified advertising in The Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c per word in the Sunday issue.

Close calculations, covering a period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis of charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1.

Cash want advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it.

The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 60,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

FOR SALE—WILL BUILD TO SUIT ON easy terms. We have developed numerous tracts and disposed of them to hundreds of satisfied customers. We have a new tract. It is located beautifully for view and most desirable for rapid occupancy and increasing values. Considerable street work done and a number of contented families living there. Fifteen minutes over Main st. Main practically 5c fare, and a 2-minute car service. We maintain our own grading camp, cement workers and carpenter force, and are hard at work on this property now. We are about to put up some houses. Can we build for you? We prefer to sell first and let our buyer gratify personal tastes in construction and decoration. We do not want large profit. Those adding us by coming now to live on this tract will procure our very best terms. Those with good references who will pledge to beautify premises with lawn and flowers will receive especial consideration, our lowest cash-down payment, and balance like small rent. Large lots, any frontage, as close as 50 feet to car. We also have some snaps in a few choice one and two-acre pieces.
Take Monrovia, San Gabriel, Sierra Madre, Oak Knoll or Pasadena Short Line cars to Sierra Park, and see HARRY CHASE today. x22

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Valencias are the chief oranges on the market at present. The navel crop has been practically exhausted, and only a few late oranges of this variety are brought in. The Valencian are holding more firm now than at the beginning of the season, when there were still enough navels on the market to influence prices. They are selling at $2.25 to $2.35 box on fancy pack. Packed, unwrapped Valencias are bringing $1.50, and loose are worth the customary $ box. Lemons still continue to be the highest priced citrus fruit on the market. They are in heavier demand than any of the other varieties are selling at $3.25 for the best, a slight decline from last week when they held up to $3.50. Seedless grapefruit is firm with only a fair demand. It sells at $2.75 per box. Mexican limes continue to arrive regularly. They sell at $1.10 per hundred at best.

Eggs are in very good demand. Eastern reports show them to be continued in their strength, and the warm weather is gradually driving prices through the East and Middle West higher. A case count was selling at 23 cents yesterday morning. Receipts of locals were only 166 cases—among the smallest in two months.

Butter was firm. There is an active buying demand throughout the United States, which is keeping prices higher than they have ever been before. Much of the butter now being placed in storage, and one of the large handlers of Los Angeles stated yesterday that while butter is high now, it will probably be lower in the winter season, owing to the large amount which at that time will be released from storage. Receipts of local stock were 14,156 pounds.

Cheese was normal in selling. Northern fresh and two eastern varieties held the chief selling features of the day. There were no changes in prices. Receipts were 35,220 pounds. The market was a trifle weak on account of these large arrivals.

Potato receipts have been about the same throughout the week. Yesterday 1497 sacks were received by railroad in addition to the large wagon arrivals. The first northern Highlands are expected in Los Angeles before the end of this month. The potato crop in the north is reported as assured, and is expected to be as large as that of last. Yellow Danvers from local fields are being received in quantity and the market price on them was fixed at $1.25 yesterday morning.

Barley was quoted firm and rolled barley advanced $1 per ton, making the present selling price in smaller than ton lots, $1.55 a hundred.

GENERAL EASTERN.

WHEAT WEAK, HEAVY SELLING.

PROMINENT BULL UNLOADS BIG LINE OF SEPTEMBER.

Prospective Liberal Receipts of New Grain Form Basis of Movement Downward and Support Becomes Poorer as Session Advances. Shorts in Corn Buy Heavily.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—Wheat was weak all day and at the low point, prices were from 1¾ to 2¾ below the best figures of the session. The feature of trading was the unloading of a large line by a prominent bull, whose sales, together with those of his immediate followers, were estimated to have reached about 4,000,000 bushels. A large part of this wheat was for September delivery. Prospective liberal receipts of new wheat here and in the Southwest for the remainder of the month, formed the basis of the selling movement. Support became poorer as the session advanced, notwithstanding the caution of shorts, who covered freely at various times. The low point on July for the day was 1.15⅝. September at the same time sold off to 1.06⅝. The close was exceedingly heavy, with July at 1.15⅝@1.15¾, and September at 1.06¾.

Buying of a large line of the September delivery by prominent shorts, held the corn market strong the greater part of the day. The market finally yielded to the severe slump in wheat and closed at net declines of ⅝@¾ to ¾, compared with the final figures of the previous day.

The dominating influence in oats was the likelihood that grain from the new crop would be on sale in liberal quantities within a few days, owing to continued favorable weather. This induced free selling by longs, which resulted in prices declining from 1 to 1¼ from the high marks of the day. The market closed weak, with prices ⅝ to ¾@1 lower than yesterday.

Provisions were steady all day and closed unchanged to 7½ lower.

Quotations were as follows: Flour, steady. Feed or mixing barley, 85@87; fair to choice malting, 89@92. Flax seed, No. 1 Southwestern, 1.29½; No. 1 Northwestern, 1.49½. Timothy seed, 3.80. Clover, 10.85. Mess pork, per bbl., 20.87½@20.86. Lard, per 100 lbs., 11.67½. Short ribs, sides, (loose,) 11.45@11.55; short clear sides, (boxed,) 11.87½@12.00.

Grain Statistics.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Total clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 45,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 702,000 bushels, compared with 121,100 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 187 cars; corn, 171 cars; oats, 81 cars; hogs, 19,000 head.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

BOSTON, July 21.—The market opened rather steady this morning, but sold off slightly during the day, in sympathy with the New York market. Steel Common is now dealt in quite extensively in the Boston market, and has a sentimental effect on the copper list, and to its action today a good deal of the decline can be attributed. There are rumors continually coming in of large purchases of the metal, and we continue to advise the purchase of the good stocks on all declines. New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 111 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—Early cables are firm, about as due. The feeling here seems based on the outlook, that our country are looking for some further improvement, after the recent shake out. But it will all depend upon the weather. The crop east of the River is no doubt making a great showing compared with recent dates, weather being almost ideal. But as to Texas, they have had some rains which is being confirmed by letters, but not enough to be of much good. Unless the forecast shows rain there may be some higher figures for cotton today.

Hill of Logan & Bryan, says: "After a sharply higher opening, the market showed a heavy decline which brought it down to within a shade of its low level. The erratic course of the market for the past six or seven days has made those who were short of purse very timid about owning or holding it and it has made those strong of nerve very inquisitive as to whether they could not milk the market on both sides. The report of a heavy tidal wave, with a hurricane blowing, at Galveston, seemed to furnish the bearish argument which brought the deluge of selling. This same sort of a storm in September, 1904, brought exactly the opposite character of a market, although the disclosures at that time showed the storm did not penetrate inland any great distance. The general supposition seems to be that this unsettled condition of the barometer will bring the end of the protracted drouth in Texas, but even should it rain there, the question would still be problematical, as all advices from that section indicate that the value of rains would be to shed what the plant holds and take a new start."

Southern weather: Greenville, clear, 86; San Antonio, clear, 84; Sherman, clear, 82; Paris, clear, 84; Memphis, clear, hot, raining; Shreveport, Monroe, clear, hot; Tempio, cloudy, 92; Natchez, part, cloudy, warm; Little Rock, clear, fine; Pine Bluff, partly cloudy, little rain this morning; Helena, clear, warm; Dallas, clear, 90.

Southern forecast: North Carolina, Alabama, West Florida, Georgia, fair; East Florida, local showers; Mississippi, showers south portion.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

Another "Bill affair."

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Out of Pocket.

H. M. Summers of Hollywood last night reported the loss of his pocketbook, containing $40, to the police. Summers was in the Pacific Electric building when his pocket was picked.

To Discuss Branch Library.

A meeting of the East Side Improvement Association for the purpose of discussing the necessity of a new branch library will be held tonight at Conaty Hall, Downey avenue and Daly street.

Texas Society Picnic.

The Texas Society will hold its annual picnic at Naples on Saturday, leaving the city from Ninth and Los Angeles streets at 9 a.m. There will be a musical and literary programme, dancing, bathing and fishing, and all former Texans are urged by the committee to attend and enjoy the fun.

Will Manage Taft Welcome.

The Chamber of Commerce directorate yesterday accepted the request of the Mayor to assume charge of the welcome and entertainment in honor of President Taft on his visit to Los Angeles in the fall. As soon as the itinerary of the President is received, definite plans for entertainment will be considered.

More Pay in Postoffice.

The Postoffice Department at Washington announces the following salary promotions in the Los Angeles postoffice: seven clerks from $800 to $900, sixteen from $800 to $900, fifty-five from $900 to $1000, thirty-three from $1000 to $1100, eight from $1100 to $1200, one carrier from $800 to $900, two from $800 to $900, four from $900 to $1000, three from $1000 to $1100, five from $1100 to $1200.

Army Officer to Lecture.

Lieut.-Col. Erasmus M. Weaver, general staff chief of militia, has been ordered to Los Angeles by the War Department to deliver a lecture before the convention of the National Guard Association of the United States, which will open here September 27. "Relation of War Department to Organized Militia, Including Issue of Stores, Instruction of Officers and Joint Maneuvers," will be the subject of the lecture.

From Atlantic to Pacific.

Bates & Cheseborough have sent a letter to the Chamber of Commerce in which they confirm their telegram authorizing the chamber to announce that through steamer service from New York and Philadelphia direct to San Pedro will be started by the sailing of the Edward Sewell, in September. She is a vessel of 5500 tons, and will return to the eastern coast in December. The concern backing this venture has been assured of considerable support from Los Angeles merchants.

Thieves Get All Sorts.

A. Ferrario, a merchant of No. 679 San Fernando street, reported to the police yesterday that his place of business was entered by burglars Tuesday night and $17 taken from the cash register. Charles Sadler of No. 734 East Twenty-fifth street reported that his home was entered by burglars and a revolver and pair of cuff buttons stolen. The California Souvenir Company, No. 1616 South Main street, reported its place entered, the thieves getting $1.35, a pair of shoes and a banjo.

Daughters of Veterans' Reception.

A reception was given last night at the home of A. J. Wilson on St Paul avenue, to the department officers of the Daughters of Veterans, the function being under the auspices of Jessie Lenton Fremont Tent of this city. The house and grounds were handsomely decorated, and the scene enlivened by the Veterans' Drum Corps. Mrs. Lizzie Bell Cross, department president, and her staff of a dozen officers were present as guests of honor, and were greeted by several hundred persons. An address of welcome was made by Mrs. Fannie D. Collins, to which response was made by Mrs. Cross.

BREVITIES.

To "Liner" Advertisers: Dating from June 1st, classified advertising in the Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday. Close calculations covering a period of several months develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1st. Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it. The present "want" ad rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper now more than 50,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad service. The Times-Mirror Company.

Remember the slogan: "Buy and Boost Home Products." For daily references, see page 11, Part II, of The Times, containing list of wide-awake manufacturers, under the heading "Made in Southern California." You will find there are manufacturers of necessities and luxuries here—manufacturers of things to eat and drink—things for the home, the factory, the office and the farm. Buy them! Try them! There are none better. Buy and Boost, and keep your money at home where it will do you and yours the most good!

FISH DEALERS PULL TOGETHER.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION TO BE FILED.

Body Is Said to Have Twenty-five Hundred Members, Composed of the Majority of the Piscatorial Merchants in the State—Seek to Break Lobster Monopoly.

Articles of incorporation for the California Fisheries Protective Association will be filed with the County Clerk today. The association claims 2500 members, composing the majority of the fish dealers in this State.

The stated purpose is to influence legislation in behalf of the dealer and consumer, and a fund of $10,000 in cash has already been subscribed to carry out the work the association expects to accomplish.

At present the dealers say that the game and fish laws are so stringent that it interferes with business. They do not oppose protection of fish and game, but oppose practical prohibition in dealing with certain varieties.

One thing they will make a fight for is lobsters. At present one dealer in Los Angeles has a monopoly of this trade because he has a concession from Mexico for the lobster catch on the coast of Lower California. The result is that all other dealers and consumers have to go to him for their salt water lobsters.

Another purpose of the association is to establish rapid transit freight for fish between the seaports and the inland cities. For Los Angeles such a system will be installed from Port Los Angeles, Redondo, San Pedro and Newport. Every seaport will have an agent of the association permanently stationed there.

At a meeting yesterday in the Merchants' Trust building the following officers were elected: Albert Siebold, representing the Western Fish Company, president; William Creciat, representing the Hanlman Fish Company, first vice-president; William Young of Young's Market, second vice-president, Joseph Ferrares and John Jacony of the Spaulding Fish Company and Frank Herald, directors; Wallace Wideman, secretary and counsel.

The association will be incorporated without capital stock, as it purports to be not an organization for profit. It expects it will accomplish results through the subscriptions of its members.

WAITERS CHARGED WITH POKER.

A squad of police last night raided the Waiters' Club at Second and Los Angeles streets and arrested six men on charges of gambling. R. W. Pyle, Albert Allen, F. Francio, William Dunn, Al Robson and R. Riedendean were locked up at the City Jail on charges of playing poker.

WATER STEAL, LAUNDRY HIT.

Inspector Says New Method Purloined Supply.

City Service Shut Off and Big Bill Presented.

Penalty to Fit Case Rests With City Attorney.

The largest unpaid water bill ever charged against a consumer of the Los Angeles water department is awaiting payment by the New Method Laundry Company, Sixth and San Julian streets. It amounts to $1725 and is an approximate charge for eighteen months' water supply alleged to have been surreptitiously taken from a main intended only to supply a fire-sprinkler system in emergencies.

The facts have been in the possession of the Water Board for over a week and it will probably be determined at the next session, after the City Attorney has made up his mind, just what to do in punishment of the company.

At present, all water connections with the laundry are shut off and will not be reopened until the bill is paid.

Coming into possession of some of the facts last week, Superintendent Mulholland decided to make an investigation. Accordingly Inspector George W. Reed and a witness were assigned to the work and they succeeded, in the judgment of the Water Board.

Two years ago the laundry company, of which John Morris is manager, applied for a six-inch main to supply its thermostat sprinkler system on the upper floors of the building. This main was to be distinct from its ordinary service pipe and was to be without a meter. The charge for such connections is $60 a year, regardless of any quantity of water a fire might require.

WANTED "T," NOT "L."

Officials of the water department recall that when this main was laid there was a request from the company that a "T" and not an "L" be used in making the connection with the upper floors. A "T" was put in according to the request, but it is also recalled that the installation of the whole sprinkler service was done reluctantly by the Water Board, for reasons made plain by the discoveries of Inspector Reed.

Last week Inspector Reed and his witness watched for an opportunity when the engineer at the laundry would be away from his station. Finding it, they slipped into the stable in the rear of the engine-room and locked the door after them, to prevent discovery or interruption. A careful search of the interior seemed a failure until a pile of manure and refuse in a corner was pushed aside. There a board covering was found. When lifted it showed that into a large concrete cistern water was pouring from the secret pipe leading from the "T" at the fire service main.

Reed took notes, made a diagram of the situation and reported back to Superintendent Mulholland.

WATER SHUT OFF.

Last Friday morning at 8 o'clock Mulholland sent word to Manager Morris that the water connections would be shut off at 9 o'clock. Promptly at that hour this programme was carried out and since then the laundry has been without any city water.

In the meantime, the approximate value of the water alleged to have been surreptitiously taken has been computed at over 17,000,000 gallons and the account of the company charged with $1725. As to whether a prosecution can or will be maintained, the City Attorney is yet to advise the board. A decision on that question will doubtless be made at next Monday's meeting.

BOARD AROUSED.

At its last meeting the board discussed the discovery and several members were in favor, it is said, of making an example of the offender. After the water was shut off the attorney for the company called on the water department to learn what the charges for unpaid service would be, but Auditor Anderson told him the amount had not been computed. After it was ascertained it was deemed best not to send a demand to the company.

The New Method company paid only a nominal water bill for its metered service. The smallness of this account, in comparison with those of other laundries, would have excited suspicion long ago but for the fact that the company has two deep wells from which it pumps part of its supply. The bi-monthly inspections of the department showed no irregularity, but the automatic sprinkler was not tested and its connections could not be observed because of their distance under ground.

Reed discovered that the cistern had

YOHN GETS FREEDOM.

Man Arrested as Accomplice of Monrovia Bank Robbers Released After Over Three Months.

George Yohn, who was arrested as an accomplice of Beatty, Martin and Sundin in the robbery of the Monrovia National Bank of $27,900, was given his freedom yesterday on motion of the District Attorney.

Deputy District Attorney Horton appeared before Justice Summerfield yesterday afternoon with Attorney Le Compte Davis, representing the prisoner, and made the formal motion which eliminates Yohn as a factor in one of the most sensational bank robberies ever committed on the Pacific Coast.

Attorney Davis hurried to the County Jail with the order, and Yohn was soon ready for a change of quarters. He received some gold and silver coin from the book-keeper, shook hands with the jailer, and hurried away.

"I have been here for three months and twenty-one days," remarked Yohn with a smile, "and you bet I'm glad to be able to go home."

"Have you any of that missing money buried away somewhere?" was asked of him.

"I wish I had," he replied, with a grin.

MISSOURI OUNCES.

LOAVES MARKED, MUST BE TODAY

BAKERS WILL OBEY THE LAW GOVERNING LABELS.

Ordinance Requiring the Name of the Baker and the Size of Each Piece to Be Shown on a Slip to Be Attached Goes Into Effect from Now On.

Having set her bread to rise thirty days ago Miss Los Angeles put it in the ovens very early this morning expecting to take it out bigger, if not better, than for many years past.

And the yeast she selected thirty days back was the ordinance of Councilman Dromgold requiring all loaves to bear the name of the baker and the weight of each loaf.

Just how good that yeast is may be discovered when the City Sealer of Weights and Measures, S. W. Green, begins his work of inspection under the new law. He has two assistants and he says they will all be busy seeing that the bread weighs what it purports to weigh in the figures each loaf will bear.

The ordinance applies to ALL bread except fancy bread and rolls weighing less than eight ounces.

For a violation, as to weight and name, and also for refusal to permit inspection by the City Sealer, the guilty baker, grocer or other shopkeeper may be fined from $10 to $100 or imprisoned for not less than five days nor more than 100 days, or both.

The antagonism of some of the bakers to the measure did not abate with its passage and is still in evidence. But with some others the ordinance is deemed salutary and many of the largest producers of the staff of life have prepared to meet the law more than half way. For the law does not require a standard loaf of thirty-two ounces; it merely requires that the weight, whatever it may be, be stamped on the loaf and that it must not be less than what the stamp says.

The Sealer will not be as active today as he will be later for many of the bakers have not been able to get their labels and stamps and will not be prepared to meet the law fully for several days. Green notified each of the 180 bakers of the date when the ordinance takes effect—which is today, July 22—and has received from each, he says, assurance that it will be complied with.

J. R. Newberry, one of the large bakers, called on Green yesterday and announced that he will put a full thirty-two-ounce loaf on the market at 10 cents. Others who sent the same word to Green were the Superior Baking Company, Petermann Baking Company, A. E. Gordon and the Murray Baking Company. The same companies will also put out a fourteen-ounce loaf for 5 cents. It is understood other large bakers will adhere to the twenty-six-ounce loaf for 10 cents and the fourteen-ounce for 5 cents.

In giving his reasons to Green, Newberry explained that he gets 140 two-pound loaves from a barrel of flour costing $7.50. The cost of producing the 140 loaves is $3, making the total $10.50. The same loaves will sell for $14, thus giving, according to Newberry, $3.50 a barrel profit, which he thinks is enough.

This is the commercial competitive standard Green has been anticipating and he thinks it will work advantageously. But after all, he says, quality and not quantity will govern and the public will be left to its own judgment as to which weight is the best and cheapest. The ordinance, it is expected, will accomplish much in making clear to each purchaser the quantity of bread he pays for and the quality is left for his own determination.

BULLET HITS.

SHOOTS BURGLAR WHO LEAVES GORY TRAIL.

Lon Goodman, aged about 30, was surrounded and captured at his house at No. 1529 West Seventeenth street at 2:15 o'clock this morning. He was lying in bed with his hand under cover. When compelled to withdraw his right arm it was wounded. The officers participating in the capture were Detectives George Home, Deputy Sheriff Yost, Deputy Sheriff Beckwith and Patrolman Bob Henderson.

Detective Home and Deputy Sheriff Yost were admitted to the house by Mrs. Goodman and with drawn guns they forced Goodman to show his arm. Goodman would make no statement.

WILLIAM A. FRIX, a clerk, living at the Brunson Hotel, No. 347 South Grand avenue, shot a burglar last night while the latter was attempting to force an entrance to a room occupied by Mrs. Julia Furner.

A number of residents of the neighborhood, detectives and patrolmen followed the trail of blood left by the fleeing burglar as far as Sixth and Olive streets. There it stopped and it is presumed the burglar boarded a car at that point.

Frix was on the second floor of the hotel reading before going to bed. He heard a slight noise and went out on the rear porch, which fronts on Bunker Hill avenue. There he saw a dark figure trying to force open the window of the room on the first floor. The burglar jumped over the fence and returned in a few moments with a box.

He mounted on this and was trying to jimmy the window when Frix, who had secured his revolver, leaned over the porch railing. "Throw up your hands or I will kill you," ordered Frix. The burglar turned and fled. Frix fired two shots. One lodged in the wall of the hotel, the other found its flying mark. A posse of residents was quickly organized and the trail of blood was taken up. It went in a zigzag direction from one street to another until it reached the intersection of Sixth and Olive streets. It stopped at the track crossing.

SLEUTHS NAB CLEVER THIEF.

"Model Neighbor's" Yard Is Planted to Loot.

Many Burglaries Charged to Whittier Graduate.

Operated as Telephone and Gas Inspector.

George Thompson, 30 years of age, handsome and well dressed, a former inmate of the Whittier Reform School and later a character actor in several western playhouses, was arrested yesterday at his home, No. 895 East Fortieth street, charged with twenty or more daylight burglaries.

The apprehension of Thompson is one of the most important of the year and today a dozen detectives will visit pawnshops and jewelry stores of the city in an effort to locate property he has stolen.

Goods valued at close to $4000 already have been recovered. It is estimated that the valuables taken will amount to twice that when they are finally gathered in.

Thompson went under the alias of L. J. Parker. He is a man of considerable polish, and is married and has two children, the younger being two months old.

He came to Los Angeles about three months ago. The police do not as yet know where he operated last, but are conducting a careful investigation.

Thompson rented a pretty little cottage on East Fortieth street and apparently settled down to a happy married life. He was a model citizen to all appearances and was well liked in the neighborhood. Two doors away from his home lived a patrolman, and Thompson frequently discussed burglaries, now alleged to have been committed by him, with this officer.

The young man always dressed in the height of style. He had a dress suit, a Tuxedo and a frock coat.

WORK PROVES HIM EXPERT.

Shortly after his arrival in the city, daylight burglaries were reported. These jobs were the work of an expert. The houses were invariably entered by means of a pass key and everything of value was taken. Home after home was robbed in this way.

Reports came in later from various sections regarding a young man who claimed to be an inspector of telephones and who acted in a suspicious manner.

Detectives Home and Ingram were detailed to the case. It was through their efforts and the assistance of Detective Chapman that Thompson was arrested yesterday morning.

The officers learned that the fake telephone inspector rode a bicycle from house to house. In some places it was learned he posed as a detective, in others as a representative of a gas company.

If the residents were out, he worked a pass key, entered the house and took whatever he could find. If there happened to be anyone at home he examined the telephone or gas meter and then departed.

The work was finally traced to Thompson. His wife had no idea of his doings. He departed every day and returned in the evening. She frequently saw him working in the back yard but paid no attention to him, as the care of her children required most of her time.

Yesterday morning, after watching the house, the detectives decided to lure Thompson outside before arresting him. Chapman went to a near-by house and telephoned to Thompson to meet him outside, pretending to be a neighbor.

When Thompson appeared he was taken in charge by the other officers. He refused to discuss the case in any way. He told the detectives that if they thought there was anything hidden about the premises, they would have to find it.

MUCH LOOT UNEARTHED.

Then occurred a thorough and remarkable search. The entire back yard was dug up and the dirt was sifted. In an abandoned cesspool a great quantity of old jewelery was found, together with the works of watches. In various corners of the yard other discoveries were made.

The officers were compelled to break out some of the brick foundation of the house before being able to crawl underneath, where they found dozens of watch cases and pieces of cheap jewelry. Watches, the cases of which were of filled gold, had been thrown under the house as rubbish.

When the detectives finally completed their search they had enough jewelry to fill two suitcases. It is believed that jewelry valued at several thousand dollars, taken by Thompson, will be found in local pawn shops and jewelry stores.

Eleven persons have identified a portion of the recovered jewelry as coming from their homes. There is a great quantity as yet unidentified.

Following is a list of homes from which jewelry was taken by Thompson, according to the statement of the detectives.

R. L. Cusner, No. 851 West Twenty-third street; C. A. Latham, No. 807 East Twenty-third street; E. J. Bennett, No. 2002 Magnolia street; C. F. Turner, No. 1816 Toberman street; F. H. Redpath, No. 4200 South Flower street; S. S. Culver, No. 4204 South Flower street; N. C. Johnson, No. 411 West Forty-first street; R. E. Michaelson, No. 3293 Woodlawn avenue; A. H. Mansur, No. 1129 East Twenty-second street; Mrs. Z. Contrim, No. 1004 East Twentieth street; George W. Gregory, No. 3912 South San Pedro street.

BOXES BLOCK TRAFIC.

A wagon piled high with boxes and barrels and drawn by a single horse was upset late yesterday afternoon at Fourth street and Broadway and the load was scattered broadcast over the street, blocking travel on all cars bound north, south, east and west, and interfering seriously with other traffic for quarter of an hour. Before the wreckage was cleared forty cars, and numerous automobiles and other vehicles were caught in the jam.

I. W. HELLMAN STARTS WEST.

Isaias W. Hellman, president of the Wells-Fargo Nevada National Bank of San Francisco and of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles, left New York Monday, and will be at Tahoe Friday, where he will remain two weeks before resuming his duties at the bank.

TELEGRAPH MEN COMING.

Salt Lake Official Instrumental in Bringing Hither the National Convention.

I. T. Dyer, superintendent of telegraph of the Salt Lake line, has just returned from Detroit, where he attended the convention of the Telegraph Suprintendents' Association of North America. While there he gained two honors, one in being elected vice-president of the association; the other in causing the body to vote to hold its convention in Los Angeles next year.

The West has only a small representation in the membership of the organization, and Mr. Dyer found a strong sentiment in favor of an eastern city as the next place of meeting. After a lively campaign, however, he won over a number of members from the Middle West, and when the vote was taken, Los Angeles was away ahead.

There are 800 members of the association and probably 500 of them will attend the convention, which probably will be held next May. The exact date will not be determined until it is known whether the usual Fiesta will be held in that month.

COMPTON-WILLOWS PIECE IN SPECIFICATIONS.

Highway Commission Completes Them and Next Monday They Will Be Presented to the Supervisors With a Request to Advertise for Bids for Construction.

Specifications were completed yesterday at a meeting of the County Highway Commission for the construction of Long Beach Boulevard from Compton to Willows Station and will be presented to the Board of Supervisors next Monday with the request that bids be advertised for.

This section of the good roads system now to be built is the main part of the highway between this city and Long Beach and is looked upon as one of the most important stretches of the thoroughfares to be constructed under the bond issue of $2,500,000.

"We hope to have the entire highway between this city and Long Beach completed by next winter," said Chairman Bixby yesterday.

There is only one hitch in sight. That is of certain property owners between Compton and Florence at the city limits who refuse to donate or sell at a reasonable price the land necessary to widen the proposed boulevard to 100 feet. Condemnation proceedings will be commenced at once in the Superior Court to get this strip.

As for the small section of the boulevard between Willows and Long Beach, this contract will be awarded later when Long Beach is ready to coöperate in its building. The plan is that this short section and the work within the city limits of Long Beach proceed at the same time, thus making one job of it.

In preparation for work on this short section the Long Beach Water Company will remove its pipes, now along the right of way, so that the boulevard can be made of an equal width from Los Angeles to the sea.

Besides action on the Long Beach Boulevard specifications by the Supervisors on Monday they will also open bids for the construction of the new Wilshire Boulevard from the city limits to the Soldiers' Home.

Action will also be taken for the reëlection of Chairman Bixby to the Highway Commission or to fill his place with some other man.

Yesterday the Supervisors sent a note to the Advisory Committee asking for its recommendations in the matter of filling the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Mr. Bixby as a commissioner.

BITTER.

BOY'S SLAYER FEARS DEATH.

Life of Mitchell in Peril Through Thayers?

Family Feud May Follow the Acquittal of Youth.

District Attorney Asked to Prevent Bloodshed.

Freed from the shadow of the gallows by the unqualified verdict of "not guilty," found by the jury before Judge Willis at the end of his second trial for the killing of young Cecil Thayer, William C. Mitchell is trembling in fear of a violent death at the hands of the brothers of his victim.

Clarence C. Thayer, father of Cecil, is heartbroken over the verdict which set free the youth who killed his boy. Yesterday he was wandering around the Hall of Justice and in front of the office of the District Attorney, apparently tring to make up his mind to do something. He is bitter and holds that there is no longer any protection in the law.

There were festivities Tuesday night at the Mitchell homestead, No. 301 Ghess street, which lasted until early yesterday morning. But the reaction came later when young Mitchell was told not to leave his home because the brothers of young Thayer had threatened to shoot him on sight.

One of the counsel for Mitchell called at the office of the District Attorney yesterday and asked for the protection of his client from the Thayers.

The attorneys, as well as the Mitchells and their friends, assert their belief that the acquittal of William may result in a deadly feud between the two families.

Mitchell proved his readiness with a gun when he walked up to the young man he had seen so often in his home with his sister Ethel, and shot him five times.

THAYERS GUN MEN.

But the Thayer boys are also handy with guns. They come of militant stock. Their father is a veteran of the Civil War, and both of his older boys have been in the army, one of them serving with distinction in the Philippines. It was stated yesterday that they have sworn vengeance upon the man who shot down their younger brother.

The mother of Mitchell's victim is prostrated. Almost with her last strength Mrs. Thayer took the witness stand in the trial just ended and testified to certain facts which tended to show that in spite of the known relations between her son and Ethel Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and her daughter had called on the Thayers at the tent-house and were friendly not long before the shooting.

At the office of the District Attorney the attorneys for Mitchell stated that they could bring evidence to prove that the Thayer boys had publicly asserted that if William Mitchell went without punishment for killing Cecil, they would shoot him on sight.

Ansel J. Mitchell, father of William, is a crack shot. He lived in Arizona for years, and has a small armory in his house—rifles, shotguns and revolvers. William, just freed, was a cowboy for years.

One of the questions asked by the Thayers is: "If Mitchell had a right to shoot Cecil because he was the lover of Ethel, why has he not the right to shoot her other lovers, and why doesn't he?"

The District Attorney promised the attorneys for young Mitchell that every legal effort will be made to protect his life.

"Nash" Thayer, older brother of Cecil, is understood to be particularly ex-

WORM TURNS.

MRS. DRIGGS SCORES IN FORGERY TRIAL.

STRANGE complication cropped up in the trial of Mrs. Gertrude Driggs before Judge Davis and a jury in the Superior Court yesterday. The woman was accused of forging the signature of the late John J. Charnock to a lease for 137 acres near The Palms, valued at $135,000.

Charles W. Ackerman, her attorney in the transaction, turned State's evidence and told of taking the acknowledgment of Charnock's signature without seeing Charnock. Bank officials and other experts, as well as old friends of Charnock, testified that the signature was a forgery.

Yesterday the prosecution, represented by Deputy District-Attorney Ford and Attorney Haas, placed two experts in handwriting on the stand. They explained how, in their opinion, a forgery was accomplished. It looked bad for Mrs. Driggs, who sat smiling in the courtroom beside her daughter, and talking to her attorneys, former Judge Noyes, Johnstone Jones and R. C. Noleman.

President Isaacs of the Woodbury Business College was the first expert. He declared that the signature to the lease was a forgery.

Then J. W. Wood took the stand and told the jury that the signature was a forgery—that it had been forged by some person who had traced a genuine signature of Charnock's above the place on the lease where the real signature should have been, then filling in the markings with ink. At this point the prosecution rested its case.

HITS PROSECUTION.

The first witness the defense called was a newspaper reporter. He testified that he wanted to get a facsimile of the signature for his paper, had taken the original lease and with a blunt instrument had traced over the signature on the lease and filled in the markings with ink.

This was a bombshell in the camp of the prosecution—the testimony of the expert, as based on the depression in the paper under the alleged false signature, was apparently knocked out.

It was such a victory for the defense that Mrs. Driggs laughed aloud and whispered something to her daughter that caused a responsive smile.

Then court adjourned to the California Hospital to take the testimony of Mrs. Anna Hill—the star witness for the defense—a name of strange omen to Mrs. Driggs, for her last court experience here was in connection with the Charles Hill case, where she fought for but lost a fortune.

Judge Davis, Court Clerk Reagan and the twelve jurymen, with the attorneys and defendant and her friends, all went to the hospital, where Judge Davis formally convened court in the private room where Mrs. Hill is lying sick.

It was a curious scene—the sick woman lying in her bed propped with pillows, the judge beside her and clerk and court reporter also near-by, while the attorneys lined up on one side and the jury took place on the other, with the defendant and friends near the foot of the bed.

Attorney Noyes, for Mrs. Driggs, conducted the direct examination and asked the questions which brought out the story of the witness. She testified that she wanted to see Mrs. Driggs about publishing some music, called upon her February 27 last, and found her ready to go to The Palms.

WOMAN WITNESS HELPS.

Continuing, Mrs. Hill stated that when they reached the home of Charnock they did not want to go in because he had a strange man there. Charnock came out on the porch.

"I have that lease here for you to sign, Mr. Charnock," said Mrs. Driggs, according to the witness.

After a few words between them testified Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Driggs held a ledger or blank book on which Mr. Charnock placed the lease and signed it while he was standing up on his porch.

It is asserted by the witnesses for the prosecution that Charnock always refused to write or sign anything while standing up in his last years, on account of his feebleness.

But all the cross-examination of Deputy District-Attorney Ford failed to shake the testimony of the witness. When he saw how the ordeal was affecting the sick woman, Ford gallantly cut short the examination.

This second victory for the defense apparently had an effect on the jury and Mrs. Driggs was jubilant.

If the defendant wins her case in the criminal department of the Superior Court and is acquitted of the charge of forgery, it is believed it will have a strong effect on the civil action for the cancellation of the lease. This action has been brought by the heirs to the Charnock estate, valued at $213,000, to clear the title lands of the estate from the cloud in the title caused by this lease.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Pacific Electric Company asked the Council yesterday to reduce its assessment of $4,476,000 to $2,000,000 on the ground that its stock value is practically nothing.

The final account of the estate of Capt. Auble, who was murdered by Carl Sutherland, was allowed by Judge Rives, and distribution ordered. The amount for widow and children is $2106.42.

Judge James spent yesterday trying to disentangle the marital troubles of Rix and Edna B. Jordan, formerly of Santa Monica, and the task will be resumed today.

Mrs. M. E. Curry of Long Beach, put up a strong fight in Judge Rives' court, yesterday, against the appointment of a guardian of her property and person.

William A. and J. A. Baxter of Monrovia were pitted against each other in Judge Hervey's court yesterday. Their mother had deeded four lots to William A., on condition that he care for her; the other son brings an action against the mother to recover $907.21, alleged to be due on account of her keeping.

AT THE CITY HALL.

TAX VALUATION IS COMPLETED.

COUNCIL WILL PASS ON ALL FINAL ASSESSMENTS TODAY.

Dunn Testifies That Millions of Pacific Electric Stock Are Worth Comparatively Nothing and Asks a Big Reduction in Assessor's Figures—Budget Next.

Unless the orators get too busy today the City Council, sitting as a Board of Equalization, will adjourn after acting on all the matters taken under advisement, which include most of the heavy corporation assessments. Sessions have been held daily since July 13 and over two hundred petitions for reductions have been heard. The next big job is fixing the budget and tax levy.

The last of the big corporations to be heard was the Pacific Electric Company, for which Attorney Dunn appeared yesterday. His petition asked that the assessment on the franchise to transact business in the city, fixed by the Assessor at $4,476,000, be reduced to $2,000,000.

In support of the petition Dunn said the Assessor had used the right method in computing the assessment in basing it on the value of the stock of the corporation, aggregating $10,000,000, but that he had seriously erred in his estimate of the value. The admission that the Assessor's method was right was not in strict keeping with the contentions of other corporations that have asked reductions and surprised the Council just a little bit.

Explaining where the Assessor had erred in fixing the market value of the stock Dunn testified, under oath, that he was present three and one-half years ago when the J. W. Hellman block of stock changed hands and that it brought only $1.30 a share, though the par value is $100. He said the stock had never paid a dividend and was worth $1.30 only because that amount represented the assessments paid on it; likewise a cent a share would have been its value.

Dunn also explained that the large holdings in this stock of Henry E. Huntington resulted from his underwriting the bonds of the company.

"Mr. Huntington was one man who had faith in Los Angeles," said Dunn, "and he guaranteed our bond issue that the extensive electric system could be constructed. For this he received a large share of the stock which has not only not paid a dividend, but has been subject to frequent assessment. The stockholders have had to go into their pockets constantly to keep this great system abreast of the progress of the city."

The Council voted to take the petition under advisement.

Dunn also asked that the assessment on the buildings at Ascot Park, owned by the Los Angeles Land Company, be reduced to $4000. An attempt to sell them to a wrecking company had brought a bid of only $6000 and he deemed them unfit for any purpose except a race meeting which may not be held under the laws.

In the afternoon W. M. Bowen, representing the University of Southern California, asked a reduction of the assessment of $105,000 to $52,000 on the ground that the university is struggling to maintain itself and that its tuition income barely pays one-third of the expense the remainder being contributed by private sources.

Wallace advocated the reduction on the ground that it was hardly fair to burden educational institutions with heavy assessments and it was conspicuously unfair to tax the generosity of men who supported them. He also said he favored reducing the assessments on St. Vincent's College and Occidental College proportionately on the theory that all should be treated alike. And in this the Council concurred though neither had asked a reduction.

This is the first time either of the three colleges have asked a reduction.

An effort of the Good Samaritan Hospital to obtain a reduction on the ground that it was a charitable institution was not well received by the Council, though the request was taken under advisement. A similar request for a reduction in the assessment of the Young Women's Boarding Home, No. 514 South Grand avenue, owned by the Salvation Army, was taken under advisement.

O. T. Johnson asked reductions on his buildings at Fourth and Broadway and Tenth and Main and was refused, but got one of $1500 on an unimproved lot.

Wants to Move.

The Civil Service Commission, which occupies unpretentious quarters on the third floor of the City Hall, where one lone window furnishes light and air, is making its third annual attempt to move. It has asked for $900 in the new budget for office rent and if it is allowed will forsake the City Hall for a suite of rooms in a near-by office building. Consequently the Board of Public Works is having applications from the homeless city commissions asking to take the place of the Civil Service Commission under the recall roof.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

I. de la Pena, who recently was acquitted of passing a fictitious check on a downtown business concern, was rearrested yesterday on the charge of forgery preferred by officers of the Security Savings Bank. The complainants allege that the prisoner passed a check on the bank for $16, signed with the name of A. M. Steichen.

HARBOR OF THE FUTURE IS DELINEATED ON THIS MAP.

MEMBERS of the San Pedro Consolidation Committee are preparing to show the possibilities of improving the harbor under the terms of consolidating this city with San Pedro and Wilmington. They propose to do it by printing and distributing a magnificent map delineating all the improvements to both the inner and outer harbors when $16,000,000 shall have been expended after consolidation.

The engraver has already finished his work on the map. Proofs were submitted to the Campaign Committee of the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee yesterday by John T. Gaffey, M. L. Campbell, E. D. Seward and Capt. Hansen of the San Pedro committee, and the proposal received the indorsement of the Los Angeles committee.

As soon as the maps can be printed 25,000 copies will be distributed in Los Angeles and San Pedro and Wilmington in the general plan of education of the people to the great possibilities of the harbor under consolidation. The work of distribution will be undertaken by the San Pedro committee which has the matter in hand.

In addition to a general view of the entire harbor, showing slips, docks and warehouses with the city itself built to the very water's edge, the map contains extracts from reports of Capt. Fries and other eminent engineers, on the harbor project.

The handsomely-bound copy of the report of the Los Angeles Consolidation Committee, which was prepared especially for President Taft, was forwarded to the Chief Executive yesterday. Similar copies of the report are being prepared for Secretary of War Dickinson, Gen. Marshall, Chief of Engineers, U.S.A., and ex-President Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt's copy will be forwarded to him in Africa.

Accompanying the copy sent to President Taft was a letter signed by Secretary Fleming of the Consolidation Committee. The letter says:

"I am directed by the Consolidation Committee of the city of Los Angeles, Cal., to present to you the inclosed copy of their report, and in doing this, permit me to call your attention to the future plans of this ambitious city. Your attention is also called to the fact that this city has increased 200 per cent. in population since the census of 1900.

"Within five years we will bring to this city, at a cost of $23,000,000, which has been fully provided for by a bond issue, a supply of clear, cold, sparkling water from the mountains, 214 miles away, adequate for the future great City of the Angels, which will enable us to build one of the future great municipally-owned and controlled light and power plants of the world.

"Within three years this county will construct a permanent system of macadamized highways, at a cost of $3,500,000 which has been fully provided for by a bond issue, connecting this city with every town and village in the county, and affording the connecting link by which at any season of the year you can travel over our State with comfort and safety.

"As you will observe by our report, the plan of consolidation means a great seaport city with ample resources to develop San Pedro harbor which, under municipal control, must take its place among the great harbors of the world, and thus will Los Angeles become the greatest residential, manufacturing maritime city of the western Coast.

"Trusting that at no distant day we may have the honor and the very great pleasure of affording you the opportunity of a personal inspection of our city, I am," etc.

BROTHER SEEKS TO STOP LEVY.

FAMILY SUIT FOR MONEY OF THE MOTHER.

Monrovia Business Men in Struggle Over Collection of Part of Cost of Keeping the Woman Who Reared Them—Evident Lack of Fraternal Feeling.

William A. and J. A. Baxter, business men of Monrovia, fought for their supposed rights in Judge Hervey's court yesterday. The struggle will be continued today as the evidence was not completed.

The action discloses a rather unusual situation in the several Baxter households. The trial is the offshoot of a hearing in Judge Rives's court several years ago, when the two brothers, assisted by another brother, John Baxter, contended over the question as to which of the trio should be appointed guardian of their aged mother, Elizabeth M. Baxter. That trial resulted in the court appointing William A. Baxter to the guardianship, but the case was bitterly fought.

The present suit is brought by William A. Baxter against J. A. Baxter and Sheriff Hammel, but the latter is only brought into the case in his official capacity. It is an effort on the part of J. A. Baxter, one of the brothers, to collect from his mother, Elizabeth M. Baxter, $907.21, alleged to be due on account of moneys advanced to her, and the expense of her keeping previous to the old lady going to the home of the other brother, William A. Baxter, to spend the balance of her days.

On March 9, 1906, the mother, who owned four lots in Monrovia, estimated to be worth about $3000, transferred them to William A. Baxter, for the nominal figure of $10, coupled with the agreement that as a further consideration William A. Baxter should keep her the balance of her life, and provide her with what is necessary for her comfort. In pursuance of that contract the mother went to the home of William A. Baxter, where she now resides.

But this alleged discrimination on the part of the mother did not please J. A. Baxter, and he commenced suit October 17, 1906, against his mother to recover the sum above mentioned. He averred that a large amount of the indebtedness was for money advanced to his mother in the time she had made her home with him. On February 5, 1907, the action was tried and judgment was rendered against the old lady in favor of the son, J. A. Baxter, followed by a levy of the four lots in question, it being represented that the transfer to the other brother was void, and that she really still owned the property. The action partially heard yesterday is to restrain Sheriff Hammel from proceeding to sell the lots in accordance with the decree of the court, it being alleged that William A. Baxter is the real owner.

The hearing hangs largely on the point whether Mrs. Baxter was of sound mind and disposing memory when she deeded the lots to William A. Baxter. One of the witnesses testified that Mrs. Baxter told him she gave the property to William because he had always been her friend and that she could not trust her other son, J. A. Baxter. Undue influence on the old lady was alleged and an effort was made to prove it, but with little success.

Mrs. Baxter, over whom the trouble arose, was not present, being physically unable to attend court, but the two brothers glared at each other and gave evidence of very strong feeling in the matter.

JOYS OF JORDAN.

EVIDENCED IN DIVORCE COURT.

A large delegation of the citizens of Santa Monica were in Judge James's court yesterday, either in the role of witnesses or eager listeners, to hear the testimony in the contested divorce case brought by Edna B. Jordan against Rix Jordan. The wife alleged extreme cruelty and adultery; the husband came right back with a cross complaint, in which he set out desertion, and asked for a decree. The Jordans for some time conducted one of the swell boarding-houses in Santa Monica, but for several years have resided in Los Angeles. The acts complained of in the petition, and sought to be proven by the testimony, took place in the beach city and vicinity. The hearing was not concluded last evening.

An effort was made by the defendant to knock out the case because the wife had taken one of the children of the couple out of the jurisdiction of the court, but counsel for the plaintiff assured the court that the child would be returned and made subject to any order that might be issued.

The testimony showed that in July, 1904, the husband had attended a banquet in Santa Monica and did not return until after midnight, leaving the wife at home in bed very sick; that he often mistreated her and used offensive language. But the crux of her allegations appeared in the charge that in October, 1905, the defendant took Laura West, an unmarried woman, to a tent house on a ranch in Burr Cañon, north of Sawtelle, where they remained two days, and that there was but one room in the house. Not only that but Rix, old boy, was in the habit of allowing Miss West to sit on his knees in the presence of the wife, and she did not think that was allowed under the plain language of the marriage ceremony.

In the cross-complaint a general denial is entered, except to admit that on a certain Sunday evening he did remain in the tent house with Miss West, but that it was raining so hard they could not return to Santa Monica; besides there were two rooms in the domicile, a fact with which the plaintiff was well acquainted. Defendant also admitted that he held Miss West on his knees on many occasions, but declares this was with the consent of his wife.

Serious charges are made in the cross-complaint affecting Mrs. Jordan and a boarder, one Sherman, who it is claimed took the lady to the swimming baths and displayed undue familiarity while they were in the water. It is further alleged that they walked together late at night along the beach, and then came home and created a racket by wrestling over the floor of the Jordan home; that the plaintiff wore some of the shoes, neckties, coats, shirts, etc., belonging to Sherman, and that she put in a great deal of her time mending his clothes and making fancy pillows for his delectation.

WIFE GETS SHARE.

HOW COURT MANAGED IT.

In the adjudication of divorce cases Judge James always cares for the interests of the litigants, especially so if the plaintiff in the case is one who seems to be deserving and needs all the assistance the law can give her. A case in point occurred yesterday. The action of Leila F. Bell against Jesse M. Bell, was on, and the testimony was sufficient to give the wife an interlocutory decree on the complaint of a failure to provide. It was not enough, however, to establish extreme cruelty. It was therefore impossible to give her the property involved, a small lot in Ocean Park, appraised at $300.

"But I will fix that," said the court. "The decree for divorce will be granted, and an order made that the property involved is community property. An allowance will be made for $25 a month for the support of the wife and child for three months, and after that $15 a month for the support of the minor child. Let a receiver be appointed, to sell the lot, and the money applied to the payment of the alimony ordered. That will give this woman all of the proceeds. Call the next case."

And the plaintiff was the happiest little woman seen in the divorce section of the Superior Court in a long time. Even the baby in her arms crowed her exultation. The testimony disclosed the fact that Bell had treated his wife and child in a most shameful manner for several years.

AUBLE ESTATE.

The first and final account of the estate left by Capt. Walter H. Auble, the victim of the deadly gun of Carl Sutherland, September 9, last, was filed in the Probate Court, yesterday, by the executrix under the will, Florence J. Auble, the widow. The amount chargeable to the executrix is $2300, consisting of the following items: Inventory and appraisement, $2150; benefit police fund, $100; returned subscription Merchants' Insurance Company, $50. The expenditures of the executrix were $193.58, leaving $2106.42 for distribution among the heirs.

The property listed in the report consists of block O, in the Santa Monica Commercial Company's tract, valued at $500; lot 12, Hollywood Cemetery, $150, and interest in lot 23 and part of lot 21, West Adams street, known as trust No. 1772, held and executed by the Title Insurance and Trust Company, $1500.

The heirs to the property under the terms of the will are the widow, the daughters, Julia and Gladys, and the son, Earle Auble. The widow alleges that she has been appointed guardian of the children, and is competent to assume control of their holdings in the estate of their father. An order in compliance with the allegations of the petition was made by Judge Rives, and the property was distributed among the heirs, closing the account.

PROPOSED GUARDIANSHIP.

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT.

The hearing of the action brought by Dr. R. H. Chittenden of Long Beach, to have a guardian appointed for the care and custody of the person and property of Mrs. M. E. Curry, was concluded before Judge Rives yesterday. A decision will not be rendered for some days.

Mrs. Curry is 65 years of age, and her interest in the estate left by her brother, Joseph D. Hacker, is estimated to be worth from $10,000 to $30,000. In the opinion of many of her friends she is not competent to manage her holdings, but that idea is vigorously resented by her. She made a strong reply to the petition asking for the appointment of Dr. Chittenden as her guardian, and in her answer denied that she is in such mental condition as to need a guardian or conservator; that if she is a fit subject for such attention at the hands of the court that Dr. Chittenden is not the man to appoint as he owes her $3, and he declared he was unable to pay the bill; that as he was once in possession of a comfortable estate and had frittered it away, being now practically penniless, he is not good material for a guardian.

The examination of Mrs. Curry showed a great diversity in her mental condition. At one time she would be talking about being controlled by spirits, then again, she would discuss matters with extreme lucidity and clearness. There is much difference of opinion at Long Beach in regard to the merits of the case, and the opinion of Judge Rives is awaited by the people there with much interest. Mrs. Curry has been a character of the town for some time, and has many friends there.

ANNULMENT ASKED.

TWO MARRIED BEFORE.

Two suits for annulment of marriage were filed in the Superior Court, yesterday, rather an unusual run of that sort of litigation. In one case Maude L. Wright sought to be relieved of William M. Wright as her life partner. She alleged in her petition that they were married in Omaha, December, 1908, but that it has since been discovered that at that time the husband had a wife living from whom he had never been divorced. She further asserts that Wright has been shadowing, hounding and telephoning her, to her great distress of mind, and she wants the strong arm of the law invoked in her behalf, and that her husband be enjoined from molesting her in any way. She also asks that she be restored to her maiden name, Maude L. McCulloch.

The other applicant is Wallace S. Schlessinger, who petitions for the annulment of his marriage to Eliza Louise Schlessinger. The Schlessingers were married in San Diego, October 27, 1908, and the husband alleges that his wife had a husband living at the time, that her real name was Eliza Louise Mann, and that her mate was Ernest P. Mann.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

JAIL FOR BEN. Judge Davis yesterday sentenced Ben McClain to the county jail for sixty days, a jury having found him guilty of an assault. McClain is a colored man and seemed well satisfied with the judgment of the court. It might easily have been more severe.

NATURALIZATIONS. Judge Wilbur sat as a court of naturalization yesterday, and the following applicants for American citizenship passed the examination, and were given their final papers: Willian Taylor, Lars Hensen, Alexander Foster, Theodore Besbeck, Walter Hadel, Adolph J. Jubett, John Erickson, Gustav Ilsen, Henry J. Webb, F. Borgia, Clifford Davis, Alfred Fraser, John McConville, Francis McConville, George E. Virgo, Arthur M. Cleveland, Edward Viero, Amos M. Schneider, Joseph H. Schultze and Neil St. Clare.

ACTION IN DAMAGES. J. C. C. Gilbert instituted a suit in the Superior Court yesterday against the Stoddard-Dayton Motor Company a corporation, A. C. Lusby and Fred Wallace, for $20,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by being run down by an auto operated by the last two defendants, at the corner of Ninth and Main streets, December 10, last.

INCORPORATIONS. Papers for the following incorporations were filed in the office of the county clerk, yesterday: Oak Hill Ranch Company, capital stock, $25,000, by Leopold Graefner, Ernest D. Foster, Thornton Alexander, Henry Seibel and Edgar M. Graefner; Citrus Belt Water Company, capital stock, $35,000, by S. S. Scofield, E. E. Pollard, W. J. Dennis, James Slauson, J. E. Daly, John Quick and W. H. Cox; Ecuadorian Petroleum Company, capital stock, $50,000, by H. S. Wilson, W. A. Parker, F. A. Barnes, J. W. Beam and W. R. Buckner; Conduit Threading Device Company, capital stock, $20,000, by J. M. Edelin, Frank Crawford, W. S. Windham, R. G. Tyler, Elmer F. Moody, W. A. Arey and Charles Scurlock.

TWO SMALL ESTATES. A petition for the probate of the will of George Oscar Rayder, was filed yesterday. The property bequeathed is worth $4471, and it all goes to the wife of the testator, Ida Russell Rayder. A similar paper was filed in the matter of the will of James B. Taylor, who left an estate of $1000 to Andrew Dougan and his wife Margaret, with the proviso that if they should care to dispose of the property the proceeds be divided equally in thirds between the Dougans and their daughter, Mary Dougan.

HIGHER COURT RULES ON GRIFFITH PARK LAND.

Sale for Unpaid Taxes of Piece of Property Within the Territory Given to the City Is Declared to Be Void—Other Decisions from Appellate Bench.

Twelve decisions were handed to the clerk of the District Court of Appeal by the justices of that court, yesterday. It was a forerunner of the coming summer vacation for this court.

The justices desire to take their vacations during parts of the months of August and September, and for this reason they refrained from filing any decisions from June 10 till yesterday, so that the presence of members of the Supreme Court may not be required for the purpose of considering petitions for rehearing between the first Monday in August and the second Monday in September, the time contemplated for their vacations.

The law provides that petitions for rehearing of decisions by the District Court of Appeal shall be determined by the Supreme Court within sixty days after judgment is pronounced by the former courts.

After calling its calendar next week, the District Court of Appeal will assume a state of inactivity until the second Monday in September. But one regular motion day, that of the fourth Monday in August, will then be passed.

Decisions in cases filed yesterday were:

Tu Junga Company vs. Barclay, et al., order affirmed.

Zenda M. & M. Co. vs. Tilm, judgment affirmed.

Hall vs. Bartlett, et al., judgment affirmed.

Long vs. American Surety Company, appeal dismissed.

Kleinpeter vs. Castro, et al., judgment affirmed.

Carter vs. Fox, judgment reversed.

Proud vs. Strain, order affirmed.

Smith vs. City of Los Angeles, judgment affirmed.

Fenn vs. Clark, order reversed.

Reed vs. Sefton, order affirmed.

Potts vs. Knerr, judgment and order reversed.

Jackson vs. Southern Pacific Company, et al., judgment and order affirmed.

Several of these decisions relate to matters pertaining to sales of real estate, and do not appear to be of special general importance. But, hidden away within the pile, is one in which the city has a direct interest. It refers to land in Griffith Park. By the decision the city will hold the land which J. H. Smith believed he had acquired through purchase from the State.

This case was appealed from the local Superior Court, where it was tried before Judge Monroe. The action was one instituted by the plaintiff, J. H. Smith, against the city and Griffith J. Griffith, to quiet title.

Smith's claim to title rested upon the sale of the land for non-payment of taxes. It appears that it was assessed for taxation in 1895, and was about two years earlier deeded to the city by Griffith J. Griffith, and that the city has since held peaceable possession. But the attempted sale by the State because the taxes were unpaid was made July 2, 1900, and, the time for redemption expiring without any action toward redeeming it, the land was sold to Smith.

The principal question involved was whether the land was described in the assessment with sufficient clearness for its identification. The trial court impliedly found that the property was not sufficiently identified and that the city had maintained quiet and peaceable possession of the land for five years prior to the beginning of this action. The Appellate Court decision says:

"We are of the opinion that for the reason that the property was not assessed by a description sufficient for identification, the assessment and all proceedings thereunder were void, and the plaintiff was not shown to have any title or interest in the property, and the findings of the trial court in that regard must be sustained."

CHAMBERS USES BAIL TO PAY A HEAVY FINE.

Man Who Advertised for Stenographer and Made Indecent Proposals to Young Woman Who Responded to the Advertisement Receives Sentence.

With his pretty wife standing at his side and lending him encouragement John Chambers yesterday faced Police Justice Fredericksen and heard pronounced on him a sentence of $100 fine or 100 days in jail on the charge of vagrancy.

When sentence was imposed Chambers at once asked that the bail money be applied to pay the fine. He left the courtroom with his wife.

Chambers was charged with having rented a room in a downtown building, advertising for a stenographer and making indecent proposals to young women who applied for the position.

"Butch" and Clara Tilley.

"Butch" and Clara Tilley were arraigned before Police Justice Rose yesterday on the charge of running a disorderly house at No. 516 South Spring street. The house was raided last week and several young women there were arrested for vagrancy. The Tilleys were absent at the time of the raid and remained in hiding. They were arrested Tuesday night in the Waterville rooming-house at Seventh street and Maple avenue.

Drink Dispensers Fined.

John Bodeman, proprietor of a drug store at Temple street and Broadway, was fined $100 yesterday by Police Justice Williams for selling liquor without a license. G. F. Shreyer, a clerk, was fined $50 for the same offense. The evidence showed that liquors could be obtained on the presentation of a card furnished to customers by the proprietor or the clerk.

Chased by Japs.

M. Rodriguez, charged with burglary, was arraigned before Police Justice Fredericksen yesterday and his examination was set for July 22. According to the complaints Rodriguez entered the home of K. Kiyhara at No. 113 North Central avenue, discarded his old clothes, donned a suit of new clothes and started to leave the house. As he did so he was seen by Kiyhara, who gave chase. Other Japanese joined Kiyhara and, after a pursuit of several blocks Rodriguez was caught and detained by the Japs until he could be turned over to Patrolman Fitzgerald.

HIGH HEELS FATAL AGAIN.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Mrs. Arthur W. Teele, who lives in an apartment-house at No. 422 West Eighth avenue, fell fifty feet into an areaway from the window of her suite yesterday and received internal injuries which may cause her death. Mrs. Teele was wearing high-heeled slippers and one of them caught in a rug and threw her forward. The window was low and she tumbled out.

APPEAL FOR SAFETY.

Deputy Dist.-Atty. John G. North, who conducted single-handed the first trial, which resulted in a disagree-ment, and was, with Deputy Dist.-Atty. Horton, in charge of the second trial, confirmed last evening the application for protection for young Mitchell from the Thayers.

"It looks to me as if the verdict of this jury is very likely to start a fam-ily feud," said North. "It has been re-ported to this office that threats were made some time ago by the brothers of the deceased, that if William Mitch-ell should escape justice as a result of his trial for murder, they would shoot Mitchell on sight.

"The two trials of Mitchell have cost the county of Los Angeles thousands of dollars, and it may be that still more costly litigation will follow as a result of this verdict.

"If another murder trial should be necessary it would not be a strange coincidence if some of these same jury-men were called upon to pass upon the guilt or innocence of the slayer of William Mitchell.

"If any evidence can be presented to this office, however, concerning the threats reported to have been made, immediate action will be taken to at least place the proper parties under bonds to keep the peace."

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

MORE WELLS FOR VENTURA.

DEVELOPMENT SHOULD BRING BIGGER OUTPUT.

New Company Reopens Three Old Holes and Gets Twenty Barrels of Thirty Gravity Daily—Three Rigs Up in Santa Paula Canyon by That Many Companies.

Exploitation of the Ventura county fields continues, and more attention is turning that way.

The Paula Oil Company, owned chiefly by some of the large stock-holders of the Palmer at Santa Ma-ria, has acquired 180 acres in Santa Paula Canon with three ancient wells, drilled about twenty years ago and shut in for some ten years, about 160 feet in depth, which are to be cleaned and pumped. One of them has al-ready been fixed and the indications are that they will yield an aggregate of about twenty barrels daily of 30 gravity petroleum. A standard rig is starting to drill a deep hole.

The Hill Top, a Santa Paula com-pany, in which B. and H. H. Yonkin of that town are leading stockholders, is just spudding on eighty acres two miles from the Paula and near the Clark & Sherman well. It has no wells on the land.

The Hillside Crude is cleaning an old well and starting a rig to drill its first new one. Dr. J. J. O'Brien of this city, the organizer of this company, has just sold his interest to Mr. Burroughs of Santa Paula, for-merly with the Union. Dr. O'Brien is seriously ill and has given up all busi-ness pursuits.

For the last year or more there has been very little or no change in Ven-tura county's average output, month by month, but the development under way and starting ought to change be-fore long and by 1910 the old Ventura fields may be showing a substantial gain in production.

IN NORTH KERN.

NEW AND OLD PROPERTIES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, July 21.—On 13-27-28, in the north end of the Kern River field, the Kern Star spudded yester-day afternoon for its initial bid for luck. This is one of the newer com-panies and the drill is dropping under the direction of Superintendent Fran-cis Smatheran. The lease takes in the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of the section.

The Cleveland brought in its third new well yesterday afternoon on Sec-tion 3, in the same field, with an ini-tial production of about 100 barrels. This well is down 975 feet. The loca-tion is on the old Vulcan property. The new well is producing about the same quantity as the two new wells previously reported. The company is rigging for another new string and two new rigs are being purchased for operation within a few weeks. The last well was placed under the pump last night. This makes a total of four wells on this section under the same company's management. These wells required an average of only twenty-one days to reach the grease. The gravity of the new find is about 13½.

California Midway's new well is down 2145 feet, in blue shale, with every indication for a showing within the next few days. There was a lit-tle showing of oil yesterday after-noon and the drillers expect to pierce the sheil before the 2200-foot level is reached. This well was started with a fourteen-inch casing, and at pres-ent the drill is dropping in a six-inch pipe.

There was a heavy blowout of gas in the Standard's new well on 23-31-28 late yesterday afternoon. Very lit-tle water was encountered during the work and when the blowout occurred the little water that had been turned into the well was thrown all over the derrick. This well is down 1560 feet and is the only one on the section. The Standard owns 320 acres. Capt. L. B. McMurtry and E. A. Hoeppner own half of the same section and half of four other sections immediately adjacent. Recently the Standard pur-chased all of 16-31-28.

The Sunset Security Oil Company, composed entirely of local capital, is preparing to spud on section 29, 11-28 within the next two weeks. This com-pany had planned to begin operations much earlier and had arranged for a water supply which was found inad-equate. Its officials state that they are arranging for a plentiful supply and that the drill will be dropping inside of a fortnight.

Apparently without the slightest abatement of volume, the Northern Oil Company's geyser-like water well opened early last week, is steadily flowing. Experts who visited the place today said tonight that the the-ory that the drill merely pierced a large pocket of water is disproved by the length of time the well has thrown its vast quantities of water into a hastily-improvised reservoir. Twenty-four hours' drain, these experts say, would have been sufficient to have ex-hausted such a pocket, and when no abatement has been apparent in about a week, they are looking for another and more plausible reason for the phenomenon.

The Rico Oil Company on 25 in Mid-way has developed a production of 10,000 barrels a month in three months' work and its stock is quoted at $4.50 a share. It has two wells completed. Sam Shannon, now of San Francisco, and associates are the owners.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

George A. Smith's announcement of his candidacy for Mayor is the politi-cal talk of the town. "Uncle Al-eck's" people of the Recall Set take it to mean that Smith has been chosen by the Republican organization, and there are many others who think the same way. Yesterday's con-versation along the political rialto was based principally on the prospect that Smith and Alexander may be the two opposing candidates, after the primary preliminaries are out of the way, but that is by no means settled.

There was only one guess as to the outcome under these circumstances—that Smith will be elected by three or four to one.

But there is abundant opportunity for other candidates to get on the pri-mary election ballot. There is consid-erably more than a month for the fil-ing of petitions, and all aspirants for political honors still have an oppor-tunity to get their names on the bal-lot. There is no reason to hold back now. All that is necessary is a peti-tion signed by 100 or more qualified electors, and the name goes on. Any of us may be candidates for Mayor if we care for that kind of job. Just circulate a petition, and that's all there is to it.

Of course, after that, some votes must be obtained; it is one of the main points of the new direct primary law that the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes on the primary election ballot are the only two who may be voted upon at the general election in December.

It may be that neither Smith nor Alexander will come out on top at the primaries. Some other candidates already are after those coveted posi-tions. City Auditor Mushet, for in-stance, is looming up as a formidable candidate against Alexander. He is in the same "set" with "Uncle Aleck," and he has a good deal of support out-side that set. There is a bare possi-bility that he may get the bulk of the recall vote—only a bare possibility, notice, for the Earl-Lissner machine is pretty strong for the incumbent of the office.

Oscar E. Farish of the Democratic League has not yet been downed as a candidate. His organization was strong with the recallers a few months ago, and Farish made much noise in those days. He hasn't got over the idea that he would be a good Mayor, and many of his followers among the blue-stocking Democracy are of the same belief, whatever arguments may be put up by Meyer Lissner and his organization in favor of Alexander.

Then there is McAleer—Owen Mc-Aleer—who may be remembered as a former Mayor of Los Angeles. The McAleer boom is no joke. It is under-stood that a secret meeting was held last night by the McAleer clan, at which it was determined to stand by "Honest Owen" until the primary elec-tion freezes over. McAleer hopes to file a petition bearing at least 1000 sig-natures.

So here it appears that there are five candidates in the field—"Uncle George" Smith, who is expected to corral the votes of many Republicans, of the "liberal element" and of what we might call the short-haired Demo-crats; "Uncle Aleck" Alexander of "Our Set," seeking votes in all quar-ters; Farish, who is in quest of the silk-stocking Democratic vote; Mushet, who will receive "set" and other votes, and McAleer, who getteth votes whither the wind listeth.

It is reported that Dr. Walter Lind-ley, Perry Weidner and Willis Booth, who have been mentioned as possible Republican candidates, are not at all eager to enter the fray. They are busy men and are not taking much interest in politics. W. M. Bowen, former Councilman from the Fifth Ward, also is said to have decided that he does not care to enter the race.

This is not to say, however, that one or more of this quartette may not be induced, within the next two or three weeks to get into the scramble. There is still some time in which they may make up their minds.

Frank Bryson, Public Administra-tor of Los Angeles county, is another who may be drawn into the scrimmage. Bryson made a big hit during the recent Elks' festivities in this city; he is a Native Son, a Shriner, and severa; other things—and all of these organiza-tions have many votes. Bryson might develop as a dark horse.

In addition to the names that have been suggested for the Council, on both sides the political fence, that of Percy W. Ross of the Fourth Ward was mentioned by a number of his friends who are anxious to get him into the race. The "recall set" has not yet determined on all its represent-atives, but it is expected to have two or more from each the Fourth and Fifth wards, in which it counts upon heavy support. Those who propose Ross are Republicans who are not affiliated with the Lissner machine.

DUTIES HERE RUN UP WELL.

YEAR'S CUSTOMS RECEIPTS OVER THIRD-MILLION.

Final Computations for the Busi-ness of the District of Los Ange-les for the Year Ended With June Completed Yesterday—Number of Vessels Entered and Cleared.

Final computations for the business of the United States customhouse, District of Los Angeles, were complet-ed yesterday for the fiscal year ended June 30. The importance of the dis-trict is shown in the array of figures given below, which make a good showing in various lines, although there has been a falling off of busi-ness as compared with that of the pre-vious year, due, it is said, to the many enterprises crippled by the late financial panic and the slow recovery from that condition.

The Los Angeles district includes the territory from Point Concepcion to San Juan Capistrano, and from the Colorado River, extending as far south as Needles, to the Pacific Ocean, and including the Channel Islands.

The total receipts from all sources for the fiscal year amounted to $366,-337.41. This was collected thus:

Duties on imports, $359,010.07; duties on imports, Philippine Islands, $5.50; tonnage tax, $2725.11; fines, penalties and forfeitures, $1257.31; miscellaneous customs receipts, $674; storage, labor and cartage, $2471.05; official fees, $244.37. Out of this collection, refunds and drawbacks amounted to $6814.81.

The total expenses of conducting the business of this district amounted to $42,005.32, of which $30,817.85 went to salaries of collectors, deputies, clerks, inspectors, weighers, storekeepers, etc.; $5085 was for the pay roll of the appraiser's office; $3340 went for rents, and miscellaneous expenses amounted to $2862.47.

The total value of foreign exports was $141. This was foreign merchan-dise which had entered the United States and then was reshipped to for-eign ports. Domestic exports were val-ued at $198,493.

Twenty-five vessels entered from foreign ports, and twenty-one cleared for foreign ports. Vessels entered from domestic ports numbered 257. Altogether about 2500 vessels arrived at different ports in the district, four-fifths of them at San Pedro, and the rest at Redondo and Santa Barbara. Vessels cleared for domestic ports numbered 35.

It must be understood that only ves-sels carrying dutiable goods are in-cluded in this list of vessels entered for and from domestic ports. It makes no account of the large num-ber of lumber carriers always plying in the waters along the Pacific Coast.

There were 1367 entries of merchan-dise for duty and 314 entries of merchan-dise free of duty. Ninety-six entries for warehouse were made, and five for warehouse and transportation. Entries for rewarehousing were forty-five in number, and entries for warehouse and consumption reached 453.

The total number of entries of mer-chandise was 2290; number of entries for consumption liquidated, 2052; en-tries for warehouse liquidation, 119; certificates of registry granted, 2; certificates of enrollment granted, 14; licenses for coasting trade granted, 31; licenses to vessels under twenty tons granted, 22; licenses to yachts granted, 7; total number of documents to vessels issued, 76.

The district of Los Angeles has em-ployed twenty-seven men during the past fiscal year. This list includes one collector, two deputy collectors, five deputy collectors and clerks, four clerks, two storekeepers, one weigher and gauger, eight inspectors and two samplers.

CHAMBER GROWING RAPIDLY.

Fifteen members were elected to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday after-noon. This makes an addition of 440 since the beginning of the present mem-bership campaign, and is a good start for the 3000 hoped for. The names added yesterday are: Edwin K. Al-paugh, orange grower, San Gabriel; S. M. Bernard Company, warehouse; W. J. Burt, superintendent Auto Ve-hicle Company; Volney S. Beardsley, sales manager Auto Vehicle Company; Campbell & Moore, attorneys; William Fredericksen, police justice; W. B. Bush; Al G. Faulkner, salesman Pierce Arrow; N. B. Harmon, real estate; Ed G. Hookstratten Cigar Company; F. C. Kingston, mechanical specialties; A. J. Martz; R. M. Manahan, City Electrician, City Hall; J. A. Ram-sey, photographer; Woolf & Bren, tailors; Robert Cunningham, president Colonial Realty Company.

Arnerich Again Today.

The case of George P. Arnerich, one of the proprietors of the Good Fel-lows' Grotto, No. 341 South Main street, charged with attempted brib-ing of a police officer, was yesterday morning continued by Police Justice Rose until August 11. The continuance was granted because Attorney Fleming, counsel for the defense, declared he must leave immediately for Seattle to conduct a court case in that city. The accusation against Arnerich is that he offered the money to the po-lice officer to quash charges against him for violating the liquor ordinances. Arnerich will be tried before Justice Rose today on the latter charges.

BARTRAM'S METHODS

George E. Bartram, connected with the naval training station in San Francisco, was defendant in a divorce action in Judge James's court yester-day, and the testimony of the com-plaining witness, Fern Bartram, in-dicates that he has an unlovely dis-position. She said she always car-ried his breakfast up to him in the morning before he got out of bed. She also testified that he once knocked her down because she asked him a ques-tion when he was reading a newspa-per; he never liked to be disturbed when conning the society section of the daily press. They were married in Los Angeles in 1904, and in August, 1906, he left her, never to return. Since that time he has not contributed a cent to the support of herself or their infant child. She got a decree.

AT THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG A

took part in the engagement.

A ball was fired into it and lodged there. It is there yet, but the piano is musical and plays remarkably well just the same.

GABLER PIANOS are not made of Harveyized Steel, nor are they constructed for war purposes; but this incident shows their great value after many years of use, even when subjected to such severe treatment.

You will have a piano to mention in your will if you purchase a GABLER.

We want to tell you more about the goodness of GABLER pianos and give you a thorough demonstration of their real merit.

We have never heard of Prince Miguel Braganza before, but now that he is about to get a million dollars for marrying an American girl we would be pleased to make his acquaintance.

In recasting the entire situation we have come to the carefully worked out conclusion that it is a tight race between Kansas, Missouri, Colorado and the University of Chicago as to which can produce the largest number of freaks.

It is not long since M. Clemenceau was hailed as one of the most astute statesmen of the world. Now he is looked upon as a man who makes the fatal mistake of losing his head. It is never safe to bet on a celebrity until after he is dead.

THE NEW HEAD OF THE ARMY.

Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, around whose devoted head so many military feuds have raged, has lately become the ranking officer of the United States army. According to the ultra-conservative army opinion, Gen. Wood should now be a military doctor puttering around the hospitals of some army post, weighing the fierce problem of whether it should be pills or poultices. But one of the most notable careers in the history of our army would have been thus lost.

Out of the almost innumerable wrangles over the propriety of "jumping" Gen. Wood over the heads of line officers of the army, one crucial fact sticks out: Gen. Wood has "made good." In the face of his remarkable record, the questions of how he was made a general or why he was made a general cease to be of importance. The important fact is that he was made a general. And his achievements should be an inspiration to young officers of the army.

Of an old "Revolutionary family" in New England, the son of a Massachusetts country doctor, it was a matter of faith and almost of religion for young Wood to go to Harvard. It isn't considered quite respectable in Massachusetts not to go to Harvard. Graduated with a doctor's degree and a notable record as an athlete, young Leonard Wood became a "contract surgeon" in the army. Out in the mountains of Arizona, under Lawton, the young "contract doctor" showed himself possessed of military genius, not only doing his work as a doctor, but taking command of a detachment of infantry and literally walking down old Geronimo in his lair. Few soldiers stand on the records of our War Department more highly honored than was this army doctor by the orders and reports of his superiors during that Geronimo campaign.

The charge against Gen. Wood of being a "White House pet" had only this foundation: that his medical record resulted in his being called to the capital as the President's official surgeon, and that he there met Assistant Secretary of the Navy the Hon. T. Roosevelt, who virtually demanded the command of the Rough Riders for Wood when the Spanish War broke.

The charge that Wood was but a doctor taken from a hospital to command troops was unfair. He had seen more hard "straight" soldiering and knew more about commanding troops in the field—cavalry, infantry and artillery— than the majority of the line officers of the army.

With all due respect to our benevolent administration of Cuba, etc., the greatest boon Cuba got from the Spanish War was Leonard Wood, who sprinkled the streets of the filthy capital with corrosive sublimate, poured kerosene into the reeking cesspools and set it afire, killed [illegible]dits, fed the starving, stamped out smallpox, opened schools and hospitals and reorganized the municipal government. As Governor-General of the Philippines, Gen. Wood's work was no less valuable to this government.

Col. Roosevelt has said that Leonard Wood is "easily the ablest soldier the nation has produced since the Civil War." Lord Cromer has expressed the regret that he could not have such an administrator to succeed him in Egypt.

Leaving out of the question the advisability of having army surgeons leaping promiscuously into high rank in the line, it is evident that Leonard Wood should be where he is. It matters not whether he was the result of an official earthquake or an act of Providence. It only matters that he somehow untwisted the kink in destiny that started him out as a doctor of sick soldiers when he was properly a commander of men and an administrator of provinces.

ENLIVENING "NEWS" FROM AFRICA.

Last evening Los Angeles newsboys drove a thriving trade for a few hours by displaying a local paper bearing the startling headline, "Roosevelt Near Death," and by crying "Roosevelt dying!" as they tore through the crowded highways of the town.

It seems, however, that Col. Roosevelt was not even dyeing his whiskers, but merely having some more fun with the hippotauri. And it was the hippotauri, not Roosevelt, that were "near death" —so near that they were dead.

The wild message was to the effect that while a school of these huge beasts attacked the frail vessel in which Col. Roosevelt was voyaging, he dispatched them, one by one, to the intense relief of the natives who cowered at the bottom of the boat.

We have no desire to forestall what will doubtless prove to be one of the most thrilling chapters in Col. Roosevelt's forthcoming book, but we feel that it is almost necessary to inform our readers that there are various kinds of the hippopotami, or, as some scientists prefer to call them, the hippopotamidae.

To which particular branch of these interesting families the digdig hippo belongs—a specimen of which Col. Roosevelt has already stuffed and ready for shipment—we are unable to say; but he will doubtless inform us in due time, himself. He is on the ground and is in daily communication with the animals themselves, and is therefore in a better position to get information than we are at this distance, where nothing more ferocious than a street-car hog crosses the trail.

Speaking further in a hipposteological manner, we may observe that the hippos came in with the subgeneric form of Hexapropotodon found in the upper Niocene of India. Then followed the Tetratodon, to which the living and various fossil forms belong. Hippopotamus Major is enumerated by Prof. Boyd Dawkins among the Upper Pliocene mammalia of Italy and the Mid-Pleistocene mammalia of Britain. It is called by him a survival from the Early Pleistocene.

Having made this perfectly clear to even our most unscientific readers, we feel that the incident may be considered closed. The subject should not be dismissed, however, without the statement that the "Roosevelt Near Death" headline was quite correct, as it related to Col. Roosevelt's presence among the great horned bulls of the watery jungles that fell under his unerring aim.

A FLEET FOR THE PACIFIC.

The Pacific Coast has been neglected by the Federal government as to naval equipment. This has not been so much of an injustice to the Coast in former times as in these later years. In the far past all our international difficulties were with Europe, and the necessity of a Pacific Coast fleet was small. Another reason was that there was not much here to tempt the cupidity of a foreign foe or to call for defense by the national government.

In the days in which we are living these conditions are altogether changed. The danger of a conflict with Europe is of the smallest. We hope there is no trouble brewing in the Pacific, but the chances are vastly greater for a war which will threaten the western coasts of America than any attack likely to come upon our eastern shores. Again, in the past there was little here to tempt the cupidity of a foreign foe or to call for active defense by the Federal government. We are now a people of large numerical value. The industries of the Coast States are well developed. We have cities whose wealth would certainly tempt a foreign foe, should such arise, and whose destruction would be counted by billions of dollars.

During the last regular session of Congress a good deal was done by the people of the Coast to stir up a sentiment in Washington favorable to a division of the fleet, giving us a reasonable portion of it. President Roosevelt deserves the credit for the voyage of the fleet around the world which gave us here an opportunity of seeing what a magnificent navy we have and also served to impress the nations of the Orient with a due sense of our ability. At the same time, it was President Roosevelt who prevented the representations made by the people of the Coast from producing any tangible results. The United States Senate in these days comes in for a good deal of adverse criticism, some of it perhaps deserved, much of it certainly undeserved. It was the Senate which passed the resolution that "there should be kept in the discretion of the President, as far as practicable, one-half of the navy on the Pacific Coast at all times." Mr. Roosevelt as President, with his usual decision of character, opposed this proposition and threw his influence over the House of Representatives, where there are so many more "progressives" in proportion than in the Senate, to prevent the adoption of the resolution in the House of Representatives.

The senior Senator from California, George C. Perkins, gives us to understand that "we have now a navy second only to that of Great Britain in strength, composed of fighting vessels which have no superiors in the world, practically all of which are stationed on the Atlantic Coast."

The following table presents at a glance the naval strength of the country, including those vessels now in commission and those authorized and under construction.

	Number.	Tons.
Battleships, over 10,000 tons	31	449,796
Coast-defense vessels	11	45,334
Armored cruisers	15	186,545
Cruisers, over 6000 tons	5	43,800
Cruisers, 6000 to 3000 tons	20	72,620
Cruisers, 3000 to 1000 tons	14	18,058
Torpedo-boat destroyers	31	17,590
Torpedo boats	32	5,615
Submarines	19	3,860
Total	178	843,218

This, we are told, places us next in fighting strength upon the sea to Great Britain. France, it is true, has 516 vessels aggregating 801,188 tons displacement. But of these, 432 are torpedo-boat destroyers and other small fry, leaving 84 larger fighting vessels aggregating 721,800 tons displacement, compared with 96 United States vessels aggregating 806,153 tons. The German navy has vessels aggregating 683,599 tons, and Japan is fifth, with 179 vessels aggregating 444,903 tons. In ships for the battle line the United States is second to Great Britain, having built or having building 31 battleships aggregating 449,796 tons, and 15 armored cruisers aggregating 186,545 tons. Germany is third in this respect, with 31 battleships, but of considerably smaller tonnage than ours, and 11 armored cruisers, also small. Although France has so many vessels in the aggregate, she is fourth in rank because of so many of her vessels being second-class or small fry. Japan has only 15 battleships aggregating 233,444 tons, a little more than half the tonnage of the United States for the same class. In armored cruisers Japan falls behind the United States by more than 10,000 tons displacement. In addition to this, Congress has authorized the construction of two battleships of the largest type afloat, each having a displacement of 26,000 tons. There are also authorized for further construction a gunboat, 15 torpedo-boat destroyers, 10 submarines, 3 destroyers whose vitals are below the water line, and 6 colliers. When we realize that fifteen years ago, in 1893, we had not a single battleship in commission, it will be seen that we have made some progress in this length of time.

Last year we had to man these ships 44,500 men, and the pay roll amounted for the year to $30,979,225. The pay of the Marine Corps amounted to $4,047,259.

In seven years, 1902 to 1908, Congress authorized the construction of 14 battleships and 4 armored cruisers, the cost of the hulls and machinery aggregating $72,707,000, and with the armament the cost runs to nearly $101,000,000. With those now under construction, the total bill will run to $129,464,023. Since 1883, when the construction of the new navy was begun, the cost of vessels authorized will run to $343,904,298.

In the sixteen battleships which circumnavigated the globe last year there were over 12,000 men, of whom 5600 came from the New England States and other Atlantic States down as far as the District of Columbia. The Middle West furnished 3200 of these men; the Southern States, 2700; the Far West, 500, and the Pacific Coast States, a lone 125.

The impression that the men of the fleet made upon the people of the Coast was most encouraging. Clean-cut, well-behaved, intelligent and manly, they impressed every one who saw them with a sense of their fitness to man these magnificent fighting machines of the sea.

When the modern Enoch Arden came home from Alaska, the other day, to claim the wife who had believed him dead, the husband No. 2 seemed to be suspiciously resigned to his cruel fate. The cheerfulness with which he surrendered the lady leads one to wonder if this latter-day Enoch Arden really was lost in the Klondike all these years.

Another way to increase the population of California is for folks who are the heads of households to increase the population in their own families.

TAKING A CHANCE.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) July 8.—With Gov. Johnson acting as chauffeur, William Jennings Bryan saw St. Paul from an automobile today.
[From the Washington Star.]

WHY NOT?

Now it is reported that members of the Thayer family have vowed to shoot William C. Mitchell, the slayer of Cecil Thayer, just acquitted by a jury. Well, why not? If it is right and fair for a Mitchell to take the law in his own hands and kill a member of the Thayer tribe, why is it not right and fair for a Thayer to take the law into his own hands and shoot a Mitchell? Why have any courts? Why empanel any juries? Why not go back a few thousand years and let every man be his own judge, jury and executioner? Arm every grievance with a gun, eh, and fire away!

FRENCH GOLD HOARD.

On June 10 the Bank of France held in gold $740,130,000. The increase in the year had been $118,000,000. It would be interesting to know just where this gold is. Probably in the vaults of the bank for the most part?

Suppose a war were to break out with Germany, what would be done with this specie? In twenty-four hours after war was a fact Germany would throw two armies into French territory. One would cross the Rhine and march through Alsace-Lorraine toward Paris. The other would proceed in the same direction through Belgium, seizing Brussels as a base of supplies on the way.

But it would require many days for either army to reach the city of Paris. Meantime the gold would be rushed to a place of safety. In a few hours it might be sent across the Straits of Dover and be in the vaults of the Bank of England. We may be sure it would not be allowed to fall into the hands of the enemy in case Paris should be captured as in 1871. To lose the gold would be to disable France to fight longer, while supplying the enemy with the "sinews of war."

The Culture-Crazed.

We are mad for cultivation
And refining information,
And we're drinking pretty deeply at the pure Pierian streams.
Whether eagerly or dourly,
We're absorbing culture hourly,
And we're getting quite conversant with a quantity of themes.

Oh, we're breakfasting on Hegel and we dine on Socrates,
We serve Professor James and Kant at all our formal teas,
And we spend a half an hour
Glancing over Schopenhauer,
Noting Nietzsche's "Will to Power,"
Or his subtler theories.

Criticising Aristotle,
Mrs. Wharton, Emory Pottle,
Is our favorite avocation, and we're able to indite
Themes on Arnold versus Pater,
Demonstrating, which is greater,
Or to write a dissertation on the fossil trilobite.

Oh, it's pass along the Hauptmann and it's rush that Maeterlinck,
Condemn Pinero, Shaw and Wilde—don't try to stop and think.
At the sea of cultivation
And of thought-assimilation
There's no time for rumination
Or for trembling at the brink.

UNCLE WALT, WARBLER.

BY UNCLE WALT MASON OF EMPORIA.
Where Grows the Sunflower.

The list that Dr. Eliot's made, of books that one should read to round his education out, is very fine, indeed. I recommend these volumes all; they represent the best—the masterpieces of the world, the gems of East and West. I strongly urge the young to keep these volumes on the shelf, but I'll be hanged if I will read such dreary stuff myself. A work by Louis Joseph Vance is good enough for me, and Arthur Stringer's corking yarns just fill my soul with glee; and when it comes to deathless song, my heart with rapture swells the while I study out the curves of clever Carrie Wells. Another book of recent times has stirred this heart of mine—the great Official Baseball Guide for A. D. nineteen nine; and when I yearn for heavy stuff, to stimulate the brain, there's nothing wrong with "Shakespeare's Death," by Sam'l Clemens Twain. Of all the volumes in the world that soothe the stricken soul, I call this best, these swelt'ring days: "Attempts to Reach the Pole." It treats of ice and polar bears and Eskimos and snows, tobogganized thermometers, chilblains and frozen toes.

Contempt of Court.

Mark Twain was waiting for a street car in Boston when a young girl approached him, smiling. She was a lovely girl, fresh, blooming, ingenuous, budding with enthusiasm, and evidently on her way home from school.

"Pardon me," she said. "I know it's very unconventional, but I may never have another chance. Would you mind giving me your autograph?"

"Glad to do it, my dear child," said Mr. Clemens, drawing out his fountain pen.

"Oh, it's so good of you," gurgled the girl. "You know, I've never seen you but once, Chief Fuller, and that was at a distance; but I've your portrait so often that I recognized you moment I saw you here."

"Um-m-m-mm!" said Mr. Clemens, [illegible]tally. Then he took from her eager hands [illegible] little autograph album and wrote, in [illegible] these words:

"It is delicious to be full,
But it is heavenly to be Fuller.
"I am cordially yours,

Mr. Clemens has not heard from Chief Fuller yet.—[Harper's Weekly.

Luisa Aureliano Garau, whose Hill[illegible] Delmonico is the official pro[illegible]tion spot for Los Angeles grand [illegible] news, is in possession of in[illegible]mation concerning the next year [illegible]-Lambardi company.

[illegible]ding the list of principals will [illegible] sixteen-year-old coloratura so[illegible] Isabella del Frate, who is ac[illegible]med by the Italian papers as a [illegible]nomenon; and our dramatic-so[illegible] friend of former days, Ester [illegible]berta.

With the exception of Angelo An[illegible] among the baritones, that ends principals with whom Los Ange[illegible] has acquaintance—save for Dolores [illegible] who made one or two appear[illegible] here last season, and who will [illegible] next year.

Other sopranos are Elvina Bosetti, [illegible] Calvi and Mira Aurelia. The [illegible]s are said to be very good. There [illegible] Giovanni Rambaldi, Giovanni Na[illegible] and U. Marini.

The principal baritone will be Adolfo [illegible], late of Covent Garden. Ant[illegible] and Pietro Bugi are the other [illegible]. The basses will be Viola [illegible]esso and Mari Ancesete.

The principal director will be Ful[illegible]io Guerrieri, who, it may be re[illegible]bered, directed at the opening of [illegible] Auditorium. Eduardo Lebegott [illegible] be second director.

The repertoire this year will be [illegible] than before, but will really [illegible] more effective, as a lot of ancient [illegible]wood will be cut out, and of the [illegible] things only the favorites, such as [illegible], "Lucia," "Il Trovatore," [illegible]etto" and the like, will be left. [illegible]duction of "Gioconda" will be [illegible]ounted for the usual "Aida" set[illegible] carried by Lambardi. "Lohen[illegible] will be presented, in Italian, of [illegible], and in addition to the Puccini [illegible] he has always carried, Lam[illegible] will add to his regular list [illegible]a Butterfly."

[illegible]el's oratorio, "The Resurrection [illegible]arus," will also be presented on [illegible]al occasions in concert form.

[illegible] Berry will sail for New York [illegible]t 15. Lambardi will come a lit[illegible]ter, and the company will have [illegible]t months of try-out in Mexico. [illegible] New Orleans opening, at the Tu[illegible] Theater, will take place January [illegible], and after a few intermediate [illegible] the company will come direct[illegible] Angeles.

[illegible] more immediate interest is the [illegible]anel of the "International" opera [illegible]any, which follows at the Mason, [illegible]ly after the Savage phenomenon, [illegible] Merry Widow."

[illegible] international company is under [illegible]anagement of Frank M. Nor[illegible], who is at present in Los Ange[illegible]. Two of the principals, Lina Ber[illegible] and Alessandro Arcangeli, are [illegible] here.

[illegible] artists, of more or less celeb[illegible], are Mme. Jennie Norelli, Mme. [illegible]-Merola, Mlle. Therry, Mlle. [illegible], Mme. Donner and Mme. [illegible].

[illegible]ors are Mm. Bari, Samoiloff and [illegible]. Baritones are Mm. Zara and [illegible] Arcangeli. Gravina is prin[illegible]pal, and others of the deep voice [illegible]s. Prascona and Giuliano.

The most notable figure of all is the [illegible]or, G. Merola, who has gained [illegible] deal of credit for consistent [illegible] popular-priced operatic pro[illegible] in New York City for sev[illegible]rs past.

[illegible]pening bill will be "Aida," with [illegible] on the following night. Then, [illegible] the same week, will come, in [illegible]der given, "Faust," "Carmen," [illegible]ajoie," the familiar double [illegible] "Cavalleria" and "Pagliacci." [illegible]Rigoletto."

...these papers were discussed by the men of each association. Col. McClintock, postmaster of Phoenix, Ariz., was present, and addressed the convention. The programme of both associations will be concluded today.

Last night a banquet was given for the visitors at the Alexandria. An elaborate menu was served in the blue room to sixty-five guests. Assistant Postmaster Harrison acted as toastmaster, and addresses were delivered by H. B. Hall, assistant superintendent of salaries, who represents the First Assistant Postmaster-General; A. H. Stevens, superintendent of railway mail service, who represents the Second Assistant Postmaster-General, and Joe P. Johnston, inspector-in-chief or ten California postoffices, who represents the Chief Postoffice Inspector. This was followed by some impromptu talk.

Among the guests were all the officers of the association: Arthur G. Fisk of Oakland, president; R. M. Richardson and D. F. Hunt, vice-presidents for the first-class offices; G. M. Francis and O. J. Lincoln, vice-presidents for the second-class offices; Mrs. Cecelia Van Arsdale and F. B. Mackinder, vice-presidents for the third-class offices; F. E. Ellis, secretary and treasurer.

The election of officers will take place at today's sessions.

The rural carriers held an evening session in The Times rest room and elected officers for the ensuing year, thus: President, E. G. Lewis, Oxnard; vice-president Theodore Pernier, Modesto; secretary Ira A. Kearns, Fresno; treasurer, John C. James, Ceres; executive board, A. D. Bradbeer, Norwalk; L. W. Ostrum, Los Angeles; C. W. Dodsworth, Long Beach.

MAY EXCHANGE VISITS.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Instead of shaking hands across a boundary line on a bridge at El Paso next fall, Presidents Diaz and Taft will exchange visits, the former crossing into the United States, and the latter setting foot on Mexican soil.

The State Department is making arrangements for the visit. It will take place during President Taft's western trip, some time after September 15, for it will be necessary for the Mexican President to obtain the permission of the Mexican Congress, which meets on that date, to leave his country.

"KNO-TAIR" HOSIERY
Guaranteed for Six Months' Wear.
AFTER careful investigation of their merits, we have accepted the sole Los Angeles agency for a brand of guaranteed stockings whose fame is known to everybody who reads the advertising sections of magazines—the "Knotair" brand.
We shall carry these stockings in women's sizes only, and in black only, for the present—in silk lisle finish, at three dollars for a box of six; every pair guaranteed against darning for six months. Read the guarantee—"It is specifically agreed between the maker and the purchaser that these six pairs of hose are guaranteed against wear for six months from date of purchase, and that any or all of them will be replaced with new hose should they require darning within the six-month period."
Knotair hose are sheer, light in weight, with strength to outlive the guarantee. Try them now—if they don't make good, the makers will.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

THE wedding last evening of Miss Edith Mendenhall Herron, the charming young daughter of Col. and Mrs. Rufus Hills Herron, of No. 2709 Severance street, and Lieut. William Hamilton Toaz, U.S.N., was far and away the most elaborate event for many moons. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Joseph H. Johnson, assisted by Rev. Baker P. Lee, in Christ Episcopal Church, which was elaborately decorated. Woodwardia ferns and palms formed an artistic background for quantities of fall

Mrs. William Hamilton Toaz,

Formerly Miss Edith Herron, whose wedding was solemnized last evening in the presence of several hundred guests.

white gladiolus and dainty daisy chains. The pews were marked with clusters of Shasta daisies and butterfly bows of white tulle. Archibald Sessions played the wedding marches and Mrs. Robert Wankowski sang "O Perfect Love" and other selections.

The young people knelt at the altar presented to Christ Church by Col. Herron in memory of his parents, the late Col. and Mrs. W. A. Herron of Pittsburgh, Pa. Miss Herron, who was given away by her father, wore an elaborate creation of ivory crepe charmeuse, embroidered in wild roses and seed pearls, with point lace trimmings. The long, transparent sleeves were of soft tucked tulle. The veil, which fell to the edge of the long train, was of embroidered tulle and was worn by Mrs. Herron at her own wedding, as was also the wreath of orange blossoms which fastened the veil. A shower bouquet of lilies of the valley completed the exquisite attire.

Mrs. W. L. Graves, Jr., of Fresno, formerly Miss Mary Hubbell, assisted as matron of honor and wore her wedding gown of ivory satin, anglese, trimmed with Duchesse and rose point lace, and carried maidenhair ferns. Miss Margaretta Park of Santa Barbara, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor. Her gown was a quaint 1830 frock with bodice of dewdrop net over gold bands, with skirt and girdle of ivory satin charmeuse. A spray of pale pink roses held the skirt in place, and a wreath of ferns and gold gauze ribbon crowned her head. The four maids, Miss Katherine Clark, Miss Anne Patton, Miss Lois Chamberlain and Miss Carmelita Rosecrans, were gowned alike in 1830 frocks with bodice of dewdrop net and skirt and girdle of the palest green satin. They wore gold ornaments in their hair and carried arm bouquets of maidenhair ferns. Miss Geraldine and Elizabeth Herron, nieces of the bride, were flower girls and wore childish frocks of white and carried baskets of Cecile Bruner roses.

Mrs. Herron's gown was of pale gray cachemire de soie embroidered in steel and pearls with yoke and sleeves of Duchesse lace. Mrs. F. Irwin Herron was garbed in pink lace gracefully draped over pink satin and Mrs. Samuel L. Graham wore yellow moire with a rich panel of real lace and trimmings of seed pearls.

Lieut. Toaz wore full uniform and was attended by Lieut. R. R. Riggs of the receiving ship Independence, as best man and the ushers were Lieut. S. B. Thomas, Lieut. A. Staton, Lieut. G. S. Patton, T. Fenton Knight and the bride's two brothers, F. Irwin Herron and Paul Herron.

Following the church service a reception was held at the home of Col. and Mrs. Herron, which was beautifully decorated. In the drawing-room where the guests were received, pink amaryllis and potted plants formed an attractive setting, while the hall was done entirely in palms and ferns. The den was in Shasta daisies and the porch, where refreshments were served at small tables adorned with Cecile Bruner roses, was enclosed with palms and greenery. Punch was served in the garden, which was dotted with tiny electric lights and large Japanese lanterns. In the dining-room, where the bride's table was set, a canopy of asparagus plumosus and lovers' knots of green and white ribbon was erected. The table was elaborate with a real lace cloth, in the center of which rested a large basket of Cecile Bruner roses. From place to place garlands of the tiny rosebuds added to the pretty arrangement. Crystal candlesticks with pink shades and white slippers filled with pink candies completed the arrangement. Arend's orchestra, stationed on the porch, played catchy airs during the evening. The bride, who is one of the most popular of the younger girls, received many handsome presents.

Lieut. Toaz first met Miss Herron at the home of her cousin, Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel L. Graham of Mare Island, where she was visiting. Lieut. and Mrs. Toaz will enjoy a wedding trip, at the conclusion of which they will reside in Seattle. Yesterday F. Irwin Herron entertained with a dinner party at the Jonathan Club for the young men of the bridal party.

Of Interest.

News from Boston of the wedding recently of William Findley Baird, formerly of this city, and Mrs. Olive Josephine Prescott will interest local society. The service was read in the Old South Church, Boston, in the presence of a few relatives and friends only. Miss Olive Prescott was maid of honor and the best man was Ralph Baird. Fessenden Nichols carried the ring. The bride wore a gown of pale blue satin embroidered in gold and silver and carried a cluster of lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Prescott wore white mousseline with touches of blue silk. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Baird will travel for several months before settling in Boston. Among the guests were Senator and Mrs. George Nixon of Nevada and Judge and Mrs. T. B. Felder of Atlanta, Ga.

LONG-DISTANCE ROADS.

Chamber of Commerce Directors Adopt Resolutions for Highways to Eastern Seaboard.

Resolutions encouraging the extension of the highway and boulevard system through the Territory of Arizona, and the southeastern counties of Southern California, were prepared by the Committee on Boulevards, Parks and Roads of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and adopted by the directorate yesterday afternoon.

The resolutions recite that the people of Arizona have begun a campaign for good roads, including highways connecting some of the greatest timber belts of the Territory and one passing through the Territory; also that the Territory of New Mexico will connect with the easterly terminus of the Arizona road, passing through some of the grandest scenery of the Rocky Mountains and connecting with roads in Colorado, then through Kansas and on to the eastern seaboard.

The resolutions request the boards of supervisors of Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino counties to cooperate with the people of Arizona for this purpose.

DEATH OF MISS CULVER.

Katherine Howard Culver, daughter of Adelbert Culver, a prominent lawyer of Albion, Mich., and a sister of A. M. Culver of this city, passed away Thursday, last, at the latter's home, No. 2861 Menlo avenue, after an illness of two months. The funeral service was held Saturday at 2 o'clock p.m., Rev. Mr. Morris of St. John's Church officiating. Miss Culver was 23 years of age, and a native of Albion, Mich. She was educated there and in Virginia College, and the Detroit Conservatory of Music. Her life, while short, was filled with more than usual accomplishments.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

If you would be beautiful and have a complexion like apple blossoms, eat carrots. It is said there is no vegetable, meat or mineral which has so much of beauty-making in its composition as this same yellow and despised carrot holds in its golden heart. Doubtless you have read the tale of the gentlewoman suddenly reduced to poverty who cast about for a means of livelihood. She came of a high-bred line of aristocratic ancestors whose women were famous for their beauty—especially for their wonderful complexions. So this gentlewoman thought out a plan—if I remember correctly—though the story went that she hit upon it quite by accident. I believe a young girl friend came to the ancestral home—which was all the poor lady had for her former grandeur—and its high bred mistress was shocked at the muddy complexion of the young girl and speedily took her in hand. The revolution and transformation was so sudden and complete that it attracted attention and presently the mothers of daughters who were afflicted with muddy or blotchy complexions begged of her ladyship to work the same miracle for them. The upshot of the whole thing was that in a remarkably short time this reduced gentlewoman had a houseful of girls—all handsomely paying boarders—who were pledged to observe strictly the diet prescribed. Wonderful dishes were set before them and ambrosial drinks of yellow nectar and not one of them suspected that into the make-up of each dish and of every drink, the humble carrot played well its part. The story goes that at the end of a few weeks a batch of beautiful girls, with cheeks like damask roses and skin of pearly clearness, were turned out from this beauty-making establishment. The lady had found her mission. The moral of this tale is—eat carrots.

Ribbon Hats.

There is a fad in the East just now for fashioning summer hats entirely of ribbon. The foundation is, of course, a wire frame with a high, broad crown in the accepted mode and a "poke" brim. Upon this is a width of wide Dresden ribbon, gathered around the base of the crown, and around it a broad, flat band of ribbon terminating in the back in a flat bow with long ends. The top of the crown is also of gathered ribbon which is brought to the center under a ribbon-covered button. Around the edge of the crown and concealing the joining of the two widths of ribbon is a wreath of roses, also made from ribbon. The quaint poke brim is covered by a ruffle of ribbon. Altogether this novel hat is picturesque and odd and well suited to a sweet, young face.

Veils and Scarfs.

Among the new wrinkles is the spangled veil. It may be of any color with scales in the same shade or a gray mesh may have silver scales or dots and a black one may glitter with tiny jet drops. A sale of Palm Beach auto scarfs at a local shop yesterday attracted considerable attention. These lovely scarfs are of cotton crepe which washes to a charm and they have wide floral borders in blue, green or heliotrope.

Mary Dean says there is a distinct art in the wearing of a veil which inevitably stamps the wearer as 22 years young or 60 years old. The old lady veils are those which cover only the hat brim and fit snugly over the face and always seem skimpy. They are usually of the plain or dotted meshes, whereas the belles in veildom are the long draperies of beautifully colored chiffon, with rich hemstitched borders, and the huge squares of lace webbing which, with untold coquetries in the way of borders, are worn completely over the hat.

The latest kink are the violet or blue tissue veils—a blue sometimes showing shades that look like faded streaks—and there are some silvery blue follies which are, for all the world, like a piece of the California summer sky.

Veils are expensive and perishable things at best and should be treated tenderly. A special receptacle like the French veil case keeps them in immaculate condition. It looks like a big, thin book of some especially precious sort with its delicate satin covers and ribbon tie strings. The veils are put between padded leaves, covered with thin silk and deliciously scented. One can easily make such a receptacle herself.

Hats and Low-Cut Gowns.

Time was when the wearing of a hat with a dress cut low in the neck would have aroused horrified comment, but the photographer is responsible for introducing this queer caper of fashion. Low-cut gowns are not becoming to all faces, and it was the resourceful artist who discovered that the posing of a picturesque hat on his subject's head softened the lines of the coiffure and furnished a becoming background for the face. It was a short step from the studio to the street, and some daring spirits, when they saw how well the picture looked, hesitated not to appear in a box at the theater clad in low-cut evening gown and with a becoming chapeau coyly perched on the head. It was the most popular theater fashion in New York last winter, although Paris has not yet accepted it fully, and the London hotel restaurant keepers were shy of it with their British ideas of the importance of full dress, and notified their patrons that the hats would have to come off when they entered the dining-room. The women revolted—beats all how those English women are sticking for their rights in more ways than one—and won out. Now the hat with low-cut evening dress is quite the mode in fashionable London restaurants and hotels where dinners and suppers are much more formal than here, and full dress, according to the British mind, excludes any sort of hat.

Colonial Sofa Pillows.

I notice that decorators are introducing a new sort of sofa pillow to harmonize with the antique sofas now so much in vogue. The motley crowd of den cushions are not in keeping with the colonial dignity of those high-backed, hugh-armed sofas and so the pillows are now covered with the same shade of velveteen as the sofa, a touch of gold varying what might be monotony if the velveteen is dark in color. A two-inch band of galloon of dusky gold and antique richness borders the pillow top. It is laid three inches from the edge along each side of the two oblong pillows and the two end strips, which are longer, cross over the others, hang down and end in large gold tassels.

Bonbon Box Collection.

An odd collection has come to light in Paris which is nothing less than an array of bonbon boxes dating from before the Revolution to the present day. The collector is—who do you think? No less a personage than the vice-president of the Société des Gens de Lettres and a member of the Municipal Council—M. Quentin-Bauchart. In this wondrous collection is a set of empire boxes set with pearls, ornamented with foliage or in arabesques. Some are adorned with pastoral and mythological scenes, and even little masterpieces constructed during the Reign of Terror by the restless confectioners, who in Paris never stop catering to the lighter appetites. There are boxes in the form of hearts, lyres, harps, of gilded circles, like books and baskets, wine cups or escutcheons, in filigree work, and some, kept under glass covers for their protection, have birds woven in silver or a representation of Napoleon on his deathbed. Others represent incidents and personalities of French history down to 1830 and later. This collection has been lent in part to the Costume Museum and the Galliera Museum for Paris to look at.

Hair, Hats and Frocks.

Some of the outing hats are made of the sort of canvas that looks like matting. They are edged with colored straw braid and trimmed with a band and bow of ribbon of the same color.

The center parting of the hair, with the wide Racamier chignon and wide puffs at the sides, comports well with the big millinery of the day. Women with small, delicate features find it especially becoming.

The newest model in the princess gown is that showing a panel that starts from the armhole seam in the shoulder. This tapers to the waist, but not sharply, and extends in a straight line to the hem of the gown.

Nearly every toilette now has a touch of black. It may be a piping, a cravat or a series of buttons on the white lace guimpe, an edge of black satin on the revers of the tailor-made gown, or black wings on a white hat.

Dainty little lounging robes are made of cross-bar muslin and dimity, with necks and front edges scalloped and buttonholed in white or a color, and the bottoms of the sleeves, and often the edges of the girdles finished in the same way.

Buttons and Bodices.

Never was the vogue so great for harmony of the whole costume, and the most stylish women appear with gown, hat, shoes and accessories of the same hue.

Color embroidery on white, black, cream and ecru will be much used, as well as white on color. Most of the embroidery seen now in the shops is machine made.

For coat and tailored suits, no matter for what occasion, white serge has no rival for summer days, for it may be worn at almost any hour, from breakfast until midnight.

Men's handkerchiefs in showy, solid-color grounds have gone out, and have been supplanted by the more dainty styles in white with embroidery initials.

Frocks may be buttoned down the front as well as the back, since fashion has suddenly become most liberal minded in this respect.

L. Brigham, C. Simpson, H. Taylor, P. Parker and T. Simpson are spending a month's vacation on C. Olmstead's ranch near Santa Paula, hunting and fishing.

"PRINCESS" DONS CROWN.

Princess Alice" Capron of Pasadena ained the greatest sensation of entire contest up to this time by tering a gain of 41,245 points and ing into the lead by so large a ntity that she will probably wear wn for some time to come, even she quits scoring for awhile. Al- "Queen Constance" Hood a gain of 8000 points, she fell ty 28,000 behind the new "Queen" she will need all of a club of ps (five new yearly subscriptions) recover the lead again.

Miss Capron discovered last sum- that "sweets for the awee" nd in the sugar beet fields of Ven- county, so she smiled her sweet- smile last Monday morning and d herself to Oxnard, where the erican Beet Sugar Company has its plant and where she secured many ns last summer while on a campaign tour of Ventura county. She had a word to her Oxnard friends early the present contest that she pro- ed to visit them again and that should save their subscriptions to Times for her, so they were pre- ed for her and the reception ac- rded her was in no wise disappoint- . She not only got renewals from mber of her last year's subscrib- , but a number of new ones and ptions of more before the contest is .

GENEROUS VENTURANS.

t Santa Paula, also, she was given cordial reception by friends who ed her to win a scholarship last r, and who desire to see her win prize this year.

Although she spent but a part of Bays in Ventura county on her trip, and stopped at but two to ns, Miss Capron gained enough to

"ups" and seventeen "downs" the sum of the changes in the list of the contestants for The scholarships as the result of the last day's balloting.

"Alice" Capron, Florence Edwina Lloyd, Florence Lambert brothers and Florence

"ups:" Constance Hood, Raymond Austin, Frank Maine, Murrey Elizabeth Glasscock, Edith Emma Blortz, David Boardman Waite, Helen Wilson, Ruth Ferguson, Stanley Carl Miehle, Fannie Swem, Tidball.

"PRINCESS" DONS CROWN.

"Princess Alice" Capron of Pasadena the greatest sensation of the contest up to this time by a gain of 41,245 points and into the lead by so large a that she will probably wear for some time to come, even gain scoring for awhile. Although "Constance" Hood a gain of 3000 points, she fell behind the new "Queen" will need all of a club of (five new yearly subscriptions) the lead again.

Capron discovered last sum- that "sweets for the sweet" in the sugar beet fields of Ventura, so she smiled her sweetest on her Monday morning and to Oxnard, where the Beet Sugar Company has its and where she secured many points to place her far in the lead. She is loud in her praise of the Oxnard and Santa Paula folks, whom she says are entitled to use the initials B.P.O.E (Best People on Earth,) whether they belong to the Elks or not. If her neighbors in Pasadena and Alhambra will treat her as generously as her friends in Ventura county, "Princess Alice" will have no fear as to her ultimate success in winning the grand capital prize of $500.

Miss Glasscock of Chatsworth Park also is reaping a harvest of votes in Ventura county, where she is doing most of her campaigning. Oxnarders added 3000 points to her score yesterday, but that did not prevent her slipping back one degree and losing out of "Upper Tendom," owing to Miss Pedley's advance from twelfth to ninth place.

If two girls from Los Angeles county receive such generous support in Ventura county, how easy it should be for a popular local contestant to sweep the county and annex the $500 purse, or at least win a good scholarship and a big supplemental cash prize!

What ails the Venturan youths this year that they are so slow to grasp the opportunity that The Times offers them? It was not always thus.

"WINSOME WINA."

Wednesday was a red letter day also for Edwina E. Lloyd, "Winsome Wina," who completed her first club of trumps and registered a gain of 22,105, thereby moving up ten numbers to twelfth place. This is almost better luck than Edwina had dared to hope for. She feels deeply grateful to the friends who have so generously assisted her to gain twelfth place and will try hard to retain it and rise higher if possible.

"PRIDE OF POMONA."

The "Pride of Pomona," Miss Florence Pedley, scored the third largest gain of the day, 24,345 points, and moved up ahead of Murrey Royar, Elizabeth Glasscock and Edith Tidball, thereby recovering a position among the "Upper Ten" which is none too good for so worthy a representative of the great fruit town. In Pomona everybody takes a hand in hustling its great crops of luscious fruits off to market, and Miss Pedley has proved herself to be quite a skillful orange-packer like the true daughter of Pomona that she is.

BRAVE "BUCKEYE" GIRL.

Another brave girl fortunate enough to get a taste of the sweets of victory, yesterday, is Miss Florence Lambert, who registered a gain of 14,306 points and moved up seven degrees to fourteenth place. Miss Lambert's success in the contest thus far is quite remarkable inasmuch as she is almost a total stranger in Los Angeles and crippled in one knee so that she cannot get around as easily as some of her more able-bodied rivals. Miss Lambert came to Los Angeles but recently from Cleveland, O., where she lived most of her life, though she was born in Michigan. As she has come here to stay and desires to complete her education, she determined to enter The Times' scholarship contest, for pastime and the business experience and acquaintance it will give her. She is a golden-haired, sunny-dispositioned girl who easily makes friends, and not a few people are helping her on account of the courage she displays in entering so strenuous a contest, handicapped as she is on account of being lame and a stranger. She is looking to Ohio people especially to help her, because the "Buckeyes" pretty generally are prosperous, liberal and generous, and have a faculty for succeeding where others fail.

SCOROGRAMS.

Ernest and Albert Kessler, by a gain of 1000, moved up ahead of Carl Miehle, to twenty-eighth place.

Miss Florence Peterson, by a gain of 1200 moved up ahead of Fannie Swem and Eva Kendall to thirty-seventh place.

Dorothy Scherer made a gain of 1450 and remains in fifth place.

Anna Bloom remains in sixth place with a gain of 3215.

Grace Wagner has added 2000 to her score and remains in eighth place.

Lillian Waite of Fernando paid her first visit to contest headquarters and registered a gain of 1230, but fell back two degrees to seventeenth place.

Teresa Camp made a gain of 2400 and held onto sixteenth place in spite of the fact that she was overtaken by Florence Lambert and Edwina Lloyd.

David Boardman made a gain of only 278 and fell back four degrees to eighteenth place.

Ruth Ferguson gained 1600 but slipped back one number to twentieth place.

FRIENDSHIP THAT COUNTS.

The following letter has contributed to Anna Bloom's gain and happiness:

OCEAN PARK (Cal.) July 19, 1909—[Times Scholarship Manager.] Dear Sir: Enclosed please find $9.00 (check) also 25 white and five pink coupons which kindly place to the credit of Miss Anna Bloom whom I am very anxious to see back to the place where she started. Will do all I can to get more subscriptions for her, as I think she is a very deserving little lady. I will send my personal subscription later. Wishing your paper, as well as her, success, I am Respectfully,

MRS. FRED CALKINS.

SPECIAL CASH PRIZE.

A special cash prize of $25.00 will be awarded to any contestant whose name has not yet appeared in the score list, but who will enter the race before August 1 and score the most points before August 15, provided the highest score made by said new contestant within the prescribed time shall not be less than 15,000 points.

Candidates for this special prize will not be restricted to any special localities, but entries are especially invited from the following described districts:

(1.) The Santa Monica Bay region, including the towns of Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice, Playa del Rey, etc.

(2.) The Redondo Beach-Inglewood-Gardena section.

(3.) The San Pedro-Wilmington-Long Beach-Alamitos Bay region.

(4.) Any one of the following counties: Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Kern, Inyo, San Bernardino, Riverside, Imperial, San Diego, or any other county of Southern California not adequately represented at present.

(5.) The State of Nevada, Territories of Arizona and New Mexico, or Republic of Mexico.

HUSBAND SENT HER AWAY.

Mrs. Drasch of Cincinnati Says She Was Left Stranded in Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The charges that her husband had hidden her away from friends and relatives in Los Angeles and had left her stranded there without any means whatever of getting back East were made today in the divorce proceedings which Mrs. Lora Mustain Drasch has brought against her husband, Louis Drasch.

She said that he entered into conspiracy with Thomas A. Reilly, who operates a nickel theater here to send his wife to California as Reilly's agent. There she was left for weeks without any money. Then she went up to San Francisco. But at no time, she said, did they give her enough to come back.

She did not locate any new theaters in either Los Angeles or San Francisco and avers that it was merely a blind to get her away. She says she is the common-law wife of Drasch. Reilly was arrested here today on her charges but his friends had him released by the insolvency court on habeas corpus proceedings.

The case against him will be heard later in the week by Judge Warner. Both Drasch and Reilly deny Mrs. Drasch's allegations.

KANSAS MERCHANT ARRESTED.

Charged With Obtaining Goods on False Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) July 21. [Exclusive Dispatch.]—Eli Zanditon, whose large department store at Topeka, Kansas, failed last January, was arrested soon after his arrival here today on an indictment returned last month charging him with having obtained $680 worth of goods from Rosenthal Millinery company of St. Louis by representing his assets as $95,000 and liabilities $46,000, while an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Zanditon stated his assets were only $24,000 and creditors throughout the country presented claims against him totaling $179,000.

"I had $95,000 worth of goods when I asked the Rosenthal Company for credit last fall," explained Zanditon after his arrest, "but during the panic I lost $100,000. I endorsed papers for friends and they promised to help me out. I was working in Fort Scott, Kan., as a salesman when my wife informed me that newspapers reported my indictment and I instructed my attorneys to arrange my bond, informing them I would arrive here today. Reaching here I learned the Rosenthal Company had retained my attorneys and my arrest followed. I believe I am a victim of a frame-up and will vigorously fight the case."

PASADENA.

LATE CALL TO GET AN INFANT.

EXPECT HALF-POUND OF TEA TO BE GIVEN WITH BABE.

Nice, Middle-Aged and Devoted Couple Surprise Owner of "Birds' Retreat"—Board of Education Planning for More Playgrounds—Assessment Reductions Asked.

Office of The Times, No. 1 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, July 22.—Two very nice people, a man and a woman, middle-aged and devoted to each other, timidly rang the bell at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Fordyce Grinnell after 10 o'clock last night.

The fact that all the lights were out in the house, and that all the numerous members of the feathered inmates of "Birds' Retreat," on North Marengo avenue were asleep, did not deter these simple, honest people in their quest.

The man rang the bell a second time. "I am sure this is the place," said his wife. "Don't you remember, John, the man at the Police Station said that the place was called 'Birds' Retreat.' That's what the sign said outside."

"Just a minute, please," came a cheery voice from within. A moment later the front door was thrown open, and Mrs. Grinnell laughed as she said: "I'm very sorry to have kept you waiting, but I had retired. Now what can I do for you?"

"Why—er—we came out from Los Angeles, and we had some difficulty in finding the place, and we are sorry that it is so late. John did not want to wake up a darkened house, but I just wouldn't go back without finding out. I am sure you will forgive us. They told us at the Police Station that it would be all right."

"Yes, yes. It is not a bit of bother, and I will do anything I can for you. Are you in trouble?" asked Mrs. Grinnell.

"Well, you see we have read about you in the paper, and we have intended to come over for some time, but something has always interfered, and then at first, John wasn't sure," murmured the little woman.

"Wasn't sure? Really you must tell me all about it," responded Mrs. Grinnell, earnestly.

"Oh, you'll make a great mother," laughed the man, turning to his wife and placing his hand affectionately on her shoulder. "The fact is, madame, we want to adopt a baby, and understood that this is the day you give babies away with a half pound of tea."

And the near couple were so nice and so happy over what Mrs. Grinnell, "foster-mother" of the Humane Society, whispered to them, that they went back to the Police Station to thank the desk sergeant for the directions he had given them.

It was a shame, but to further tax the good nature of Mrs. Grinnell, whom everybody admires in Pasadena, the Times correspondent rang the other bell—the telephone bell—and wanted to know all about it.

"You may be mighty sure that they will get that baby, is all that I have to say, except that if you wake up again at this hour of the night, I shall be a wife for you—yes, to box your ears."

But she laughed as she said it.

VASSAR MAN'S INVENTION.

Prof. Chamberlain, instructor in astronomy at Vassar, took up summer quarters at the Mt. Wilson observatory yesterday. It is believed that he has invented an important improvement in the grating to be used in the big tower telescope, now in process of construction. The grating is an appliance for separating the different colors in the sun's rays.

HELD ON CRIMINAL CHARGE.

Laurence Holmes, the negro implicated in the fracas at Arcadia on the night of the Fourth of July, in which George Williams, a hod carrier of Pasadena, was stabbed twice and shot twice, was yesterday bound over for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Attorney Hugh J. Crawford of Los Angeles is defending Holmes. The preliminary examination of Sandy Eaton, who is charged with the same offense, will be held later.

SOLOMON NEEDED.

Justice Klamroth yesterday declared that the case of the five Japanese who had an altercation in a local restaurant with Louis Jacobson, was beyond the wisdom of anybody but a Solomon. He forthwith dismissed the little brown men.

Jacobson claimed that he was served a tainted veal cutlet and that it made him sick. He was supported by Jacob Jacobson, but Oliver Webster, who sat at the same table, testified that Louis was impolite and spat upon the table. The Japanese said that they asked Louis not to spit and that he then attacked them.

MORE PLAYGROUNDS.

The Board of Education is planning to make the new Thomas Jefferson School grounds on Villa street into a public playground. The grounds consist of four acres, affording the opportunity for a baseball diamond, tennis courts, basket ball courts and other out-of-door equipment. This action is to be taken by the board for the reason that the playground at Carmelita Gardens will be too far away to serve the Jefferson School section. Later, the board intends to establish similar grounds in other parts of the city, so that no section will be unprovided for.

CRUMBS FOR THE BIRDS.

Mrs. Ashley of Prospect Park will entertain the members of the Audubon Society with a basket picnic on Friday. The affair will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning and will continue well into the afternoon. The beautiful grounds are admirably adapted for outdoor enjoyment. There will be a number of speakers, among them Mrs. Alice Thorne Miller and her brother, Prof. Charles Mann; Mrs. Stockbridge of Los Angeles, Dr. Emily Hunt and her sisters, the Misses Hunt, who will tell of the birds of Japan and China; Mrs. Elizabeth Grinnell and Prof. James.

STRONG PETITIONERS.

Attorney C. J. Willett and T. H. McCoy, Jr., representing the Oak Knoll Improvement Association and private owners of property at Oak Knoll, appeared before the Council, sitting as a Board of Equalization, yesterday and argued for big reductions in the assessed valuations. So strong were their arguments that it is highly probable the board will visit Oak Knoll to investigate the conditions there.

One argument offered by the Oak Knoll people is that as long as the city allows the brick yard to remain in its present locality, adjacent to Oak Knoll, valuations are lowered. It is held further that the unfinished condition of the Wentworth Hotel is also a packet to valuations and that for these two reasons, if for no other, the assessments should be lowered.

The Edison Electric Company asks a reduction from $35,000 to $13,500 on the machinery and equipment of the local power station. Manager Mulligan appeared for the company. W. F. Thorne was also a petitioner.

SEVERELY BURNED.

Arthur Hlubb, 21 years old, attempted to light the fire under a lard-rendering machine in the City Market yesterday morning and gases formed by the distillate flashed into an explosion in the firebox, burning the young man severely on the face and neck. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital.

PASADENA NEWS NOTES.

Mrs. Cora Allen Storrow, wife of Samuel Storrow of No. 500 South Grand avenue, died Monday after a brief illness. The funeral will be held at the residence tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Many former residents of New Jersey, who now reside in Pasadena, will attend a picnic at Long Beach today, given under the auspices of the recently-organized New Jersey Society of this city.

Mrs. Rudolph Schiffman of South Grand avenue was the hostess at a handsomely-appointed luncheon yesterday for ten.

Mrs. Ida H. Robb, 50 years old, died yesterday morning at her residence at No. 1575 North Marengo avenue. She leaves four children. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the chapel of the Turner-Stevens undertaking establishment.

Judge O. Randall of Moss Point, Miss., is visiting his son, Dr. M. O. Randall of No. 259 South Wilson avenue.

Miss Luella Renn has been appointed assistant to Miss Himrod in the home economics department of Throop Polytechnic Institute. Miss Renn is a graduate of Kansas University.

George A. Weber, a retired manufacturer of Stamford, Ct., has purchased the southwest corner of San Pasqual street and Wilson avenue and will build a $10,000 home there.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

Large Attendance of Episcopalians at Sessions at Santa Monica—Building Permits.

SANTA MONICA, July 21.—An increased attendance marked the second day's proceedings of the Sunday-school Institute and Summer School, now in progress at the Episcopal Church. "Reverence in Sunday-school Work" was the subject of an interesting discourse by Rev. Mr. Hickman this morning.

At the afternoon session, Rev. L. C. Sanford spoke on "Mission Study in the Sunday-school." The round table conference was conducted by Rev. R. B. Gooden.

In the evening, Rev. Mr. Sanford reviewed the work of the missionary agencies in Sunday-school work. Bishop Johnson was present and participated in the discussions.

The wives of the Episcopal clergymen were luncheon guests today at the Windermere, the guest of honor being Mrs. J. J. Wilkins of Los Angeles. Others present were Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. A. Leonard, Mrs. William McCormick, Los Angeles; Mrs. Browne, Santa Monica; Mrs. Learned, Pasadena; Mrs. G. S. Bugbee, Los Angeles; Mrs. S. L. Wren, Pasadena; Mrs. C. J. Murphy, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. A. Evans, Hollywood; Mrs. A. Taylor, Highland Park; Mrs. R. Rennison, Los Angeles; Mrs. H. Judd, Los Angeles; Mrs. W. E. Mallson, Mrs. A. G. Drew, Highland Park; Mrs. M. G. Runkel, Mrs. T. C. Marshall, Mrs. Baker Lee, Los Angeles; Mrs. Louis C. Sanford, San Francisco.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Building permits have been issued to George Winkler, Eighteenth street; Mrs. A. Higuera, Utah avenue; Miss C. D. Bartel, Ocean Front; I. W. Lord will erect a nine-room residence on Hart avenue at a cost of $4900. J. D. Kneen has commenced work on two cottages on Fifth street. These are to cost $3500 each.

POMONA IMPROVEMENTS.

Blocks and Houses in Course of Construction—Lots Sold—Knights of Pythias Celebration.

POMONA, July 21.—Work upon the two-story brick block of John Beck on South Main street has been delayed by a cave-in which took place after the basement excavation was made.

The former Pomona Department Store building is being remodeled and improved for the occupancy of the Orange Belt Emporium.

The foundation of Midgley Brothers' two-story block on South Thomas street is being prepared, and the work upon the structure will be rushed.

The old Tilden building on Second street, west of the First National Bank, has been torn down and will be replaced by a brick structure, which has already been rented.

Edward Patten and family have returned from Mexico and will remain here permanently.

SALE OF LOTS.

Two more lots were sold in the Walker-Dole tract yesterday. Three houses are in process of construction on the tract.

Elaborate plans are being made for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Aetna Lodge, Knights of Pythias, which will take place next month.

Dr. Herbert C. Kettell and family have arrived from Iowa and will make this city their home.

INSPECTING DEFENSES.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Brig.-Gen. Arthur Murray, chief of the coast artillery, returned today on the steamer Hilonian from an inspection tour of the fortifications in the Philippines and Hawaii.

Gen. Murray sailed from New York on February 17, going to the Orient via Suez.

After inspecting the fortifications around San Francisco, Gen. Murray will go to San Pedro to look at the land recently purchased there by the government as a site for extensive defenses for that harbor. From San Pedro he will go to San Diego, and thence to Seattle to examine the Puget Sound forts

AVALON.

ANCHORED NETS CAUSING STIR.

OFFICIALS TO CONFER ABOUT LAWLESS FISHERMEN.

State Commissioner, Game Warden and Deputy District Attorney to Meet—Illegal Capture of Tons of Finny Tribe Reported—Island Is Crowded With Visitors.

AVALON, July 21.—Gen. George Stone of San Francisco, a member of the State Fish and Game Commission, arrived yesterday, and is at the Metropole.

His coming is quite timely as, tomorrow afternoon, Deputy District Attorney McCormick and Game Warden Morgan of Los Angeles are coming to the island for a conference with J. M. Beck, general manager of the Freeholders' Improvement Association, in regard to the alleged violation of fishing laws in the near-by waters.

Fishermen from San Pedro and other places are said to be placing anchored nets near the Isthmus, drawing in three or four tons of fish at one time, the nets being stretched for a mile.

Practical evidence was furnished yesterday, when A. A. Carrarher, secretary of the improvement association, returning from the Isthmus at an early hour, ran into a set net with his launch. The net was weighted down with several large stones, and it was some time before he could free the boat's propeller.

The net was estimated to be 200 yards in length. The owner has not yet made himself known.

WOMAN'S TRIUMPH.

Mrs. H. W. Robinson of Los Angeles, who was one of the party rescued from the launch Cornell yesterday afternoon, off San Clemente Island, brought back with her the largest yellowtail that has been captured by a woman this season, and won the gold button of the Light Tackle Club. The fish weighed forty-three and one-half pounds. Contrary to expectation, the launch was patched up and brought to Avalon this morning.

STILL THEY COME.

Summer visitors are pouring into Avalon. Every boat brings people eager for the hunting, fishing and cool breezes of this ideal resort. They come from the near-by cities, from San Francisco, many from Arizona, and others from distant points. Fred O'Brien, owner and manager of "The Cable," the principal newspaper in Manila, is registered at the Metropole. Mr. and Mrs. James Maynard, Jr., of San Francisco are also at that hotel. Mr. Maynard is an enthusiastic fisherman, and recently qualified for membership in the Tuna-Six Club with a fish which tipped the scale at twenty-five pounds. E. N. Ayers of San Francisco qualified at the same time, his fish weighing just a half-pound less than Mr. Maynard's. They were fishing from the launch Chappie off Seal Rocks.

A delightful young couple spending their honeymoon on the island are Mr. and Mrs. Jo Wilson of Phoenix.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Bryne of Los Angeles are enjoying their annual outing at Catalina. They are at the Metropole. Other newcomers at this hotel are: Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Tucson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. L. Hynes of Alameda, William McGee of Nogales, B. M. Pattison and W. A. Swarts of Bisbee, who are here for a few days' fishing; A. B. Eddy and Mr. and Mrs. Shubert of Chicago.

ISLAND VILLA.

There are many sojourners at the pretty Island Villa, with its palm-decked aisles lighted at night with bobbing Chinese lanterns. Harry Clifford Lott, William Lott and Jackson Gregg of Los Angeles, a trio of well-known singers, are over for a week's fishing. They are using light tackle, instead of sweet music, to lure the fish.

Two doughty fishermen, James J. Harris and S. J. Michelson of Los Angeles, who are staying at the Villa, caught sixty-five rock bass off the Isthmus yesterday in three hours. The fish weighed in all sixty-five pounds.

Yesterday's arrivals at the Villa included: Mrs. A. W. Wade, Frankie Wade, J. J. Stradling, D. F. Holden, George J. Holden, Louis Cass, R. B. Bowles, Charles F. Roque, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Huss, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gauss, B. F. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Morris, Miss Lucile Jones and Miss Marion Jones, H. N. Mannington and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Holden and R. L. Vickery, all of Los Angeles; H. F. Klawman and Harry Jones of Phoenix, Ariz.; H. N. Cox of Morristown, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pearson of Pasadena; Mrs. C. C. Stanton and Miss Marjorie Stanton of Berkeley, Mrs. L. C. Miner, Miss Bess Miner and Miss Dorothy Spence of Pomona, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Willard of San Francisco.

Miss Brigham of the Los Angeles High School is located at the Island Villa. She is accompanied by her nephew, C. V. Allen of Mexico City, who is here for the fishing.

Unique events at CORONADO.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, July 21.—At the meeting of the Trustees an ordinance enlarging the fire limits passed its first reading.

The Royal Neighbors met at the home of Mrs. A. S. Craig, No. 1724 Oxley street, recently for a social evening.

Some of the business men on Mission street are again agitating the question as to the right of the Pacific Electric to haul freight along that thoroughfare.

G. W. Lawyer, cashier of the First National Bank, and wife have taken a cottage at Bay City for two weeks.

Dr. Martin, who is conducting revival meetings in a tent in the Library block, has caused much comment by his lecture on the Emmanuel movement. He declares his ability to cure any disease that can be cured by any of the modern cults, and he has opened a free clinic at Hotel Capitola, El Centro and Meridian avenues.

Lawrence Boothe, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Boothe of No. 1515 Garfield avenue, has gone to Culver, Ind., where he will enter a military academy.

H. J. Vatcher, Sr., qualified in time to take his seat at the last meeting of the Trustees. He was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Leonard Hargrave.

FILIPINOS RESTLESS.

Eager to Take Reins of Government, Says Officer of Ship Unloading at San Pedro.

SAN PEDRO, July 21.—From the British steamer M. S. Dollar, this morning, she discharging of 1,000,000 feet of oak timbers from Japan was begun. The timbers are, on the average, about three feet square, but are of short lengths, and will be sawed into matched flooring. They were loaded at Otaru. Crooked trees and the lack of facilities to get the timber down from the mountains are given as reasons for short lengths.

About 100 tons of Chinese "chow" will also be unloaded here. The steamer sailed from Portland in April, and proceeded to Manila with a cargo of coal. From there she went to Hongkong and other Chinese ports, and then to Japan. The voyage was uneventful.

First Mate J. D. Forbes says there is much restlessness among the natives of the Philippines, and that they are ambitious to take the reins of government. "Our little brown brother" has become the catch phrase of the land, he states, and its use generally implies sarcasm.

LONG BEACH.

POOR CHILDREN ENJOY OZONE.

YOUNGSTERS AND MOTHERS GET SEA AIR AND FEAST.

Annual Outing Given by Salvation Army—Thirty Gallons of Ice Cream Luncheon Feature—Council to Be Asked to Provide Fund for Advertising and Amusement.

LONG BEACH, July 21.—More than 600 happy boys and girls and pleased looking mothers arrived here this morning, on a special Salt Lake train. The picnickers were in charge of the Salvation Army, which gives an annual outing to poor mothers and children of Los Angeles. The railroad company furnishes transportation free.

Maj.-Gen. John C. Smith and Mrs. Smith looked after the commissary. There were served at luncheon 300 loaves of bread, 30 gallons of ice cream, 200 pounds of potatoes, 50 pounds of beans, 6 cases of cakes, 6 boxes of apricots and 3 boxes of peaches.

The youngsters were given free rides on the roller coaster and the bath-house gave reduced rates.

FOR ADVERTISING.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning steps were taken to induce the Council to include a 15-cent tax levy in its budget to provide a fund for advertising and amusement, which would include the maintenance of a municipal band. To show the Council the trend of public opinion in the matter, petitions will be circulated until 1500 names have been secured.

Last year the tax levy was $1 for general purposes, and the Mayor insists that a 75-cent levy will be sufficient this year. The establishment of the proposed advertising fund will increase the rate to 90 cents, which will still be lower than that of last year, and in addition, will make all property interests pay for the things which have made property valuable. The expense hitherto has been borne by a few business men.

Constable Cason is looking for Roy Stevens, a young man who ran a concession on the beach. His place was attached by Frank Clawson of Los Angeles, but after he had been ousted by a constable, Stevens gave a bill of sale to Frank Wheeler, it is alleged, and then disappeared. A warrant is out, charging him with having uttered a check without funds in bank.

SCHOOL PROBLEM.

The District Attorney has been asked to pass upon the right of Belmont pupils to enter the Long Beach High School without tuition. The Long Beach School Superintendent says that the High School is not a union school, but the Belmont trustees insist that it is, and in this, it is understood, they are upheld by County Superintendent Keppel.

George W. Smith, a young insurance man, while in the bathroom of his home this morning, was almost overcome by gas from an instantaneous heater. He was unable to get out of the bath, and was gradually sinking into unconsciousness, when his wife came to his aid. It was some hours before he recovered.

SOUVENIRS STOLEN.

Two large cases of sample packages of salt, donated by the San Pedro Salt Company to the Elks, were stolen from the Elks' booth, and the police have been asked to trace the thieves. Similar samples were distributed to all visiting Elks as products of the Pacific Ocean, and were highly prized as souvenirs. Those stolen would have been disposed of for the benefit of the charity fund.

The little Kirkland boy, who was severely burned in walking through the ashes of a bonfire, is still in a precarious condition. The doctors say a large section of the skin on the right foot will have to be replaced by grafting.

Work on the big dry dock of the Craig plant is at a standstill, as all the men are employed now on the tuna Virgil Bogue.

In order to save Long Beach from the loss of sixty families, whose heads are employed at East San Pedro, the Chamber of Commerce has asked the Salt Lake to so arrange that its early train from here for the harbor shall be on time.

OLD SOLDIER VICTIMIZED.

Man, Pretending to Be Policeman, Given Cash to Let Veteran Escape Night in Jail.

SAWTELLE, July 21.—Officers here and at the beach cities are looking for a bunco man who operated a successful game yesterday and escaped.

Representing himself to be a police officer, the fellow took Israel Dunn, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, into custody. The old soldier was in his cups at the time. He jumped at the opportunity to escape a night in jail when the supposed officer offered it. The veteran was told incarceration could be avoided if he would "put up" coin, or valuables as an earnest that he would appear in court for trial on the following morning.

Dunn gave the imposter $15 in cash and a gold watch. When the victim appeared in Police Court he was informed that he had been robbed.

WILMINGTON.

BATTLE ROYAL OVER LIQUOR.

RESULT OF UNKNOWN WOMAN'S REQUEST FOR LICENSE.

Trustees Divided on Matter. Church Officials, Temperance Men and Beer Drinkers Support Applicant—Charges and Counter-charges Made—Opponents Fear Roadhouse.

WILMINGTON, July 21.—The battle royal for more liquor in this city was fought to a finish, last night, before the Board of Trustees and, strange as it may seem, church officials and temperance men and beer drinkers stood together for the license.

A petition for a restaurant liquor license was before the board on the application of a woman not known here, but variously reported as being a resident of San Pedro, Upland and Los Angeles. The place was to be located on land near the lumber mill, owned by F. S. Cary and E. Opp, and would be in the immediate neighborhood of President Brennan's home and shoe factory, where there are a number of families living. Being on Seventh street, it would supply thirsty wayfarers from Long Beach and elsewhere. The proposal is to erect a rooming-house and open a restaurant, if license is granted.

This did not please the residents of the section most interested and a strong protest came in, signed by over sixty voters. They opposed granting the license on the ground that it would mean a roadhouse.

It was on this protest that the battle was waged. Opp, Silva and Breen, of the Trustees, stood for the license. The first gun was fired by Banker Cary, who charged that the protest was gotten up by Brennan and Hayes, as a political scheme. Lined up with him, in favoring the license, were Moore, Stone, Weyan and others. Against these stood Brennan and Johnson of the Trustees and Messrs. Young, Weldt, Thomas, Phillips, O'Brien, Lincoln and others.

Countercharges that favoring the license was a political move to win the liquor vote for consolidation were made. It was stated that Mr. Gallahue of San Pedro, who had presented the petition for license on behalf of the woman, had claimed that Opp, Breen and Silva had previously pledged themselves to vote for it, so that its passage was thought to be certain. This was denied by Breen.

Brennan stated that it had been the custom on all questions of public interest for all the Trustees to talk over the matter and come to an understanding before going into session, but in this case only three had known of the license project.

The application was laid over for one week to investigate the character of the woman who made it and who has never appeared before the board.

The amendment to the liquor ordinance, which was presented a week ago and laid over, was intended, it is charged, to open the way for this roadhouse, as it virtually enlarges the liquor zone, which now confines all saloons below First street.

VALIDITY QUESTIONED.

The validity of the map recently adopted by the Trustees was questioned on the ground that the ordinance adopting the old map had not been revoked. The City Attorney stated that the old city map was not legal and that no action was necessary.

Application was made to establish grades on the Banning tract which has recently been placed on the market. The City Engineer was instructed to do the work between Canal street and Broadway and Ninth and Eleventh streets.

A notice of intention to sidewalk and curb the City Hall grounds was brought up. The matter was laid over for one week.

LIBRARY BOARD'S REPORT.

Province of Ontario to Raise Tax Upon Expensive Books May Be Sought.

TORONTO, July 21.—The Trustees of the Public Library presented their annual report last night. It shows that the library now owns 69,000 volumes in the library, classified among 1264 registered borrowers. The distribution of books has been 21,800 for the year. The library expended $2016.16, and received $2218.79, leaving a balance of $202.63. On the strength of this showing, the library board recommends to the Legislature to raise the library fund from ½ mill in order that it may meet the growing demand for an expensive class of reference books.

Residents in the Stoner addition, the newest part of town, will be given a park lot for the privilege of a connection with the South Riverside sewer. This is in addition to the regular charge of $2 per lot.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS WEDDING.

SEA ROBS YOUNG BRIDE; HONEYMOON'S SAD END.

Railroad's Attorney Carried to Death by Breaker While Wife Stands Helpless on Beach at La Jolla. Warning of Doctor Not to Tempt Fate Disregarded. Father Formerly Prominent Kansas Politician.

LA JOLLA, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A honeymoon ended sadly this afternoon, when a bride stood on the beach and saw her husband, who had been enjoying a swim, carried out to sea by a treacherous breaker and drowned. The body has not been recovered, and may never be, as a body once carried below by the undertow is seldom released.

The sea's victim is George B. Orr, an attorney for the Santa Fé Railroad at Atchison, Kan. With his bride, he came here a month ago, and they had since been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cline.

In company with his wife and Dr. and Mrs. Post of San Diego, Orr donned a bathing suit this afternoon and went to the beach.

Lying down on the sand, the attorney said he would wait for one of the in-coming breakers to carry him from the shore. A huge wave enveloped him, and he was never seen again.

Dr. Post said he warned Orr not to attempt to ride the breakers at the point where he was drowned.

The lawyer's father, J. W. Orr, was for many years a prominent politician and attorney of Atchison.

ANTS FEASTING ON DEAD MAN.

SHERIFF'S GREWSOME DISCOVERY AT FARM HOUSE.

Cause of Agriculturist's Death a Mystery—Two Firms of Undertakers After Body—Woman, Lost in Mountains, Have Terrifying Experience.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 21.—While big black and red ants were eating the flesh, the body of Peter George Miller was found by Sheriff Ralphs and Deputy Hewins, this morning, on his ranch on Cable street, north of Base Line. The cause of death is a mystery.

A queer complication developed after the Coroner had taken charge. Deputy Coroner Thompson, not knowing that his chief was in town, notified the undertaking firm of Barton & Catick to take the remains. A few moments later, Coroner Van Wie heard of the grewsome discovery, and directed Undertakers Aldridge, Stephens & Dean to take the corpse. The body was in the Barton-Catick morgue by the time representatives of the other firm arrived at the farm house.

It is believed Miller died Sunday night.

APPEAL IMPOSSIBLE.

Because the prosecution failed to appeal immediately from the decision of Justice Hanna, setting aside the verdict finding A. Gregory guilty of allowing artesian water to flow to waste, the District Attorney will not be able to get the action before the Superior Court. This developed today, when if was discovered that the last session of the Legislature had amended the procedure in appeal cases, making it necessary for the appeal to be taken at once, instead of allowing ten days.

THEIR NIGHT OF TERROR.

Miss Mary Laurence and a cousin, a young woman from Long Beach, whose name is carefully guarded, were lost in the mountains Tuesday, but after a search of many hours, both were found unharmed in the bed of a small tributary to Lytle creek, at midnight. They had wandered long through the brush and their garments were torn to tatters. When the stream was reached they were almost exhausted.

PET DOG CASE.

J. E. Winters was discharged from custody by Justice Thomas, today, at the close of his trial on the charge of having maliciously run over and killed a pet dog of Dr. M. L. Parcels. It was discovered that none of the prosecution's witnesses could identify the accused as the driver of the automobile, and Winters swore that he was not in town on the day of the killing.

SHERIFF'S VAIN SEARCH.

Hunts in Canyon for Clew to Dead Man's Identity—Divorce Suit at Santa Ana.

SANTA ANA, July 21.—Sheriff Lacy, yesterday, searched Gypsum canyon, near Peralta, for a hat, coat, shirt and three $20 gold pieces. Any one of these articles would have been seized upon as a clew to help in the identification of a dead man, supposed to be Edward Sweeney, of Sawtelle. The body, mutilated by coyotes, was found in the canyon by hunters last Friday.

Francis Keegan and Milton Smith, by whom Sweeney was last seen alive, declare that he wore a hat, coat and shirt, and had three $20 gold pieces and some silver when he left their mining camp on June 28. The dead man when found were only an undershirt, trousers, shoes and socks, and in his pockets had only $2.65.

Believing that it was possible that the man had been killed and robbed, or found dead and robbed, the Sheriff determined upon a search but it was fruitless.

P. L. Buchheim pleaded not guilty in the Justice's Court, today, to a charge of violating the State fire protection laws. His neighbor, A. M. Davis, charges that he started a fire that got over on Davis's land and burned a stubble pasture.

Jessie M. Winnie has brought a suit for divorce against William E. Winnie.

It is reported that L. B. Pruitt of Anaheim cannot be found by several creditors who would like to see him. Recently the Blinn-Robinson Company got judgment against him on an account. Today, the Griffith Lumber Company attached his interest in property at Anaheim on a bill for $251.20.

ASSEMBLY WELL ATTENDED.

Methodists' Sessions at Huntington Beach Unusually Interesting. Today's Programme.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 21.—Today's session of the Methodist Assembly was devoted to the proceedings of the Woman's Home Missionary Society and the attendance was large. Miss Nellie Sanborn conducted devotional services in the morning and these were followed by an address on "The Reindeer and Alaska," by Mrs. R. H. Young.

Mrs. Van Wagner, an inspector for the Los Angeles Housing Commission, spoke of "Our Fair City" and there was a vocal duet by Rev. B. C. Cory and S. L. Todd.

After a praise service in the afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. W. Adkinson, Mrs. E. L. Miller took charge of the "Young People's Hour" and it was made extremely interesting and helpful. There was an eloquent address upon Mormonism by Rev. S. E. Wishard.

The day closed with a "round table" conducted by the deaconesses.

This evening Andrew G. Park, a Los Angeles attorney, delivered a lecture on "The Tennessee Circuit Rider."

Tomorrow morning the State Epworth League convention will meet at the Auditorium, and indications point to an unusually large attendance. A number of special trains will be sent out from Los Angeles and Santa Ana to convey delegates to this city. A feature of the day will be the athletic sports.

HAY FALLS ON BABY.

GARDEN GROVE, July 21. —While playing near where her father was at work, the 2-year-old daughter of Milo Allen was injured by a bale of hay. She fell and the bale went on top of her. She suffered a broken leg and severe bruises.

Little Ruth Violett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Violett had three hemorhages, yesterday. Several years ago, she sucked a pin into her lungs and since then she has had a number of hemorhages.

MANY HONOR MRS. HAYES.

Ashes of Daughter of the Confederacy Placed in Vault With Ceremonies at Residence.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) July 21.—With simple ceremonies, the metallic urn containing the ashes of Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes, the "daughter of the Confederacy," were placed in the vault at Evergreen Cemetery today, there to remain until October, when the ashes will be taken to Richmond, Va., for their final resting place.

The ceremonies today were at the Hayes residence on Cascade avenue, and were attended by hundrds, the crowds including many persons from the South.

The Episcopal service for the dead was read by Rev. W. C. Hedrick, assistant rector of St. Stephens Church, of which Mrs. Hayes was a member. Two favorite hymns of Mrs. Hayes, "Abide With Me" and "I Hear the Voice of Jesus Say," were sung by Mrs. E. E. Taliaferro and Mrs. G. M. Perry.

The casket in which the urn reposed was carried from the house by young men friends

POSTMASTER IS BITTEN BY DOG.

BEACH MASCOT SAVES LITTLE GIRLS FROM MAD CUR.

Uncle Sam's Official, Attracted by Noise of Battle Between Bull Pup and Intruder, Tries to Part Animals and Suffers—Prompt Surgical Treatment.

BALBOA, July 21.—Postmaster Beckwith was bitten by a little brown cur, this morning. It had, a few minutes before, attempted to bite two girls who were playing in a boat. 'Frisco, Mr. Beckwith's bulldog, and the beach mascot, came to the rescue of the children.

The postmaster, hearing the noise of battle, rushed to the scene. With an oar he was attempting to part the animals when the cur inflicted a serious wound on his hand. It is feared the beast had hydrophobia.

Mr. Beckwith received prompt surgical treatment.

AUTO MYSTERY STIRS BURBANK.

TWO DECREPIT MACHINES LEFT THERE MONTHS AGO.

Just Crawled in, Each With Man at Wheel, and Abandoned at Livery Barn—Both Vintage and Almost Worthless, But Town Wants to Know Secret.

Burbank has a mystery. Everybody in the little town has been trying to solve it, but none has succeeded. It all has to do with two decrepit automobiles that were driven in during the latter part of April by two men, presumably brothers, and which are still standing at their original stopping place, in the front yard of a public horse barn.

How the aged machines ever got as far as Burbank is beyond the understanding of any one who has ever seen the daily parade of modern machines on the streets of Los Angeles. They are snugly ensconced between a high picket fence and a chicken coop.

One of them is a patriarchal Winton of the vintage of 1898. It originally had four seats, now only a front seat and a rear storage compartment. In the back end of the machine are two heavy rubber tubes, an inner tube and a pair of tires with rivets running through the center, not to mention an indescribable collection of smaller parts, which probably had fallen from the vitals of the machine at one time or another.

The second machine is one of the efforts of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It, too, is filled with a nondescript assortment of tools, tires and trash.

Both machines bear California license tags—7941 and 8778, respectively.

The proprietor of the fuel and feed yard is O. R. Boyd, who in his perplexity finally wrote to Chief of Police Dishman of Los Angeles, begging him to place one of his tried sleuths on the trail of the owners.

"Them machines have been here so durn long that they begin to get on my nerves, and by heck, if some one don't take them pretty soon I'll sell them," said Boyd yesterday.

"Two fellows came along in them machines some time toward the last part of April," said F. Pomeroy, Boyd's assistant. "They rid up here and soon as I saw'm, I knew they'd had a hard fight to get in. One of the machines was out o' kilter in some way and the other one was pullin' it. It was right along about ev'nin' when they drove up and asked for the train time to Los Angeles. They had about an hour to make it.

"They asked whether they could pull the machines in the barn, but I didn't have no room there and so I had 'em run over into the corner there, just exactly where they're standing yet—exactly in the same tracks, never been moved an inch from that day to this. I could a sold the blame things three or four times, but I don't know what the law is and so Mr. Boyd and I rit a letter to the Chief to find out.

"The two men were about all played out. One was hurt pretty bad, and it was all the other could do to get him to the depot, about a block down the road. I asked where they came from, and they didn't say exact where it was, but from out on the desert somewhere."

Two letters and a postcard were found in the one machine by a village boy, who, after carrying them around for several weeks, and hearing of the story, graciously turned them over to the proprietor of the feed stable. Two of these are addressed to Pearley N. Roberts. One, however, is addressed to Puente and the other to Lancaster. They both have to do with mining claims owned by Roberts in the vicinity of Victorville, San Bernardino county.

The postcard was written by P. N. Roberts, and was never forwarded. It spoke of a sale of nuts—whether walnuts or nuts for use on an automobile, being left in doubt. The card was addressed to an automobile firm in Los Angeles.

Burbank is still agog over the situation and awaits the solution of the mystery by the city detectives.

The State register of motor vehicles shows that license No. 7941 was issued to Lawrence L. Davidson, No. 385 North Avenue 22, and No. 8778 to B. X. Dawson, No. 2923 Harvard boulevard, both of Los Angeles.

RACE PROBLEM IN VERMONT.

Residents of Burlington Object to Government's Plan for Quartering Negro Troops.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BURLINGTON (Vt.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Confronted with a question similar to that which disturbed the peace of Brownsville, and resulted in a national scandal, the people of Northwestern Vermont are acting not unlike their southern brethren.

Burlington, one of the northernmost cities of New England, and a hotbed of abolition in ante-bellum days, is up in arms over the decision of the government to quarter 1200 negro cavalrymen at Fort Ethan Allen, three miles from this city.

White people have refused to eat in restaurants with the negroes, and citizens of Burlington and Winooskie are seriously demanding separate cars for whites and blacks on the trolley road, "Jim crow" cars, as they are called in the South.

WATER STEAL.

two compartments. In one the well water was pumped and in the other the city water from the fire-service main was admitted.

GENERAL INSPECTION.

The result of his discoveries is likely to be a general inspection of all such connections. The water department has always deprecated such connections because they are open to abuses such as have been found at the New Method laundry, and it is deemed only just to all who now have sprinkler services that an inspection be made to determine whether any others have acted against good faith. The mains supply sprinkling pipes on the ceilings, which are opened automatically when the temperature of the room rises above a certain point and immediately flood the whole floor. Their utility is recognized as an important one in fire protection and their installation brings a large reduction in insurance premiums.

Before installing any such service the water department requires an agreement with the patron, by which he agrees to pay for all water that may be taken in any other manner than through the metered service. Such an agreement was made by the New Method company and will be used to exact payment.

ARCHEOLOGY.

ARIZONA HAS HUGE CAVERNS.

SCIENTIST FINDS CAVES LARGER THAN ANY KNOWN.

Prof. Edgar L. Hewitt Announces That Stories Told by Indians Are Not Merely Legends, But That Beautiful Subterranean Wonders Really Exist.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DENVER, July 21.—That mammoth caves, containing caverns large enough in which to place a city office building, with natural stone bridges exceeding in beauty and grandeur those of Utah and Virginia, exist in Northwestern Arizona, is officially announced by Prof. Edgar L. Hewitt, director of the branch school of American Archeology, located at Santa Fé, N. M.

Stories of the existence of these wonderful natural caverns have been told by Indians of that section for centuries, but were thought by white men to be merely legends of the aborigine.

Prof. Hewitt, in conducting an investigation of the records concerning Spanish occupation and control of the Southwest, made a trip to Spain a year ago, during which he unearthed written proof of claims of the Indians.

Carrying out his determination to explore the region, Prof. Hewitt organized an expedition, which started from Gallup, N. M., and after a seven days' journey by pack mule the caves were reached.

Indians guided him to the spot, and conducted him through the gigantic underground passages.

Prof. Hewitt, who is in Denver, gave publicity to the story of his discovery yesterday. He will make another expedition to the caves next spring. He claims to have discovered traces of a race of cliff dwellers hitherto unrecognized.

CURRY ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY.

Says Gillett Intimated He Was Out of Race, But Governor Says This Isn't So.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although it was predicted in an exclusive dispatch to the Los Angeles Times two weeks ago, the formal announcement of the candidacy of Secretary of State Curry for Governor made tonight has precipitated a political sensation.

Curry says that Gov. Gillett intimated that he was out of the running. On the heels of Curry's announcement, Gillett declares this is not so. As already told in The Times, Curry went South a fortnight ago to look after his fences and this really marked the opening of the fight. He returned tonight and for the first time declared for publication his candidacy.

"I want to be Governor of California," he said. "Had Gov. Gillett intimated that he desired a renomination I should not consider my candidacy, but he has practically admitted that he will not run again. It is now up to the people. The people have come to me as their choice and I shall serve their wishes. It is early to announce my candidacy, but the new primary law makes it necessary to be early."

Gov. Gillett tonight would make no extended statement. He said, however, that it was untrue that he had declared he would not be a candidate.

FRENCH PIONEER DIES.

One of Southern California's Leading Stockmen Called to His Final Rest at Fullerton.

Domingo Bastanchury, one of the pioneer French residents, who came to the Fullerton-Placentia district when it was a part of Los Angeles county, died at his home near Fullerton at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, aged 71 years.

The deceased was a native of France, and in 1859 crossed the Atlantic and came around Cape Horn to California. After traveling about the State for ten years he finally settled on the ranch where he died yesterday, and became one of the leading sheep and cattle raisers of that section. He at one time owned and had in pasturage 7000 acres. Later he planted a part of it to corn and grain.

Domingo Bastanchury, pioneer, who died yesterday at his home near Fullerton.

A considerable portion of the great ranch has been sold in recent years for oil development, but the owner clung tenaciously to his farming and stock raising. He annually raised thousands of sheep and cattle for the market, and had a large herd of dairy cows, beside 1000 hogs, making him the leading stock grower of this section of the State.

He leaves a widow and four sons. The latter are Domonic Bastanchury of Whittier and Gaston, Joseph and John, all of Fullerton. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

ABANDONED SCOW.

Sealed proposals in duplicate, will be received at the United States Engineer Office, No. 723 Central building, until 11 a.m. next Wednesday, for the sale of an abandoned scow now lying near the Salt Lake Railroad spur track at Ostend, in Long Beach. The scow is about 85 feet long, 24 wide, and has a depth of hold of 5 feet 9 inches.

Wife Needn't Hurry.

An old Kansas citizen, who had been hen-pecked all his life, was about to die. His wife felt it her duty to offer him such consolation as she might, and said: "John, you are about to go, but I will follow you."

"I suppose so, Manda," said the old man feebly, "but so far as I am concerned you don't need to be in any hurry about it."—[The Argonaut.

IN WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK.

BY MARSHALL CUSHING.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The latest account of the rupture—though perhaps "strained relations" would be a more appropriate expression—or the version of that falling out which is passing current and has come to be accepted as correct, runs about as follows:

In 1902 or thereabouts Mr. Bryan saw Mr. Hearst and told him of his ambition to go to Russia and see Tolstoi and inaugurate the douma, etc., but he had bought considerable property and his money was tied up, and he wondered if Mr. Hearst could not syndicate a series of letters that might be sent from the other side—thus meaning, no doubt, that the young millionaire newspaper proprietor might recoup himself for the expense of this trip. Mr. Hearst scouted the idea of syndicating the letters, and told Mr. Bryan to go ahead; the Hearst papers would pay the expense. Mr. Bryan thereupon posted off to Europe with his family, or with certain members of it, and when he returned put in an expense bill of some $25,000 or $27,000. The proprietor was away at the time, and Col. Cavalho, the business manager, would not pay the bill, nor would the slender and quiet-moving Mr. Clark, who represents the Hearst estate in the conduct of the Hearst newspapers. Upon the proprietor's return, however, he directed that the bill should be paid, and he said nothing; and he has said nothing to this day.

In the 1904 national convention Mr. Bryan had a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination of his own, Mr. Cockrell, of Missouri, and never a good word to say for William Randolph Hearst; not that I know that Hearst expected Bryan's support in the convention, but there is some reason to suppose that he did not look for his opposition. At all events, this action of the Peerless One made the two leaders less friendly than before; and of course Mr. Hearst knows now, just the same as everyone else does, that Bryan is just as much as he ever was a candidate for the next Democratic Presidential nomination.

Our local mix-up in the police department has its bearings upon the national Democratic situation, for if McClellan has quieted down all the Democratic cat fights (and dog fights,) and if he "comes in" as the Democratic nominee for Governor, you can see that the son of the Little Napoleon of the peninsula campaign would loom large in the eastern horizon. Oddly enough, there are important and far-seeing Democrats here who sincerely wish to see the Democrats lose the national House of Representatives again. They argue that, no matter how big the Democratic majority that might be obtained, and no matter how good a tariff bill that majority passed (as, of course, it would in duty feel bound to do,) that work could not possibly—owing to the fact that the Senate and of course the administration would continue Republican—be effectuated into legislation; and thus the Democratic majority would have the odium before the country of having accomplished nothing, and its responsibility could not be escaped. That would militate against the Democratic chances for winning the Presidency.

Still more oddly, there are prominent and far-seeing Republicans who would just as soon contemplate a Democratic control of the next House of Representatives. They like Uncle Joe and plenty of his boys—that is, the leaders and the near-leaders; but there is known to be dead wood in the Republican organization of the House, and certain underbrush also; and these Republican prophets or near-prophets think that it would be just as well to clean that out and start all over again, as it were, and build up a new and more workable organization, with new timber, from the ground. As a matter of fact, the Democrats who do not want control of the next House, may as well guess, all of them, a while longer. Just as Democrats will be found fighting for it when the time comes, so also it is not the habit of Republicans to give it up fighting for it.

The tariff is evidently to be the issue. A good deal of criticism of the Payne-Aldrich proposition is heard but not seen. A good deal of support for it is neither seen nor heard, but it exists. Everybody expects business to pick up after the bill is signed, and especially in the fall. Will it pick up enough so that those who have been in the doldrums or worse will become optimistic and forgetful again—and like the bill because it would have proved to be a business bill? That seems to be the leading question.

We make a lot of cigars in this town—millions of them—and here centers the organization of independent cigar manufacturers, or at least the dominating spirit in it. Some of these men encountered a little shake-up recently when the Senate was discussing the tobacco schedule. It seems that E. Dana Durand, the new superintendent of the census (who, as deputy commissioner of corporations, had occasion to look into the operations of the tobacco trust, so called) conceived the idea that certain tariff changes, if made in the present bill, would "soak" the trust and make a hit with the country. He got these views before Mr. Taft, who liked them. The Finance Committee of the Senate mostly assented to the Durand-Taft programme for the tobacco schedule, perhaps not altogether willingly, because you don't always "soak" a trust when you seem to be doing it. Some of the proposed changes went through easily, but a hearing was given to the independent manufacturers of cigars, and they got before the Finance Committee just in season and showed that while some of the larger manufacturers among them could stand certain cuts on cigars, the smaller manufacturers could not; and the manufacturers who could stand it frankly stated that if they had to pay more for raw material, they certainly would not depreciate the value in their cigars (which has been made popular by the expenditure of millions of dollars, probably, of advertising money,) but would cut their labor cost, and might even charge the distributors more; and the distributors would not be able to do anything about it because these larger independent manufacturers made advertised cigars that the distributors had to handle or lose the business. This kind of talk went with the Senate Finance Committee, and the duties on these grades of cigars were not reduced. If you are watching the matter closely at all, you are hearing about this as one of the numberless controversies in conference.

Speaking about Bryan, I must recall the story that a fellow Chautauquan told me about his proceeds from lecturing. It was that the central lecture bureau, in Chicago, which "handles" the Peerless Leader, (perhaps not exclusively but most of the time), pays him a lump sum of $40,000 a year and expenses, and that La Follette, the peerless Wisconsin leader, who also has a weekly paper of his own, got $25,000 a year and expenses from the same agency, and that, too, for only the part of his time when the Senate was not in session.

You can hardly believe that lecturing produces so much clear money—or if you can, I cannot. Still, it is wonderful what advertising will do. The names of these men, and of others among the Chautauquans, of course, are constantly before the public. They are always doing things which get themselves into the newspapers. They "draw." That, naturally enough, makes them come high.

PINK TEA BROKEN UP.

Milwaukee Woman Charges That Her Husband Drove Guests from House With Gun.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) July 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That her husband, Robert L. Gates, secretary of the J. L. Gates Land Company, came home with a man from the Rescue Mission one afternoon while she was entertaining some women friends at a pink tea and drove them all out of the house at the point of a revolver was a charge made by Mrs. Jane Gates at the hearing of her divorce suit before Judge Halsey today.

Her husband's companion stayed at their house with him for the next two months, she testified, and she had to cook his meals for him during that time.

On other occasions he has chased her out of the house with an Indian war club, three feet long, with a large stone at the end, Mrs. Gates declared. The club is part of a collection of weapons kept in Mr. Gates's den, including some swords which he has also made use of in his attacks on her.

Mr. Gates is the oldest son of James L. Gates, long known as the heaviest owner of land in Wisconsin. The elder Gates was recently divorced by his wife, Gertrude Ruel, widow of a former partner of Marshal Field, the charges in that suit being so sensational that most of the papers were sealed.

POLICEMAN'S TROUBLES.

Capt. Kuhne Sentenced for Contempt Now to Be Punished for Absence During Confinement.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—More trouble is in store for Acting Police Captain August Kuhne, when he is released tomorrow from the Raymond-street jail, Brooklyn, where he has been serving a thirty-days' sentence for contempt of court, in retaining certain pictures in the rogues' gallery.

Since Capt. Kuhne has been in jail, a new police administration has come into power and it is reported that instead of going back to his old work as head of the Brooklyn detectives, he will be assigned to an outlying district, and that he will later be placed on trial for being absent from his post without permission.

He was granted only fifteen days' leave of absence, as the time to permit a longer leave, it is expected that, a second fifteen days would be granted by the new administration took action, and now it is said he must stand trial for being absent during the last ten days of his sentence.

Young Iowa Farmer Surprised Delighted With His Experience

A statement of more than usual interest regarding the Cooper remedies is that of E. L. Stoulil, a well-to-do young farmer of Pocahontas, Iowa, who says:

"As a general tonic and blood purifier I consider Cooper's New Discovery without an equal. For five or six years I was troubled with a blood disorder which manifested itself by breaking out on the skin, such as pimples, rash, etc. It was present both winter and summer, and defied treatment. It became a source of great annoyance and embarrassment.

"Added to this I began having stomach trouble—a very poor appetite, tired and run-down feeling. Hearing of Cooper's New ... procured a bottle to give ... It seemed to give me new ... I continued its use, ... treatment.
